JUDGE K. M. LANDIS Whose Impeachment Is Demanded by Two Congressmen.

charged him with "high crimes and misdemeanors" in connection with his acceptance of the position of supreme arbiter of baseball at a salary of $12,500 a year.

Should the house decide to institute proceedings against Judge Landis on the basis of Mr. Welty's charges, a formal trial before the bar of the house would be held and a decision rendered. Mr. Welty did not introduce a resolution proposing impeachment as is the usual procedure in such matters. Instead he arose to "a question of high personal privilege," and announced he "impeached" the judge.

Without debate the Welty charges, on Mr. Welty's motion, were referred to the judiciary committee for investigation and report. There were a few scattering noes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Representative Welty, of Ohio, refused today to grant a request of Senator Dial, of South Carolina, that he include in his proposed impeachment proceedings against Federal Judge Landis the statement attributed to the judge that officials of an Ottawa, Illinois, bank were responsible for an embezzlement by a clerk of the bank because they paid the clerk only $90 a month.

ABANDON ALL HOPE FINDING PILOT ALIVE

Officers of Eighth Army Corps Certain Aviator Pearson Met Death in Flight From El Paso to San Antonio—Motor Was Missing Over Pecos Valley—Search Continues.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 14.—Belief that Lieutenant Alexander Pearson, Jr., missing since Thursday, met death on his attempted flight from El Paso to San Antonio was generally expressed today by officers at headquarters of the eighth army corps area who are directing a search of the entire west Texas borderland. Airplanes and several parties of cowboys are taking part.

Up to three o'clock this forenoon no report of finding the aviator had been received.

His course has been traced beyond Saragosa in Reeves county and Fort Stockton, in Pecos county and both places he was headed toward San Antonio.

Speculation now centers on whether Pearson, with his motor "missing" was able to get across the Pecos valley which, divided by the Pecos river flowing in a deep gorge, is flanked on either side by rocks and crags, presenting a certain death to any aviator forced to seek a landing on its dangerous rocks. Beyond this strip of "bad land" lies the plains where he might have safely got his ship down without injury.

Major Leads Hunt

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 14.—Major Leo J. Heffernan, commander of aviation at Fort Bliss, took the air this morning for Sanderson, Texas, where he is to direct the search for Lieutenant Pearson who has been lost since Thursday.

Major Heffernan's first move will be to organize flying expeditions to the Big Bend district in Chihuahua and into counties further east of those searched during the last three days, it was announced at aviation headquarters.

Officers at Fort Bliss, from Brigadier General R. L. Howze, commander of Fort Bliss, to the lieutenants conducting the search, believe that when Lieutenant Pearson is found he will be dead. Water from his engine could have kept him alive only a day or so, they believe and if he had found succor of some kind they believe he would have been able to get to a telephone or telegraph before now to tell of his trouble.

During the last decade the center of population continued to move westward, advancing 9.8 miles in that direction and about one-fifth of a mile north from Bloomington, Ind., where it was located by the census of 1910.

The bureau attributed the westward movement in the last decade, principally to the increase of more than 1,900,000 in the population of the state of California.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN PORTLAND IS NOW GETTING SERIOUS

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 14.—The unemployment situation in Portland has become so acute that there are now more than 2000 bread winners jobless and penniless. The Portland city council and Multnomah county commissioners have authorized Portland Post No. 1 of the American Legion to take the situation in hand in order that a more serious condition may be averted.

To prevent unemployment men and women coming to Portland, where only suffering and enforced return would be their lot, the unemployment commission of Portland Post No. 1 of the American Legion is enlisting the cooperation of Legion posts and the press throughout Oregon and adjoining states in warning the unemployed to stay out of Portland until conditions improve.

FORGET WAR ANIMOSITIES HARDING AIM

Outline of President-elect's Inaugural Given Out—Return to Peace and Reconstruction Urged—Unshackling of Business and End of Government Meddling.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 14.—A plea that the nation forget the animosities and partisanship of the after war period and wheel its shoulder unflinchingly to the wheel of reconstruction is expected to form the keynote of Warren G. Harding's message when he comes into the presidency.

Although the inaugural address still is far from complete, it was learned today that considerable had been done on it and that the subjects it is to cover virtually had been selected. It is understood it will be brief.

One of the outstanding features is expected to be an appeal for confidence in the nation's business stability, linked with assurance "that the administration will keep away from meddling methods in its relations with the business world."

Detailed statement of a taxation policy, however, is to be reserved until congress has been called into special session, probably in April.

For Peace Association
It is believed Mr. Harding's address will touch very briefly on the question of an international peace association and will tersely pledge the incoming administration to use its best effort to secure a peace agreement compatible with American aspirations. There is expected also to be a word of friendship for Mexico and the rest of Latin-America.

Mr. Harding now is devoting little time to the actual wording of the document and most of the real work of putting his ideas in language probably will not be done until next week. He has a heavy appointment list during the next few days and by Saturday will have heard the advice of several prominent party leaders including Charles Evans Hughes, generally understood to be the prospective secretary of state.

Among those who had appointments today was Thomas Y. Lamont, a partner in the Morgan Banking company who helped frame the financial sections of the treaty of Versailles.
