PRESBYTERIANS IN ASHLAND TO BUILD NEW CHURCH SOON

ASHLAND, April 1.—"We must build!" with emphasis on the word "must," is the conclusion arrived at by Ashland Presbyterians at the annual congregational gathering and reunion on Wednesday evening. For several years past the church edifice has been inadequate in supplying the congregation's needs. A rapidly increasing Sunday school, the young people's societies and other organizations, are taxing the building's capacity to the limit. The result has been that the pastor's study has been invaded and encroachments have been made upon the manse. A substantial addition such as is imperatively needed will cost about $5000. There was a spirited discussion over the building project. Some want to wait until building materials cheapen, others object to incurring another debt on the eve of paying off former obligations, while quite a unit are in favor of going ahead with the improvement regardless of "borrowing trouble" complications. It was finally declared to be the sense of the meeting to build at the earliest possible moment, subject however to a decision at a future congregational meeting, at which time it is hoped to submit more definite plans as to construction and expense.

The past year has been a prosperous one, both regarding the church as a unit and its numerous auxiliaries, the annual reports indicating a substantial growth along all lines, and especially gratifying results in a number of respects. The total membership to be reported to the general assembly this year is 227, additions numbering 36. As to local enterprises the church has been instrumental within the past year of initially co-operating in the Girls Conference; secondly, as a chief agency in the institution of the Moody Bible school mission, also the Daily Vacation Bible school; and thirdly, through the pastor's untiring efforts, reinforcing a strong agency behind the Boy Scout movement. Two deaths have occurred within the membership the past year, six have been dismissed by letter, and nine names have been placed upon the reserve roll.

Rev. C. F. Koehler, the pastor, in addition to specific ministerial duties, extends the helping hand in a diversity of activities, both religious and secular. He is chairman of the Presbyterian and Synodical commission of Religious Education, moderator of the Presbytery, president of the Rogue River Ministerial association, master of a troop of Boy Scouts, member of the Presbyterian Home Mission committee, and at present chief adviser of the inner circle of the High "Y". In concluding a review of church work, the pastor adds that "The prospect for the coming year is, to my way of seeing things, the brightest since my pastorate here. Already a large number are about ready to unite with the church. Also we are in hopes that somehow a great evangelistic campaign, incorporating all the churches of the community, might be possible this year, which if successful will add great impetus to all church life within the community."

The church estimates the current year will call for about $1000, approximately the same as last year, there being a fair amount left over as a nucleus for the forthcoming budget. The only indebtedness remaining is a final paying liability in the sum of $200, consequently the financial exhibit is a favorable one.

The congregational annual reunion event on Wednesday evening was largely attended and the traditional supper was a superb one, the social hours preceding the routine business session affording one of the pleasantest reunions in the annals of "prosperous Presbyterianism" in this locality.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

The Eagle Point library was formally opened by the Ladies' Civic Improvement club on Thursday, March 24th, in the town hall, and a general invitation had been extended to all to come in and partake of light refreshments, tea cake, etc., and examine the books and help to circulate them and have them read, with the hope of cultivating the habit of reading more.

The club has secured a fine assortment of books and magazines and offer them free to any one who wishes to borrow them. The library will be open every Tuesday and Saturday from 2 until 5 p. m., and on Thursdays from 7:30 to 9 o'clock p. m. There will be ladies in attendance who will be pleased to wait on any one who may desire to procure good reading matter. Another move in the right direction and it is hoped that the result will be an improvement in that department of education.

Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Butler and his brother-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barspry were in town on their way to Medford.

C. F. Alderson and Joel O. Haskins of Trail were here for dinner and reported that they had just closed a deal to purchase a farm in the Debenzer Gap section, of Mr. McAlester.

