7 13,000,000 MILES NEWS PRINT USED • IN THE YEAR 1920

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Hearings on the national forestry program bill which calls for the expenditure of $11,000,000 a year for the protestion and development of forests, were set out today before the sub-committee on appropriations of which Representative Anderson is chairman.

Newspaper publishers, paper manufacturers, lumber men, timber land owners, wood using industries, the United States forest service and the American Forestry association were represented.

One million dollars a year for co-operating with the states in protest-ing the forests from fire and $10,000,-900 a year for obtaining additional forest land for the government, is being asked as a forward step in the ondeavor to obtain sufficient lumber and paper pulp for future needs.

Importance of the proposed legislation to the industries of the country cannot be over-estimated, according to R. S. Kellogg, chairman of the national forest program committee, made up of men representing many industries. "This is a paper age and in the United States, at least, a newspaper United States, at least, a newspaper age," said Chairman Kellogg, who is also secretary of the News Print Service bureau, "From an annual consumption of three pounds of newsprint paper per capita in 1880, we brive gone to 35 pounds in 1920. The news print paper produced in the United States and Canada this year for the total in the form of a standard will If put in the form of a standard reli 73 inches wide, such as is used by many of the large newspapers, would unwind 13,000,000 miles."

"Unlike our other basic raw mate-rials, such as coal, oil and motors, further need not be mined and ex-bausted and should be burvested and reproduced like reproduced like other products of the

, MID-WEEK MEETING AT PHOENIX CHURCH

So much interest in having a regular mid-week meeting by the Phoenix church has developed in the special week of prayer services this week, that such a meeting will be started maxt week, to meet every Thursday evening at 7:30, until further notice. Fall announcement of this and other plans will be given on Sunday morning from the pulpit.

Special music and sermons at both services on Sunday, Jan. 16. All heartily welcome. Communion at the close the morning service.

Next week, or on Monday, Jan. 17 Rev. W. L. Van Nuys of Portland will he in Phoenix for a day-time and evening Sunday school conference with officers and teachers and all interested in the Sunday school and its work for our children

On New Year's eve many gathered at Clyde hall for supper and spent the evening most enjoyably, closing at midnight with a brief "watch night"

Oiling System Derangements.

Glance At The Oil Pressure Indicator Every Few Minutes

Glance At The Oil Pressure Indicator Every Few Minutes

YLINDER Oil especially if of poor quality and unable to resist the effect of heat in a normal manner, produces by decomposition, a solid residue or "sludge" which is likely to collect in the strainer to such an extent as practically to prevent the flow through it and sto, lubrication. Rather frequent cleaning of the oil strainer thus becomes a necessary precaution, which every motorist should observe. If the strainer is accessible and easily removed for cleaning, there is no great trouble involved, but care should be taken not to injure the fine wire mesh, at this would defeat the purpose of the strainer and permit solid matter to enter the oil passages and perhaps obstruct them, with very sorious results. A large proportion of the solid matter present in used oil can be drawn off with it, if the emptying of the system is done just as soon as the engine is stopped after a trip and before settling has occurred, but the tendency is for the sludge to collect in the oil pan or samp, only to be stirred up again when the engine starts, so that it is a good thing eccasionally to remain the pan and free it of deposits, by means of kerosene and a stiff brush. It is sometimes recommended that, after spent oil has been drawn off, kerosene be put in, the engine turned over by the starter to circulate the kerosene and that the drivy liquid then be drawn off. In following this procedure it should be realized that an engine with the circulating splash system of lubrication, may hold possibly a quarter of the total liquid capacity of its oiling system in its splash troughs and that these will not be emptied when the drain plug is removed, thus leaving a considerable quantity of dirty kerosene still in the engine, to contaminate the fresh oil. There should be no danger in turning the engine over a jew times, with the starter, while the drain plug is still out, in order to get rid of this. A clogged strainer generally causes the oil pressure age to give a low indication and be the signal for stopping the engine.

REBLACING THREE SPEED TRANSMISSION WITH FOUR SPEED

R. N. W. asks: Is there any way in which a fourth speed could be added to the three-speed transmission of my—six car? Could I arrange for a fourth gear of say 24 to 1 and still retain the present direct drive of 4 to 1? Could the required extra gears be installed in the present transmission case?

Answer: There is no way in which your three speed transmission can be converted into one of four speeds, as the design would have to be greafly altered and there for speed transmissions in use, having direct-drive and somewhere near the ratio you require, but probably nor quite shigh retains the benefits derived would not Question of general interest to motorists will be answered in this column, space permitting.
