

Do you eat
H-O
HORNBYS OATS
-or just oats?

The difference:

1. We steam-cook H-O, so you only have to cook it a few minutes.
2. Pan-toasting brings out an entirely different and delicious flavor, and gives it that rich, golden color.
3. It cooks up flaky—not sticky and pasty.
4. It comes to you clean and fresh, in an airtight Waxseal wrapper.

SCENIC SOCIETY HAS SUCCESSFUL MEET, ASHLAND

The Scenic Preservation association held its monthly meeting at Ashland yesterday afternoon which was very well attended and did not lack in enthusiasm to carry out the objects for which the association was formed. It was voted that an educational campaign be inaugurated in the public schools of the county to spread the gospel of scenic preservation. Arrangements were made to secure colored lantern slides showing some of the beauty spots of the county as well as some of the districts which had been ruthlessly destroyed in order to more vividly impress upon the citizens of the county the destruction which the association wishes to avoid. Addresses were made by Prof. A. L. Peck of the landscaping department of the Oregon Agricultural College, J. A. Bexell of the same institution, and I. E. Vining. A most interesting debate took place between Alex Sparrow and Hugh R. Rankin on the relative merits of retaining Diamond Lake territory in the forest reserve and that of including it in the Crater Lake National Park. The directors of the association met at the Austin Hotel at a luncheon at noon and perfected their organization. Benj. F. Lindas was elected president, Mrs. L. C. Williams of Talent vice-president and H. O. Frobach secretary and treasurer. It was voted to have the association meet at Central Point on the 15th of April.

DUD WOLGAMOTT LOSES HIS 2500 DOLLAR DIAMOND

"Dud" Wolgamott, a well known resident of this city, who went to Los Angeles last week with Sheriff Terrill and others as witnesses in a case in the southern city, was robbed of a $2500 diamond by pickpockets. Wolgamott, while talking in his room with friends received a telephone message that someone wanted to see him in the lobby. He went downstairs and after a search, finding no one, bought a newspaper, and entered the elevator to return to his companions. When Wolgamott entered the elevator, six well-dressed and affable young men entered with him, and on the upward trip considerable jostling occurred. Wolgamott got off at the seventh floor, so did the passengers, and they took Mr. Wolgamott's diamond with them. The theft of the diamond was discovered soon afterwards, and an alarm raised, but no trace found. The loss was reported to the Los Angeles police, who after questioning a friend of Wolgamott's at great length, took up other clues without success. A reward of $500 was offered by Wolgamott in an ad in a newspaper for the return of the stone. Sheriff Terrill reports that shortly before the robbery of the local man an Eastern tourist was robbed of $75,000 worth of jewels. Wolgamott wore the pin in his shirt, and the crooks cut it loose with a pair of nippers.

'THE SWEETHEART SHOP' APRIL 12TH

"The Sweetheart Shop," a musical comedy, embracing more than the usual virtues of this sort of entertainment, has settled into its second week at the Columbia Theater. Edgar J. MacGregor, owner of "The Sweetheart Shop" is the husband of a San Francisco girl, and perhaps she has told him that the coast won't accept mediocre entertainment. At any rate, MacGregor must be given credit for using sound judgment in giving this city a musical comedy with an entire original cast and chorus and then to prove that he wasn't cheating, sent along some New York musicians. It is a gay company is "The Sweetheart Shop." The chorus girls laugh and romp about the Columbia stage, the stars shine their very best. Harry K. Morton is the comedian. Then there are Esther Howard, the comedienne; Zella Russell, the Parisian beauty; Helen Ford, Mary Harper, Marion Saki, Teddy Hudson, Roy Gordon, Clay Hill and Danny Haley.—San Francisco Chronicle.

At the Page
You like screen comedy that is different; comedy that is always "in character," that springs from the actors in the story and their characters. It's the kind of comedy that is chock-full of chuckles, smiles, laughs and bursts of honest merriment. That's what you will find in our new comedy, "Cupid, the Cowpuncher," adapted from Eleanor Gates' truthful, whimsically humorous comedy of cowboy life called "Alex Lloyd, Cowpuncher," which comes to the Page theatre tomorrow matinee for a three-days run. You know Will Rogers. His lariat-throwing exhibitions, accompanied by quaint comedy sayings, have made his name a household word throughout the country. He has proven just as accomplished on the screen. His humor is clean, clear-cut, natural and always human—just the quality that appeals to every member of the family.

At the Rialto
Perhaps one of the most popular screen stars in the country is Billie Burke. She is a favorite with our clientele and we believe local fans will be glad to learn that she will be seen in her latest Paramount comedy, "The Education of Elizabeth" at the Rialto theatre for three days beginning tomorrow. This is a captivating story of a chorus girl—just the type of character Miss Burke best knows how to portray. Aside from its interest and appeal as a superb picture story, the photo-comedy enables Miss Burke to appear in some remarkably beautiful gowns, master creations of master modistes. There are beautiful girls, handsome men and in every other respect this production is one of the highest class.
