

JAP QUESTION IS DEBATED AT FORUM LUNCHEON

The forum luncheon today was rendered unusually interesting by a debate on the question of the alien land law, or the exclusion of non-assimilable races from the United States. Frank Bucher supported the affirmative, Edwin Thomas the negative and both sides were supported with unusual skill and declamatory force. There was no decision rendered, both speakers being loudly applauded.

Councilman Gaddis spoke a few moments on the proposed camping grounds for Medford, W. R. Gaylord calling attention to a motorcycle tour of Crater Lake this summer and expressed the hope that by that time the new camping grounds would be available. Mr. Gaddis called attention to the fact that the opposition in the council was largely against acquiring the entire property, as advocated by the Chamber of Commerce, rather than opposition to securing a portion of it. The forum was largely attended.

FOOTS SHIPS OUT OVER 20,000 EGGS

The poultry industry in this valley is increasing daily and already amounts to vast sums. Fouts' Grocery probably receives as many eggs as any Medford concern unless it is the poultry houses. Tuesday they shipped 51 cases and during the past week have shipped 65. This does not include the large number sold at retail to Medford restaurants and housewives. The 65 cases contained 1950 dozen, 23,400 eggs and at 25¢ per dozen would amount to $487.50.

CHARGES MRS. STILLMAN IS MOTHER OF BABE

For-like people are up in the wilds of Canada and we want especially to know what they have to do with this case.

Mr. Brennan added that in the last eight months Mr. Stillman has contributed more than $26,000 for the maintenance of his children and $49,000 in alimony for his wife.

Mr. Nicoll said the only desire of Mr. Stillman in the matter of alimony was that he could grant Mrs.

Stillman sufficient money to allow her to live in reasonable luxury.

Wife Denies Charge.

Attorneys for the plaintiff brought out that the largest request for alimony in a court in New York state was in the Gould case, when the sum then asked was identical with the present request.

John E. Mack, guardian ad litem, for Guy Stillman, 28 months baby, whose paternity is questioned in the case, told the court he wished to correct Mr. Nicoll's statement charging that the baby was illegitimate.

"The evidence before the referee," he said, "does not show any other person than James A. Stillman to be the father of this child."

In his reply Mr. Nicoll said he had referred to documentary evidence presented to the court. Mr. Mack replied that neither by affidavit nor testimony had anything indirectly been placed in the records to impugn the legitimacy of the child.

Justice Morschauer remarked that the mother stood for the paternity of the child, while the father attacked it.

"Isn't that the big point in the question of compensation?" he asked, adding that sufficient counsel fees, in consideration of the attack made on the child, should be allowed.

Fights for "Life."

Abram Levy of attorneys for Mrs. Stillman, then stated:

"She fights not only for the life of herself, but for the life of her child. This case has not yet been tried. When it is tried she will prove her denial of all the allegations as to her infidelity made by Mr. Stillman."

"I will take these papers and have it out at home," said Justice Morschauer. "I can't let the press have these papers until they are passed upon."

Justice Morschauer then said he would enter the final papers in the county clerk's office of Westchester county, but added that he would order the county clerk to transmit the papers to Putnam county, where the action originally started, and where the papers will be filed.

On the question of where the papers should be filed, one of the attorneys remarked with a smile "they might consult the convenience of the large number of newspaper reporters assigned to the suit."

Justice Morschauer at this juncture reiterated that the entire proceeding was a public matter and that he intended to have everything connected with the suit conducted "openly and above board."

Record of Case.

Various papers were then handed up to him by attorneys for both sides. Justice Morschauer said that both sides could submit replying affidavits in regard to the motion for alimony next Saturday morning at Poughkeepsie where he has his chambers. He stated that there would be no more arguments and that the next phase in the motion for alimony and counsel fees would be his decision.

The Stillman family is one of the most prominent socially in America and counts its wealth by millions. Mrs. Stillman is the daughter of James Brown Potter of New Orleans and Cora Urquhart Potter, whose divorce took place in 1909 after she went on the stage.

The wedding of the couple, June 3, 1901, was one of the gala social events of the season.

Mr. Stillman is the son of the late James Stillman, who preceded him as president of the National City bank before his death March 15, 1918 when he left more than $40,000,000. This was divided among five children—James A., Charles Chauncey and Ernest Stillman, Mrs. William G. Rockefeller and Mrs. Percy R. Rockefeller.

SHADOW FINGER PRINTS MADE BY DETECTIVE

PORTLAND, Ore., March 23.—Photographs of the fingerprints of Herbert L. Johnstone, arrested at Los Angeles for alleged blackmailing at Olympia, Wash., were received here late yesterday and police said they did not tally with the finger print found on the thermos bottle lunch box which they said had been dropped by the man supposed to be "Shadow" when police tried to capture him on blackmailing charges. Detective Sergeant Hunter today passed the belief that the prints on the lunch box were made by Chief of Police L. V. Jenkins when he picked it up.
