

GOOD BOXING CARD PUT ON AT 'NAT' BY JOE THOMAS

Boxing fans of the Rogue River valley received their fill of thrills at the January smoker of the Medford boxing commission at the Nat Tuesday evening in a bill that was good from start to finish. There were about 500 present and every section of the county was represented at the ring-side. It was pronounced the best show ever held in southern Oregon.

Johnny Carlson gave Kid Pickles an artistic lacing, flooring the Kid for the count in the middle of the fifth. It was expected that Pickles, who got a hairline decision over Carlson in their first meeting, would be a dangerous contender, but he was outclassed, out-hit, and outgeneraled from the start. He reposed on the rosin twice in the first round. Pickles used a windmill style of attack, and was patted repeatedly amidships and on the jaw. He also lost the wildest swing ever inflicted anywhere. Carlson showed class, and used the Hubbard squash on the top of his shoulders advantageously. The Kid was hampered somewhat in the early round by his locks. Finally somebody put a rubber band around them, and after that nothing got in his eyes but Mr. Carlson's fists.

The semi-final between Kid alias K. O. Sargent of Ashland and Chet Brown of Medford was a gory affair. The pair threw science to the wind, and stood and walloped each other. The Kid stopped more punches than Brown, and battled nobly throughout. The judges called it a draw, which excited the Ashland delegation to loud booning. It was a fair decision as both were willing and aggressive.

After the mill, Mr. Sargent's second turned his usual handspring, and for fear no one saw him, turned another. As this aroused no enthusiasm among the spectators Sargent tried to inflict an extemporaneous oration, and was prevented by mass yelling on the part of all hands.

Toughy Carson, a deaf mute got a draw with Kid Stevens, pride of the Applegate, and Medford barbershops. Carson did most of the leading for three rounds, but Stevens got in a good lick in the fourth that slowed him up. The draw did not suit the audience who thought Carson was the winner.

The second preliminary rumpus was between Mr. Nissala and Mr. Czubeck. Neither can hear or talk but they did a lot of heavy thinking and making faces. Czubeck's second nearly drowned him in the third round by pouring a bucket of cold water on his head. For a minute it looked like he was going to say something. The bout was called a draw.

before hostilities commenced Matchmaker Joe Thomas won an oratorical bout with the crowd. The entertainment was fast and clean throughout, and everyone present went away satisfied that he had received full value. The evening demonstrated that boxing is popular in the valley, when not gummed up by ham and egggers. Matchmaker Thomas deserves the encouragement and support he received.

Sheep and goat men of western and southern Oregon will meet in Albany at 11 a. m., January 21st in an effort to complete organization as outlined along the line as adopted by the State Farm Bureau.

Fred Herrin will represent the breeders of southern Oregon at this conference and any other breeders interested should arrange to attend. Further information can be had thru the county agent's office.

SEEK TRADE WITH RUSSIA, RELIEVE ENGLISH LABOR

LONDON.—The proposal by the government to alleviate unemployment by big roadmaking and house building schemes and other work of public utility is called inadequate by the leaders of the unemployed.

Official returns give the number of registered workless in the United Kingdom on December 10 as 591,974, an increase of 79,721 during the preceding fortnight. London alone accounts for 141,522 and the proportion of men to women out of work is roughly 3 to 1.

Labor leaders say these figures are incomplete. They declare that at least 750,000 other manual workers and as many clerical workers are out of jobs, though not on the government books. Those would bring up the workless army to well over 1,300,000 and, counting their dependents upon, 4,500,000 sufferers from lack of work in one way or another.

Chamur for reopening trade with Russia is growing and the chairman of the London Unemployed Council has told the Associated Press representative that by acting in concert with all other labor organizations, they were confident of being able to force the government's hand.

"If an American business man is able to get $5,000,000,000 worth of contracts out of Russia, that means that there is another $5,000,000,000 worth waiting there for British trade," already a public charity has been deeply stirred by reports made by social workers on many cases of genuine distress with the result that gifts, both in money and kind, have been pouring into the different local unemployed centers. The danger of food riots, which threatened some weeks ago, has apparently to a large extent, vanished.

