JAPAN'S SECRET SERVICE SLEUTHS SHADOW D'OLIER

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Franklin D'Olier, former national commander of the American Legion, has just returned from a two months vacation in Japan, where during his travels he was trailed continuously and his baggage and personal papers frequently and surreptitiously examined. Mr. D'Olier was informed this was the work of Japanese government agents who sought to investigate the report that Mr. D'Olier came to Japan to "organize American reservists" residing in the islands.

Mr. D'Olier related the story with a good deal of amusement to the members of the board of directors of the American Legion Weekly, a meeting of which Mr. D'Olier came to New York to attend. Every time he and Mrs. D'Olier left their hotel, the former commander said, he would discover on their return that everything they had had been examined. Finally he adopted the policy of leaving his trunks open and his papers handy where they could be inspected without undue trouble on the part of the inspectors. At the conclusion of his sojourn Mr. D'Olier told his "guide" he would be glad to explain anything the "guide" had not understood if the papers he had examined.

Mr. D'Olier said the apparent cause of the suspicion which seemed to be directed at him was the action of the legion national convention which voted to support the California exclusion laws.

CELEBRATE N. YEAR BY HUNTING FLIES

NEW YORK.—Four sane and sober men celebrated that noisy first hour of 1921 by visiting New York's gay cafes and hotels to see if they could find one winter housefly. Unsuccessful along the Gay White Way they went lower on Manhattan Island where the less luxurious restaurants held their sleepless celebrants.

And in one of them they found a sorry specimen with a lean and hungry look. The Philadelphia man in the party of four did the dirty work. Then he sent the remains to the merchants' association which annually presents a scarf pin bearing a golden fly to the person who kills a fly on New Year's day.

"The capture of this insect, small as it is, means that we shall have several billions fewer flies next summer," said the funeral oration accompanying the scarf pin.

WATER POWER BILL IS UP AT SALEM

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 13.—A water-power bill introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator George W. Joseph of Multnomah county, proposes the creation of a hydro-electric commission to make a survey of present hydro-electric plants and power projects of the state and ascertain the approximate cost of generating electric power, looking particularly to the hydro-electric development of the water power in the Columbia river gorge. The bill contemplates the possibility of industrial development in numerous Oregon cities, particularly Portland.

Collaboration with the government under the waterpower bill recently passed by congress is contemplated. This federal measure reserves from private appropriation certain units of development and one of these is Celilo falls, where it is estimated that two million hydro-electric horsepower can be created.

RUB RHEUMATIC PAIN FROM ACHING JOINTS

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment, you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

The Screen

Farnum Scores Big in "Last of Duane"

William Farnum scored again, and scored big, when he appeared on the screen yesterday at the Rialto theatre in "The Last of the Duanes," a production of the novel by Zane Grey. This production is the best western picture ever seen here. In addition to having a strongly sympathetic love story running throughout the drama, Mr. Farnum's impersonation of Buck Duane is peculiarly vivid. It is difficult to realize that any man could escape serious injury in the many things that the star has to do in this picture.

Briefly, the story tells of Buck Duane, who to save his own life has to kill a man who threatened him—after which he flees from civilization and gets in with outlaws. He rescues a girl from a bandit chief and after she is recaptured from him she again escapes and reaches his mother's home. While he is evading the officers of the law the girl bends every energy to free him from the stigma of murder and eventually Buck Duane, the outlaw, becomes Buck Duane the Texas Ranger, and cleans up the worst of the border gangs.

LODGING NATIONAL CAPITOL WAS ONCE ONLY $3 A WEEK

HARRISON, Ark.—There was a time in the history of the United States when $52, representing a year's loss or saving to members of congress, was a vital factor in the consideration of a proposed moving of the seat of government, and according to an officer of that same congress, $52 a year was "no trifling consideration."

This bit of history is contained in a letter written by Charles Thomson, secretary of the Continental congress during the several years of its existence to his wife Hannah, an aunt of President William Henry Harrison. The letter is dated Princeton, August 21, 1783, the congress then being in session in the New Jersey town, and was addressed to "Mrs. Thomson, Corner of Spruce and 4 Street, Philadelphia."

It was proposed that the residence of congress be removed to Elizabethtown, N. J., but, according to the letter, there was opposition on the ground that "lodgings" in Elizabethtown would cost $4 a week, whereas it could be obtained for $3 a week in Princeton. Whether the "high cost of living" in Elizabethtown finally swayed the congress in rejecting it is not disclosed, but history records that the congress met in Annapolis, Md., after leaving Princeton, and at no time sat at Elizabethtown.

The letter, in part, which recently came into the possession of Mrs. Rex Worthington, of Harrison, a descendant of Mr. Thomson, follows: "Dear Hannah:—I have received your letters dated Monday 12 o'clock and Tuesday 10 o'clock at night and acknowledged the receipt of them. . . . Mr. Reid was misinformed respecting the adjournment. They met on Monday but they might as well have adjourned till time for any business they have done. I am very apprehensive that nothing but some calamity will awaken the states to a sense of their situation. . . . The president of congress has not provided a house for himself nor is likely he will find one here to suit him. I find Elizabethtown has been talked of at his table as a proper place for the residence of congress. He has a house there which he says has twenty rooms and which he will let for the use of the president. It is true the place is infested with mosquitoes in summer and lying low and near marshes may be liable to intermittents in the spring and fall, but these are trifling when it is considered that by fixing the residence of congress there the value of his estate will be increased and he will have an opportunity of letting his house at a good rent. But yet I am inclined to believe this will be opposed by his colleagues; for Mr. Condit has found a lodging in this town at 3 dollars a week which enables him to lay up money. And there is reason to fear that at Elizabethtown which is so near New York, it will cost him at least four. This would be a clear loss of 52 dollars a year which is no trifling consideration, and which I daresay will have due weight with some others. There are other weighty considerations which might be mentioned.

"Your loving husband, Chas. Thomson."

"Here Comes The Bride!"

Everybody wishes her well! Happy and radiant she starts out on life's adventure. She should have health to begin with. Good looks in woman do not depend upon age, but upon health. You never see a good-looking woman who is weak, run-down, irritable, out of sorts, fidgety and nervous. Headaches, backaches, dragging-down pains, irregularities and troubles of that sort are all destroyers of beauty. Men do not admire sickness.

It is within the reach of every woman to be well, healthy and strong if she will take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. ROSEBURG, OREGON.—"I suffered something terrible from an organic trouble. Could scarcely stand on my feet. My head and back ached so hard and I was weak and nervous. I had a severe pain in my side and my limbs and feet ached. I was also troubled with constipation. I took Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, Golden Medical Discovery and the Pleasant Pellets, and these medicines relieved me of all my ailments and I was well and strong."—Mrs. W. D.
