

Local and Personal

A false report that John Anderson, the elderly man knocked down and run over by an auto at the intersection of Front and Main streets Friday forenoon, had died last night at the hospital, was in circulation today. Anderson who suffered only minor cuts and bruises is getting along nicely but will remain in the hospital for a day or so yet until he is able to travel again. He is penniless and is making his way on freight trains to California where he has hopes that a sister will give him a home.

The message announced at the First Baptist church Sunday evening is out of the ordinary. The speaker, Rev. F. R. Leach, will show the value of religion from the facts as given by the world and the unbeliever. The view point will interest those who are not influenced by the usual argument presented in the churches. Announcement is also made of the organizing of an Intermediate B. Y. P. U. This will be for boys and girls not old enough for the senior society. The meetings will be open to all interested, and will be held at the Carey Cottage at 6:45 p. m. Those present Sunday will be the charter members of the new organization.

Street Commissioner Davis on attempting to scrape and smooth down some of the dirt streets of the east side yesterday found that the streets were too wet yet to have this work done. Despite the dry appearance on the surface the crew working with the tractor, which the city recently purchased, attached to the scraper soon discovered that it was soaking wet underneath. Mr. Davis says it will be useless to attempt to resume this work for four or five days yet. The dirt streets all over Medford are in very rough condition with deep mud ruts, and the work of smoothing them down will be begun as soon as they are dried out.

COMMUNITY CENTER GREAT MORAL NEED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 26—Development of the community center was urged today by Colonel C. Seymour Bullock of South Bend, Ind., before the community center section of the National Education association.

"We can't fool nature," he said, "by offering the adolescent girl an embroidery class or a prayer meeting especially for young ladies. Every normal girl wants the society of a young man and she is going to have it."

"Society must come to the rescue. The chamber of commerce through its public welfare committee, stands sponsor for a sane attempt to provide a community center for those whose needs cannot otherwise be met."