ITALIAN RADICALS STAGE A THRILLER OVER BOMB ACTION

LEGHORN, Jan. 12.—Vincenzo Vaccira, a socialist deputy from Sicily, who was in the United States seven years ago as a lecturer and writer of New York and Boston newspapers, was the center of a tumultuous scene in the socialist congress today.

"You wish revolution with the knife," said Vaccira, drawing a pen-knife from his vest pocket, and looking toward Signor Bombacci, the head of the extremists, who sat in a box.

"I wish revolution by the revolver," retorted Bombacci, as he pulled a revolver from his pocket and pointed it at Vaccira.

The incident threw the entire congress into chaos, the demonstration lasting 35 minutes. Neither man meant to use the weapon he had drawn.

Vaccira, who is lined up with the moderates continued his address when the tumult had subsided, saying: "The policy of violence has produced only failure, misery and hunger. The history of communistic violence shows that after it has spent its force, it is abandoned.

"As the fighting arm of the proletariat, behold the work of the Americans' I. W. W. for 15 or 20 years this most ardent protagonist of violence braved and dared in its work unbridled violence with the torch, gunpowder and dynamite. Many of them are serving long terms in prison for their acts. After viewing the failures which they had reaped, last December in their convention, they repudiated entirely their former policy of violence.

"They have found that it does not pay." The mention of the name of Eugene V. Debs, American socialist was received with cheering throughout the hall.

18TH ENGINEERS TO HOLD REUNION SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—Old bridges will be rebuilt and old songs revived at the first reunion of the Eighteenth Engineers since overseas days in this city Saturday evening. Members of the outfit from California, Washington and Oregon will attend. Captain Hugh Wiley of San Francisco will act as toastmaster and among the speakers will be Colonel J. B. Cavanaugh, commanding officer. The regiment was recruited in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle and was trained at Camp Lewis. Motion pictures of the regiment in action during the war will feature the reunion. Portland, Jan. 19.—Further investigation here has developed that L. Arthur McGee, who obtained the angler's license found on the body of a man at Stockton, Cal., showed that according to records of the Clatskanie Transportation company, by which McGee was employed in August, 1920, his nearest relative is an uncle, Rev. Arthur I. of South Amboy, N. J.

The Screen

Constance Talmadge in "Dangerous Business"

The Hialto Theatre will have as its feature attraction the remainder of the week, beginning today, Constance Talmadge in "Dangerous Business," adapted by John Emerson, and Anita Loos from Madeline Sharp Buchanan's story "The Chessboard." According to advance reports this drama is different than the usual run. It does not follow the conventional lines of the persecuted heroine, the villain and the rescuing hero. Nancy Flavel, the madcap society girl who is always falling in and out of love is about to marry one man, when at the very altar in order to escape a distasteful marriage she declares she is already a married woman and the wedding is off.

SWEDEN SUFFERS A READJUSTMENT A LA AMERICA

STOCKHOLM.—Sweden, like the United States, is undergoing a period of economic readjustment involving the closing down of factories and reduction of wages in an effort to cut the cost of production.

Swedish manufacturers declare they are compelled to do this in order to place their manufactures on a level which will enable them to compete with German, American and English production. Many of the factories and mechanical lines began in December to dismiss their workers gradually by laying off ten to 20 per cent of them weekly. When the employees inquired why this was done they were informed that the scale of wages averaging the equivalent of $1.40 a day at the present rates of exchange must be cut. They were told that unless they accepted such a reduction the shop would be closed.

In most cases the workmen refused and the factories were shut down for part of this month; but a reaction against this policy became noticeable before the beginning of the new year. New agreements between employers and workers usually are made in many lines at the beginning of the year. This time there was a collision of the workmen's demands for higher wages with the employers' announcement that they would have to be cut.

Swedish employers now have no fear of strikes but, on the contrary, say they would welcome them because of lack of orders and dull prospects which seem to be likely to result in further dismissals of thousands of workmen.

Attempt on the part of America to exclude or reduce the number of emigrants is reported to have had an influence in producing a conciliatory frame of mind among the workmen. Heretofore the Swedish worker has had America to fall back on in case of labor troubles at home. Now he is beginning to doubt whether he will continue to enjoy this opportunity to emigrate.
