INDIA'S AGITATION FOR INDEPENDENCE GROWING RAPIDLY

NEW YORK.—Details of the debates in the session of the Indian national congress held at Nagpur, central India, in December, have just been received in the mails by the Indian information bureau of New York, with the texts of resolutions, addresses, etc., at the congress, which have been briefly referred to in cable advices. Twenty-two thousand delegates from all parts of India, including several thousand women, assembled at the congress, and decided upon an extension of the movement now in progress, including non-payment of taxes as an extreme measure.

One of the resolutions adopted amended the constitution of the congress, so as to secure "the attainment of 'swara' (national sovereignty) by all peaceful and legitimate means." A significant omission from the resolution was the clause referring to the use of "constitutional methods for the attainment of self-government within the British empire."

Other conferences held at Nagpur took the general attitude expressed by the congress. The "All-India Students' conference passed a resolution in favor of "immediate and unconditional boycott of the government and the government-aided schools and colleges." Lajpat Rai presiding at a conference held for the purpose of protecting cattle against slaughter and export, declared that the cattle question could not be settled until national sovereignty was obtained.

The opening speech of the presiding officer of the congress outlined a plan for the immediate boycott of British trade. In order that the ruling power may be "gradually exhausted," he advocated a plan by which English planters, merchants, traders and manufacturers in India may be faced with a severity of labor. This, he maintained, would produce national strikes of unskilled workmen in the railway, postal and telegraph departments.

F. BUREAU DRIVE IN JACKSON CO. GAINING DAILY

The second part of the campaign to secure a greater Farm Bureau for Jackson county, the lecturing tour, met with flattering success last week. The meetings held in Medford on Monday and in Ashland on Tuesday were largely attended and the keenest of interest was shown. At the meetings held in the rural communities the same spirit was found both as to the numbers attending and in the enthusiasm.

Mr. Gray, state organizer, brings in the word that wherever he has met Oregon farmers, he has heard of the farm bureau of Jackson county. He says that the activities of the farmers of Jackson county has given them easily first place in the minds of farmers the state over. Mr. Gray is especially pleased with the situation here. He finds our farmers alert, intelligent, progressive and he feels confident that up toward 100 per cent of them will be members of the bureau when the campaign is over.

The farmers of the county are much pleased with Mr. Gray and wherever he addresses them they listen with rapt attention to the quiet, logical, and convincing message that he has for any tiller of the soil. Mr. Mansfield is thoroughly "at home" in every sense of the word and he easily holds any group of men and women for two hours or more with his clever portrayal of the wrongs of the farmer interspersed with just enough wit and fun to clinch his argument.

After hearing either or perchance both of the speakers, the listeners go home firmly convinced that the farmer must organize, to enable him to hold his place as a man among men, whether wood, coal, iron, steel, and the boys and girls such comforts as are due those engaged in the great basic industry, agriculture.
