

MRS. REIFENSTEIN, AGED 67, GAINS 25 POUNDS

Declares She Would Like to Put a Bottle of Tanlac in the Hands of Every Sick Man, Woman and Child in This Country—Never Saw Its Equal.

MRS. EMMA REIFENSTEIN, 337 Webster Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

"I am sixty-seven years of age, but in all my experience I have never known a medicine like Tanlac. Think of it! At my age to gain twenty-five pounds in weight, but that is just what I have done," said Mrs. Emma Reifenstein of No. 337 Webster avenue, Syracuse, N. Y.

"If I had it in my power," she continued, "I would put a bottle of Tanlac in the home of every sick man, woman and child in this country, for I know what this wonderful medicine would do for them. For almost two years I was almost a nervous wreck. I did not dare to leave the house or even go up town unless my husband went with me. I was afraid to even cross the street and had a feeling of dread all the time.

"My stomach was weak and easily upset. For days at a time I would go without solid food. I could not rest and was worn out all of the time. Some days I could hardly drag myself across the room and was so weak and miserable I was ready to give up.

"My health is fine now, and I eat anything I want and never have a touch of indigestion. I have never slept better than I do now. My recovery is the talk of our neighborhood, as it was generally believed I could not last but a few weeks longer. This grand medicine has brought me health and happiness and I just can't say enough in its praise." Mr. J. Reifenstein, in commenting on his wife's statement, said: "Yes, her recovery has been a happy surprise to us all. A few weeks ago I had no idea she would be able to pull through, but now she is in better health than I have ever seen her and the credit is due to Tanlac. We have been married fifty-two years today and I don't believe I have ever seen her looking any better."

NATIONAL GUARD LAUNCHES DRIVE THIS WEDNESDAY

The local National Guard organization, which has had most of the letters of the alphabet west of N as its official designation has finally been definitely lettered as Co. A, 1st Separate company, and a spirit of thankfulness permeates the atmosphere at headquarters at the Nat. A marked spirit of hustle and activity is also noticeable thereabouts, the company having started a four weeks recruiting drive with the hopes of going to Camp Lewis 100 men strong this summer.

Company A has been divided into two platoons and each platoon under the command of its platoon sergeant will endeavor to secure the most recruits, the losing platoon will put up a feed to the winners at the end of the drive.

To start things off the company is holding open house Wednesday evening, April 6th, the same date by the way that in 1917, our country declared war on the Germans, and the members of the organization have hopes that all men of military age who are interested in the National Guard will attend. Eats will be eaten, cigars will be smoked and a good time is assured.

The National Guard has much more to offer young men than it ever had before. In place of obsolete and often insufficient equipment the guard is now completely equipped with the most modern material, and good pay is provided for the members who attend drill. The days when "tin soldiers" was a fitting name for the state troops have gone never to return, the companies drill under rigid prescribed training schedules and the officers are no longer political appointees of the ward boss but must come up to required standards.

The taking of the federal oath or reenlistment in federal service in event of war is no longer necessary as the National Guard is at any time subject to the call of the president for duty anywhere. The summer encampments for training is not a two week parade and poker game as of yore, officers and men are given real intensive training and after a day of such training all hands are ready to sleep nights.

It is hoped that the business men of this vicinity will get behind Company A in its drive for recruits, encourage their employees to enlist, if practicable allow them time off to attend camp. With 100 men on its rolls the company will distribute about $10,000 all "new" money here each year and its well worth support as a business proposition if for nothing else.

Y. M. C. A. FORMS ATHLETIC LEAGUE LOCAL CHURCHES

Medford Y. M. C. A. board of directors met Saturday night and adopted a constitution and by-laws for the Y. M. C. A. Athletic league. The churches of Medford are the units directly concerned in forming teams in this league. Certain requirements as to Sunday school membership and attendances, or church membership and affiliation, are the basis for eligibility of athletes in the league. These are clearly defined in the constitution, a copy of which will be available for each church.

In effect, there will be two leagues, as the Juniors (under 15 years of age) will play their own regular schedule of games. Junior games will be played after school and on Saturdays, while the Senior games will be pulled off at the twilight hour.

Managers are to be appointed at once in each church, after which the schedule committee will proceed to draw up a schedule which will be published in these columns. Teams, however, should not wait for this, but should take advantage of every fine day to begin getting into form.

Every boy and man interested should consult the pastor or Sunday school superintendent at once as to the requirements for eligibility. The advantages of playing in a regular schedule are apparent. The free lance team has too many games to handle at certain periods, while at other times there are none to be had.

The Y. M. C. A. will handle other athletics in the community whenever the need becomes apparent. A city-wide track and field, without restriction as to entries (except the amateur clause) will be pushed if there is sufficient interest, while an aquatic meet to include men, women and children should bring out plenty of competitors later.

A team of elephants will drag logs averaging as much as 2500 board feet.

The Screen

At the Page

We've got it. It cost a lot of money but it is going to be worth it to us and to you. "The Kid", the first six-reeler that Charlie Chaplin has ever made and the greatest comedy ever filmed is to be the attraction at the Page theatre for a four days' engagement beginning tomorrow.

For a year we have all been hearing about this picture, speculating when it was to reach the public and how good it really was. Well, in this latter connection we are willing to make a "money back" offer. If anyone thinks "The Kid" isn't the best picture that Charlie ever made, and that's going some when such fun makers as "A Dog's Life" and "Shoulder Arms" are considered, we will hand him back his admission money and a bonus. "The Kid" sets a new standard in picture making and also introduces a "new" child player who is a wonder. Little Mr. Coogan, who is the "kid," is entitled to be co-starred with even the great Chaplin. To tell you what to expect would spoil half your fun. All we want to impress on you is that this is a picture of a million with more laughs than has ever been crowded into one film.

At the Rialto

A charming photoplay of life in the Carolina mountains will be shown at the Rialto theatre in "The Jucklins," an adaptation of Opie Read's book of the same name. It is a story of contrasts and conflict—the contrast of the poor and proud of the region with the aristocratic gentry. Romance is offered in more than one instance. And the picture is wonderfully rich in local color. It is a picture which transports the spectator, so faithfully has the director caught the spirit of the book. There is humor and pathos and thrills and excitement. The people are real here. An excellent cast that includes Charles Ogle, Mabel Julienne Scott and Monte Blue provides a perfect interpretation. See this charming picture.

Helped Her Little Girl

Children need all their strength for growing. A lingering cold weakens them so that the system is open to attack by more serious sickness. Mrs. Amanda Flint, Route 4, New Philadelphia, O., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar cured my little girl of the worst tickling cough. I had tried many things and found nothing to help until I got Foley's Honey and Tar." Gives immediate relief from distressing, racking, tearing coughs. Sold everywhere. Adv.