Friday I broke loose from my ordinary routine of duties and went to Medford and there I met quite a number of people of our town but several also who live beyond here who were there trading, visiting and seeing the sights. Among them were W. C. Daley, son Clem and families, Mr. Wm. Von der Hellen, Mrs. Bert Clarno, Mrs. V. H. Crandall and Thos. and Mrs. Farlow of Lake creek. All seemed to be very busy trying to get ready to start home.

Phil Looseley, formerly of Fort Klamath but now of Ashland, made a hurried business call Saturday.

J. P. Goin (Agate Jack), who had been up in the Lost creek country gathering agates returned to his room in the Sunnyside hotel Saturday with a fine assortment of agates.

Sunday morning the Eagle Point Sunday school decided to go out to Reese creek and unite with the Reese Creek Sunday school in their Easter exercises so all hands including your correspondent started and on reaching there found quite a number already there with their lunch boxes and baskets well filled and about 11 a. m. the Sunday school superintendent, Mrs. Merritt called the company to order and after the singing of songs and praying the regular scripture lesson, prayer was offered by your correspondent and the classes took their places. The primary class had to go out in the yard on account of the house being so small. It was led by Mrs. Carl Esch, and her father-in-law, Jacob Esch, led the Bible class, and after the school was dismissed lunch was spread in the old fashioned style on long tables out doors and all hands partook of a good hearty meal.

After spending an hour or more visiting we then had preaching by Rev. Stille, a soul cheering sermon on the subject of the Resurrection of Christ. We also had some fine singing by John Stille and his brother, Rev. Stille. It was an occasion that will be remembered for a long time and hopes are entertained that impressions were made that will result in much good.

There were quite a number of people came in for dinner at the Sunnyside but I am not able to tell who, but later in the day there were nine came in for supper.

There was considerable moving in our little village the latter part of last week and Sunday. Mr. Schiebly who sold his home to Ernest Dahack, our barber, moved into the Charley Pointer house the last of the week, and Mr. Dahack moved into his own house. Mr. Hill who has been living in the Boltz house back of the bank building moved out onto what is known as the Pool place on the south edge of the desert Sunday, and the same day Clem Macdonald who has been living in the house belonging to Fred Fradager of Medford, moved into the Boltz house. That is all the moving I have heard of although I met P. H. Daley Monday and spoke of Dahack moving out of his house and he remarked that he had already rented and a month's rent paid in advance, but I am not ready to tell to whom as yet.

Rudolph Peck came in from his home in the Lake Creek country with a part of a truck load of spuds on his way to Medford. J. H. Carlton of Welles was a business caller Monday. And so was E. F. Senell of Portland and A. R. Nordwick of Medford of the Nordwick Tire and Auto Co. They were both here for dinner and so was Charles Brown and daughter of Medford, besides three other men who are strangers. Since we are having so many here to eat, the road and bridge men, strangers come in and eat, pay their bill to the hostess and often I do not see them and if I do, don't know them from the road workers.

W. E. Webb of Derby was in town also Monday and so was Pate Betts.

Miss Ruby Haley of Central Point formerly of this section, is here visiting her brother, Percy and wife.

Henry Meyer of Lake creek, was here on business Monday and so was Frank Johnson and wife of Indian creek.

John Warner and Charles Cushman of Trail were here Monday night.

Henry Meyer, another man of the same name as Henry Meyer of Lake Creek postoffice, came out on the Lake Creek stage Tuesday and went to Medford to have some dental work done returning this Wednesday morning. Miss Mildred Neil came out on the Butte Falls stage and went up home to Frank Neil's Tuesday, and Geo. Prentice also came out and went up on Reese creek to visit his son-in-law, Mr. Purr.

Frank J. Neuner of the state industrial commission, Salem, was here for dinner Tuesday.

Said Can't Be Done

"My experience with doctors and medicines caused me to lose faith in both and when a friend told me that May's Wonderful Remedy would cure my stomach trouble, I told him it can't be done. However, he finally persuaded me to try it and to my surprise it did. All symptoms of acute indigestion and gas having disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.
