H. S. PROGRAM FRIDAY NIGHT IS SOMETHING NEW

The program, which will be given in the high school assembly next Friday evening, April 8, will be a very novel one. It will consist of two parts. The first part will include dances and drills given by about thirty girls of the physical training classes. The second part will be an excellent play presented by the members of the Dramatic club.

The high school invites the public to take this opportunity to get an idea of some of the work carried on by the girls of the physical training classes. A few of the girls have appeared in public previously and have entertained large audiences by their clever work. The majority of the girls are new to Medford audiences by their practices have shown they will be equally entertaining.

The program includes dances as stately and graceful as the minuet, as full of life and spirit as folk and gymnastic dances, and as dainty and aesthetic as interpretative.

"The Twelve Pound Look," which is the third of a series of plays presented by the Sock and Buskin club this year, promises to be on a par with the others.

The purpose of the club is educational and the work done is with the ultimate aim of having some understanding of the fundamental principles and works of drama.

The future and success of the club depends to some degree on the support given by the community to its activities.

"The Kid" Big Success

"The Kid," which played to enormous crowds yesterday seems to settle the question as to who is the greatest of all film comedians. It is Charles Chaplin. Discriminating playgoers long have suspected that Chaplin's unrivaled hold upon the imagination and affection of the multitudes was not due so much to his buffoonery as to his real acting ability. In "The Kid," his new six-act First National comedy, Chaplin does some of the finest, most delicately shaded acting anyone ever saw and for every slapstick laugh in it there is a classically exquisite scene.

His riotous action is irresistible. Little Jackie Coogan is one of the best child actors ever seen on a Medford screen. Women wept just to see him, a founding discovered by Chaplin alongside an ash can in an alley.

"The Kid" is two-fisted. Its right glove is packed with the pearls of tears, its left with the horseshoe of laughter. There are six acts that seem like one. Six acts that are funnier than the work of any other human being. Six acts that are sadder and simpler than anything else in pictures. Six acts that will atone for anything the motion pictures have ever done.

Other attractions on the program are, "Sweetheart Days," Page Magazine and Janice Butler on the big Wurlitzer organ.

Opie Read Story Scores Hit

After many pictures of society intrigues it is with a sense of relief that one sees "The Jucklins," George Medford's new picture, which opened to capacity house at the Rialto theatre yesterday.

This is a good, big clean picture. It deals with good, old-fashioned people, tells a good old-fashioned love story, and contains a million and one little bits of great human interest. Monte Blue plays the role of Bill Hawes, the lanky school teacher, Charles Ogle is Jim Jucklin, Mabel Julienne Scott is Guinea Jucklin, his daughter and the big cast includes Fannie Midgley, Zell Covington, Winter Hall, J. M. Dumont, Clarence Burton and a long list of favorites.

EMPEROR'S ILL STARRED 'COMEBACK' NOW OVER

BUDAPEST, April 7.—(By Associated Press.) Reports that former Emperor Charles has re-entered Switzerland have been received here and his arrival in that country is said by Count Albert Apponyi, former Hungarian premier as closing the incident arising from the ill-starred attempt of Charles to reinstate himself as king of Hungary. In conversation with the Associated Press correspondent yesterday the count expressed the opinion that Charles was probably duped by a colossal hoax—the work of foreigners for the purpose of promoting some design not understood here.

"This regrettable incident, which is over," he continued, "at least proved the stability of the Hungarian state."

German Empress Better

DOORN, Holland, April 7.—Former Empress Augusta Victoria of Germany who has been critically ill for several months, has had no new attacks of heart failure since Friday. Although she is very weak, her nights are reported to be restful. Professor Kraus, who was called here from Berlin to attend the patient, has returned to the German capital.

MASTER MIND WAS A POKER PLAYER AT CORVALLIS, ORE.

Interesting sidelights on the career of C. H. Owen, arrested at Salt Lake City last Saturday, in connection with the Bank of Jacksonville failure is shown in the following article from the Corvallis Gazette-Times of last Tuesday:

Corvallis and Benton county people have great interest in the story that C. H. Owen is being brought from Salt Lake City on a charge of aiding William H. Johnson, cashier and ex-president of the defunct Bank of Jacksonville, to defraud that institution of $21,000—for the reason that Mr. Owen was a resident of Corvallis for at least six months two or three years ago and while here was noted for his freedom with money and his disposition to be a royal, all-round good fellow.

As a matter of general belief he was a poker player of no mean caliber but not quite so good but that a number of expert poker artists in our community managed to relieve him of considerable of his ready coin. While here, Mr. Owen was a well-dressed, rather clean-cut looking fellow, who actually looked like ready coin and it was the understanding among friends that he was the noble scion of an illustrious and prosperous family, was the happy recipient of the good graces and surplus coin of someone who had died, and stood a glorious chance of getting a whole lot more of the filthy lucre when a certain aunt should undertake to favor him by shuffling off this mortal coil.

From Medford comes the account that Banker Johnson is supposed to have sent Mr. Owen at some time during his career at least $750 a week, and it may be that this was the coin that Mr. Owen had received from the "family" coffers, or advanced in the hope of the beloved aunt's death. At any rate, while here Mr. Owen bought the well-known George Brown place just north of the city, and in the course of activities bought or had a deal on for the Tom Dorgan place up in the Soap Creek country, and in some of these deals some of Banker Johnson's notes were floating around. The ins and outs of the deals here are not sufficiently well known to give detail, but it is known that even then there were those who wondered that the Jacksonville banker should have notes around in this manner.

REDDING TOWN CLOCK GETS TIME TWISTED

REDDING, Cal., April 7.—Painters putting new Roman numerals on the Redding town clock recently mixed the letters and put the "IX" where the "XI" should be and vice versa. When the mistake was discovered, a Redding newspaper told its readers that if they were getting mixed in their time, the trouble was with the clock. "If you see the hands pointing to 'XI' and 'IX' you will know it is 9 o'clock and if you see them pointing to 'IX' and 'XI' please be informed that it is 11 o'clock," the paper said.
