A big negro tramp who was given lodging in the city prison last night was in misery with a bad tooth when Chief of Police Timothy opened up the jail this morning, so the chief volunteered to bring "the city dentist who pulled teeth free for all bums," left at once for that mythical tooth puller. Ten minutes later he returned with O. V. Myers who was carrying some very large pliers. "Doctor" Myers looked very grave when he examined the tooth and remarking that the case required much larger pliers, departed to get them. Then the negro said to the chief: "That tooth don't hurt me ah bit now." "All right," said the chief, opening up the prison door and pointing north, "You have 10 minutes to get out of town." The negro fairly flew out of the city.

Carrying Mr. Skinner as a passenger and leaving San Francisco at exactly 5 p. m. last night, Claude McGee driving a 1921 Buick Six coupe to the Portland Auto Show took on a supply of oil and gas and left Medford at 8:30 this morning. Since leaving Red Bluff the roads had been extremely slippery and muddy but the car brought him from San Francisco to Medford in 15 hours. McGee who is a brother in law of Carl Knapp of this city, says he is absolutely spoiled by the performance of this closed car as he came through in real comfort despite the cold and mud. McGee holds the records between San Francisco and the northern cities made and bettered in a 5 passenger Buick Six. For a winter road record this coupe will undoubtedly make a new one as Mr. McGee expects to reach Portland shortly after dark tonight. Closed cars are extremely popular this year. Buick is building 25 per cent of their '21 cars as closed models. 247*

MEDFORD TO HAVE THE COMMUNITY SERVICE SYSTEM

At an enthusiastic meeting held at the library last night a hearty endorsement was given community service, and an invitation extended to a national organizer, who will be sent from New York for a demonstration period of three months to aid local committees in carrying out a program of community service activities.

Mr. Howard Arbury, a national representative, who conducted the meeting, not only gave a convincing explanation of the methods and motives of the movement, but interspersed his talk with delightfully entertaining examples of community singing and "get acquainted" stunts.

As explained by Mr. Arbury, the purpose of community service is to provide a recreational program for the leisure time of the community. It does not function as a separate institution, but aids and augments the work of all existent organizations, by uniting together there the common interest of play of the entire community life.

By discerning latent talents, developing capacity for leadership, providing opportunity for self-expression and restoring the almost lost art of neighborliness, the community service achieves its objective—a richer, more contented and therefore more successful community.

At the close of Mr. Arbury's remarks Mayor Gates took the chair and after heartily approving the movement and declaring Medford's need of just such activities, asked for its endorsement by those present, which was given unanimously.

The request for a national organization to be sent from headquarters in New York, was signed by a committee, including:

Mrs. Aubrey Smith, chairman; Mayor Gates, Mrs. Francis Montgomery, Mrs. E. E. French, Mrs. Helen Gale.

The organizer will be sent at the expense of the national organization and if the three month's demonstration period proves successful, he will aid local committees to raise the budget necessary to carry on the work.

The services of other specialists in drama, pageantry, physical training or music may be also engaged at the request of the local committee. The work of these specialists will be not only to give demonstrations of community service, but to discover and train local leaders.

Medford is one of the eight cities in Oregon to be offered this service. It has been functioning on its own resources in Portland since February 1, 1920, with splendid results. Mayor Baker has unreservedly declared it to be the greatest influence for good that Portland has ever known. Organizers are also being sent to Pendleton, Oregon City and The Dalles.

It is believed by many Medford citizens that community service will prove of inestimable value to this community.

Day Old Chicks

Order now being booked for White Leghorn day old chicks, hatching eggs and custom hatching. Why not buy the best? Stock from the National Prize winning Tanered Poultry Farm. Egg production has averaged 75 per cent to 80 per cent during winter. Inspect flock at 916 E. Main St., Medford. Will take custom hatching and guarantee highest percentage of results. Price $10.00 per hundred. Our electric incubators last year averaged 90 per cent to 95 per cent for the season. "Standard" Electric incubators used exclusively, thus assuring strong chicks and best results. Book orders early as capacity already largely taken. Price of chicks $20.00 per hundred.
