Ye Smudge Pot

By Arthur Perry

In the Georgia trial of a white planter and a colored gent, for the murder of 11 negroes, it is hard to figure out just what will happen to the colored gent.

Construction work on the $500,000 tourist hotel at Crater Lake was halted the first of the week when all the workmen were stricken with the measles.

The phony cousin of the president who bilked a railroad, and leading citizens and clubs of Chicago, artistically, seems to have been "a brother to the ox."

One of these days an inventive genius will bob up with the radiator hood of a Ford functioning as a cook stove for tourists.

SUCH DISOBEDIENCE

(Eugene Register) Hall fell here Sunday. Many of them would not go in a teacup.

There is something about the Dempsey-Carpenter fight July 2, that makes the public suspect that one or the other of the combatants will have the flu or a broken wrist, on June 30th.

Walt Bowne is running around not properly attired, towit: sans hat. Walt will catch cold, and pay the doctors, the cost of a carload of hats. (See case of O. C. Boggs vs. Pneumonia et al. Plaintiff addicted as above, now sleeps with his hat on.)

The Elwell mystery, a New York murder as thrilling as an Oppenheim spy yarn, has been revived, and there is a chance for an expectant world to find out who belonged to the pink kimono found in the victim's abode.

No accurate estimates can be given on the extent of the frost damage, except that the railroads, as usual, will be unable to furnish enough boxcars to handle the fruit crop next fall.

UNUSUAL

(Salem Capital Journal) A very pleasant affair was given by the Thendora ladies at the Earl Urush home, recently, when they entertained their husbands.

Reports from Warsaw indicate that the old fashioned dash for the Poles, has been superseded by a Poles dash for us.

"JOKERS DEFEAT BILLS ENACTED BY LAST LEGISLATURE"

(Hills Portland Telegram). Well, consider their parentage.

If they ever got Staeker Bergdoll back in jail, congress should make provisions for throwing the key away. But he is apt to return to his cell like the kaiser was hung.

WHERE HE BELONGS

(Eugene Guard) Charles Plink is here from North Bend and will work in the Western Export and Lumber company's sawmill.

A local beaery prop, has demonstrated to an indisputable mathematical certainty that the efficiency of beauty, as an appetizer, is but a jump behind the departed Manhattan cocktail.

Antees on Nord Centrale Avenida are feeling of their gasoline, and some spirited sports have ensued.

HER BROTHER WAS HERE

(Salem Statesman) Miss Mary Cool, of Portland, formerly of Salem, is spending the week here as the house guest of Miss Marion Emmons.

Diplomatic differences have arisen between Belgium and her allies in the war. This is probably due to the Belgians foolishly going to work when the war was over.

THE CRISIS IN ENGLAND.

THE LABOR crisis in England, is largely political. It is more than a mere walk out for the betterment of labor conditions in the coal mines, it is a serious challenge for labor control of the British government.

Premier Lloyd-George has faced many crises before in his stormy and sensational career, but none so serious as this. For in addition to the opposition of a united labor party, he faces disruption in his own coalition, by the recent resignations of Bonar Law and Lord Milner.

As a result in the coming test of strength, labor will probably receive the support of many liberal leaders, as well as a large proportion of the liberal rank and file. In fact, whether or not the Lloyd George government is sustained or falls, depends largely upon whether or not labor retains this full liberal support or loses a part of it.

Lloyd George's present strategy is plain. For the past 48 hours he has been concentrating all his powers of personal force and political skill to maneuver the labor party into such a position of uncompromising radicalism, that the popular support essential to labor's success, will be alienated. From this distance it looks as though he had nearly succeeded. His proposal for negotiations, pending which the work at the mines should be resumed, has been accepted by the mine operators, and refused by the mine workers. Unless there is some joker concealed, which labor can expose, and thus show that the Premier's conciliatory proposal is not made in good faith, it looks as though the British public in general would unite behind the government, rather than accept the apparent alternative of an industrial revolution.

If this is the outcome, then Lloyd George can put another feather in his cap, and again demonstrate that he is England's strong man, and he alone can successfully pilot the ship of state under the turbulent post-war conditions.

But there are so many complications involved, that it is impossible to be dogmatic. Unquestionably Lloyd George has been losing ground steadily the past few months. The impression that he is a mere political opportunist without serious convictions of any sort, has been growing apace. Whether or not the Premier wins now, there is reason to believe that he is near the end of his political rope. The best his friends can hope for him is that he will now pull victory out of defeat, and prepare his retreat, the worst that he will finally admit, he has met his master, and give way to the establishment of a labor government.

NEW BAKERY AT GROCETERIA TO OPEN TOMORROW

Medford's newest bakery, the only one of the kind in Southern Oregon, though the type has won great popularity in the east and middle west, will make its formal bow to the local public tomorrow morning.

This is the bakery department of the Economy Groceteria, and is located on the main floor of that large establishment. Messrs. Gates and Lydiard have installed at great expense the electric type, open style bakery, where the mixing of the ingredients and other baking operations are all done in sight of the store patrons, and where any one passing on the street can watch the operation.

The baking is done in a big electric traveling oven, which revolves during the baking process. The claim is made that baking by this method has the effect of making the bread, pastries, etc., much better than by the usual processes.

The specialty of the Economy Groceteria will be home-baked bread, although cookies, cakes, pastries and pies will also be baked to meet the demands of the trade. A feature of this bakery is that all Medford folks who like hot bread for luncheon and dinner can obtain it daily at the Groceteria store, as such bread will be turned out at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. daily except Sunday.

L. F. Bland of Kansas City is the experienced baker, whom Messrs. Gates and Lydiard chose after carefully looking over the field. Mr. Bland was formerly with the Harvey dining car service bakery department, and also the Holland Dutch Bakery company of Los Angeles before coming to Medford.

Mr. Wilson is offering many attractive bargains in men's furnishings and miscellaneous articles, some of which are listed in his advertisement in this paper.

BRITISH CALL MINE WORKERS

It was understood that in his reply Premier Lloyd George asked the miners to meet the owners at 3 p. m. The answer of the miners was that the condition laid down providing that the safety of the mines must first be discussed, stood in the way of resumption of negotiations.

Musician Out of Tune

"Gas pressure in my stomach sometimes distressed me so that I could not think. I played out of tune and twice lost my position. No medicine helped me and I became disheartened. Another musician advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy, and I am now enjoying the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by all druggists. Adv.
