Prof. Einstein's theory abolishes space, but not the occupants thereof.

The autoists get "Free Air and water," and all that is left for the pedestrian is "Honest Weight for a Penny," and salvation.

Hiram Johnson of California has started to erupt, and it is about time the Jr. sen. from Ore. followed him off for the same reason that a small boy follows a brass band.

The min. temperature dropped down Fri. to a point where Walt Bowne put on his hat.

Illustrative of how accidents will happen in this world: the Portland ball team won a game Thursday.

Emma Goldman, deported female anarchist has been refused the right to return from Russia. Hellraising is not profitable in her beloved fatherland.

The Portland Journal forgot to put any name under the picture of the bewhiskered ambassador from Szechoslovakia, and many people identified the hairy growth as a face they had seen around the Nash.

THE BROWN BOY AGAIN (Eugene Guard) Marshal Pitcher arrested Ed Brown who struck Harvey Colt over the head with a bottle of moonshine. Brown was fined $100 by the Judge in Eugene Saturday, they were both from up Mosby creek.

Your corr. visited Gold Hill Fri. It is a one-horse but a 276 Ford town. They will have a wrestling match there April 26. The winner will be compelled to meet a first class osteopath.

About one more day of bright sunshine, and the I Don't Care, or the Mathematical skirt will show up on the Main Stem. The Galshevskis have had them washed and ironed for such an occasion for seven weeks.

A beautiful and commodious hotel was erected at Crater Lake Friday, built entirely of Portland cement and Portland good intentions.

"Who will be the man to take this seven-room, modern, newly built bungalow off my hands? First come, first served." (Want ad Portland Telegram.) Also bring crowbar and raising jack.

TREAT 'EM ROUGH BABY (Yreka Journal) Miss Betty Thomas age 16 months, visited Mr. Homer Hobart age 2 1/2 years, Friday. Homer was setting his small table for the two. As he placed each article on the table Miss Betty pulled them off. Finally Mr. Homer's patience wore out and he said, "You little pool, I wish you'd go home."

It has been 48 hours since the C. of C. has had a vote on anything.

Judging from the buildings in the vicinity of the F.R. tracks, they have quit making any kind of paint but yellow.

France has accepted the note of Secretary Hughes, setting forth that the first aim of America will be to look out for itself, but what else was there for France to do.

Was in Bed Three Days Mrs. Josie Reed, 217 N. Exter St., Tulsa, Okla., writes: "I was in bed three days with my back. I took Foley Kidney Pills and in two days was at my work again. I cannot praise your medicine too much." Foley Kidney Pills stop bladder irregularities and strengthen the kidneys. They help eliminate from the system the poisons that cause backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints, sore muscles, swollen hands and feet, puffiness under the eyes. Sold everywhere. Adv.

MADE-IN-MEDFORD WEEK.

MADE-IN-OREGON week will be celebrated April 24th to 30th. As a part of this campaign, a Made-in-Medford week would be eminently fitting. Just as it is important for the people of Oregon to purchase products from their own state rather than from outside, so it is important for the people of Medford to purchase products from their own city, rather than outside.

If a display of Made-in-Oregon products is made at the Chamber of Commerce building, there should also be a display of Made-in-Medford products. Medford makes flour, cement products, catsup, cigars, canned goods, apple juice, boxes, furniture, automobile parts, brooms, and many other things. Let this fact be emphasized and advertised by an attractive display. The Made-in-Oregon week is an excellent idea,—to include a Made-in-Medford week,—or Made-in-Jackson county,—would be an even better one, and add materially to the effectiveness of the campaign.

SOME WEATHER AGAIN.

THERE is a great deal of weather in the news today. There has been a great deal of weather for some time. So we suggest to some of our friends with a penchant for lugubrious blue, to read the reports carefully.

There has been some disposition of late to throw bricks at the weather man. He has given us some nippy mornings, some frosty nights, and consequently some smudge smoke. There may be more along the same line, for this is a freak season, and light frosts in early May are not unheard of.

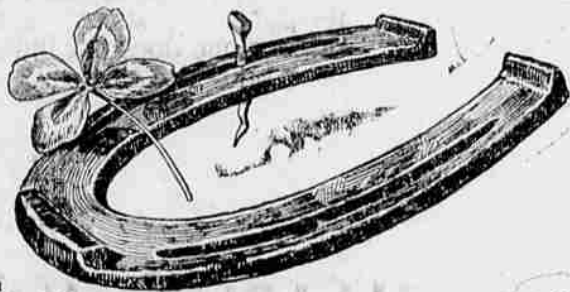

But whatever the future, let Mr. L. B. keep the report of what the weather man has done elsewhere. Let him observe balmy Texas, Arkansas, Alabama, Florida and Georgia, and then just a glimpse at that tourists paradise, Colorado, and so on through Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois.

Scores killed, millions lost by wind and more millions by snow,—that is the weather record elsewhere. Can anyone think of a better advertisement than to print the true record of the weather in the Rogue River Valley, with the true record elsewhere? We doubt it.

PRESENTIMENTS.

AT TIMES I've had forebodings dire, which made me sad and blue; disaster, like a house afire, would climb my frame, I knew, and I would drop my trusty lyre, and sound the loud boo-hoo. "I know that evil's on the way, I feel it in my bones," at times like these I used to say, in melancholy tones, "and hence my pained blackaday, my moist and mournful moans." And since I thus expected ill, the ill would sometimes come, and hand me a bitter pill that made my innards dumb. But years leave wisdom as they go; they left a bunch with me; and now I do not look for woe, but bank on coming glee; there's happiness in store. I know, and blessings good to see. At times the dire forebodings strive to get me in their grip, my spirit they would curb and drive and scourge as with a whip, but where they're dared they cannot thrive—I bid the blamed things skip. Presentiments are silly fakes beneath their deadly strain before that weary spirit wakes to know that they are vain.

Let's Figure it Out in Dollars and Cents

If We Can Help You Save Money, We Want a Chance to Do It

There was a farmer who intended to put off buying a needed implement. There was a merchant who thought the farmer couldn't afford to wait. The farmer was willing to investigate. The merchant was ready to help. So the two got together, went over the farmer's need of the implement carefully, and figured out the savings that the use of the implement insured. The farmer had considered the cost as the main item. The investigation to consider—that even at three times its use of the implement was the big thing showed him that the profit through the cost the implement was a good bargain. We want to co-operate with you in the same way. You have the needs; we have the goods. Let's figure out the connection in dollars and cents. If we can't show you that the use of our goods will bring you real savings we won't want you to buy. If we can show you real savings, we'll be glad to furnish you with a good investment. Come and see us.

HUBBARD BROS.

SUNSET TO MIDNIGHT ELECTRIC SIGNS

You quit selling goods at six o'clock (or thereabouts). So do your clerks. But the rent does not quit. And your taxes do not quit. Moreover the people do not go to bed at six. Why not let an electric sign and brightly lighted windows, illuminated with electricity, go on selling goods for you after six? All through the evening in fact. Why not—The very people you want to reach—the purchasers—have no time to be on the street except evenings. That is the time they roam about, looking, seeing, formulating and deciding on their purchases. People do not have to hunt up your electric sign. It hunts them up like a search light. It is seen from afar. It talks to folks all along the street. They do not have to decipher it, either. It burns its message into them quickly, pleasantly, deeply and surely. And mark you, they will remember it, and you and your location, after they have gone home. Once more then, we ask, "How about Sunset to Midnight"—May we send our representative to help you decide?
