

ADJ. GENL. WHITE URGES ERECTION MEDFORD ARMORY

At the regular forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Medford hotel this noon, Carl Tengwald acted as chairman, and Adjutant General George A. White was the leading speaker, speaking in behalf of the speedy building of an armory with state and national aid. He said he understood that Jackson county had set aside $25,000 for this purpose.

"I enjoyed the songs," said the adjutant general, "but you ought to have one about the 1039 men of Jackson county who enlisted in the Great War, most of them before the draft. You have but 14 names on the slacker list, and I am satisfied most of them were transients."

Adjutant White urged the Chamber of Commerce to get behind the movement for an armory, as a civic investment and a patriotic center, and promised that the city would be consulted on the style of building they wanted. The structure, as planned, would cost $80,000.

F. E. Merrick urged the establishment by the city of a woodpile at the auto camp ground for the benefit of tourists.

Personals

On April 17, the all-star team of the Elks lodge of Medford will come here to bowl against local Elks stars, and a tight contest is anticipated. A week later, the local champions will journey to Medford, and another interesting contest is expected. Five games will probably be played here, and five in Medford, but this information is not definite. The local team will be composed of Mike Lavenick, Tom Waters, Austin Hayden, L. G. Van Bellen, and Glenn Jester, with Burge Mason and Harry Ackley ready to step in as alternates if needed.—Klamath Falls Herald.

George Titus Wilson who conducted the singing class for the Methodist Church South last night was for eight years a director of musical conventions in the states of the middle west with headquarters in Chicago. As a result of this experience he worked out an original system of sight-singing whereby note reading may be learned in two keys at the same time, and devised a chart of this parallel key system which is a great aid in the teaching of the most rapid system of sight-singing known. While you are learning to play jazz in twelve lessons, why not learn to sing correctly at the same time, and not be dependent on some instrument, or some other voice to teach you the melody.

than 200 representatives of organized labor and political and civic organizations of the country were here today to present to congress a petition signed by citizens of forty-one states, asking amnesty for persons convicted under the war-time espionage act. Signers of the general petition, which was circulated by the American amnesty committee were said to include David Starr Jordan, Booth Tarkington, Norman Hapgood, Mrs. Florence Kelley, Francis F. Kane, former assistant attorney general and Cole D. Blease, former governor of South Carolina.

ATTEMPT TO ROB GOLD HILL BANK FOILED BY GUARD

A sensational attempt to blow the vault at the Gold Hill bank late last night by two burglars was frustrated by William Wise, the watchman who sleeps in the bank. There was an exchange of shots between Wise and the burglars, who fled at once, without any of the bullets taking effect so far as known.

Wise, who sleeps in the bank, was awakened about 1 a. m. by hearing the burglars force an entrance. He opened fire with his 45 caliber Colts revolver and the criminals as they backed out returned the fire. Each was armed with two revolvers. One of Wise's bullets struck a chair. The town of Gold Hill was aroused by the shooting and armed men rushed to the scene, but the burglars had made good their getaway. The Medford police and the sheriff's office were notified to be on the lookout for suspicious characters.

The burglars, as in the case of the yeggs sometime ago at the Talent bank, first broke into a nearby Southern Pacific railroad tool house from which building they took to the bank a crowbar, a single jack hammer, a steel punch, brace and bit and a railroad pick. Some of these tools, it is supposed, were to be used in opening the vault or safe and others in forcing the outer door of the bank. No arrests had been reported at press time.

President Harding's program is declared as the practice of shift sleeve policies but the newspaper sees only self interest in the future international policy of the United States.

"The socialist independent nationalism which is proclaimed as the law of international activity by the United States is dominant in Mr. Harding's words," the newspaper declares. "Americanism and Monroism, notions clear and concrete which have had their rise and fall since 1824, re-appear with more vigor than ever in the directing thought of the United States."

Complications Seen

LIVERPOOL, April 13.—Commenting on the message of President Harding to the United States congress, The Post of this city declares its belief that the program of the American president "looks simpler than it really is."

Self Interest Shown
BUENOS AIRES, April 13.—Praise for the frankness and sincerity and respect with which President Harding in his message to the United States congress yesterday handled the League of Nations is voiced by La Razon of this city.

Westminster Gazette Critical
LONDON, April 13.—President Harding's message to congress was received too late for editorial comment in this morning's newspapers. The journals devote considerable space to passages concerning the League of Nations.

The Westminster Gazette pays special attention to the declaration in the message of America's intention to have no part in the existing League of Nations.

"We have no reproaches to offer, but America cannot have matters both ways. She cannot abstain and then complain that the victors have made of the league something other than America would have had it."

The Pall Mall Gazette says President Harding's conception of the future seems to be expressed in his reference to "nations associated for world helpfulness without world government," and it adds: "We trust he will persevere in the effort to show how his conception can be realized without disturbing the useful work upon which the League of Nations is already engaged."

TO PRESENT ANTI-JAP VIEWS

agreed today to present to Madame Marie Curie, the Polish scientist, who is to visit this country next month $100,000 worth of radium, purchased by popular subscription of American women for her use in research work along curative lines. The presentation will take place at the White House May 20.

Regulate Meat Trust

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Chairman Norris of the senate agriculture committee, re-introduced today his bill for general regulation of the meat packing industry. It is in the same form in which it passed the senate at the last session.

Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, re-submitted a bill penalizing by imprisonment and fines law officers who prevent citizens from exercising constitutional rights.

Senator Keyes, republican, New Hampshire, proposed the creation of a bureau of aeronautics in the navy department as recommended by President Harding in his message yesterday and Senator Fletcher, democrat, introduced a measure to make farm loan banks eligible for federal reserve re-discount privilege.

gravity," but he still hoped that wise counsels might prevail. Meanwhile, added the premier, the government was taking all possible steps to meet the emergency.

The postponement of the triple alliance strike yesterday created an acute situation within the labor camp. It is understood that the miners made a peremptory demand upon their partners in the alliance this morning that they declare finally whether they intended to strike, and if so when.

The miners, it is learned, threw in the faces of the triple alliance leaders an argument contained in the manifesto issued by those very leaders last week charging the government and the owners with conspiracy to break up the trade unionist movement.

"If the triple alliance is beaten, the whole movement is beaten," was one of the contentions voiced, it is said. Under the pressure of these claims the new strike decision was made. While the discussions were going on among the several parties to the controversy, reports were coming in of sporadic outbreaks in mining and other industrial centers. None of these, however, had any serious aspect.
