

OREGON MAN SAYS HE HAD TO SLEEP SITTING IN CHAIR

"It was six months ago that Tanlac set me straight and added fifteen pounds to my weight, and ever since then I have been enjoying as fine health as I ever did in my life," was the statement made recently by O. W. Axelson, of 244 Cook avenue, Portland, Ore.

"Seven years ago I had an awful attack of rheumatism," he continued, "and it kept pulling me down until during the past year I wasn't able to work more than half the time. My whole left side became affected and it pained me so I could hardly touch it. My leg was drawn and crooked and if I tried to straighten it out I simply suffered agonies. I was in pain all the time, could never sleep to do any good, and was often unable to lie down and would have to sit in a chair all night long. My appetite went down to nearly nothing and I fell off in weight.

"I had no idea Tanlac could do me much good after all the many treatments and medicines I had tried. I was failed, but it proved to be a winner. In a short time the pains commenced to let up and I could straighten out my leg without its hurting me. And in little more than a month I could not feel a trace of the rheumatism and had actually gained fifteen pounds in weight. This was six months ago and I have not been troubled in any way whatever since. I am in the very pink of condition, eating fine, sleeping fine and working hard every day. Tanlac has meant health to me and I give it my heartiest endorsement."

Tanlac is sold in Medford by West Side Pharmacy, in Jacksonville by J. W. Robinson, in Rogue River by W. S. Cary, and by leading druggists in every town.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH SKILLFULLY MADE

When you get a set of artificial teeth, there is one thing one thing worth considering. That is satisfaction. A cheap set made on the factory plan will cause endless worry, embarrassment and suffering. Plates that do not fit are little better than none. I specialize on artificial teeth, and guarantee them to fit. It requires practical skill to make artificial teeth and guarantee them to fit. It requires practical skill to make artificial teeth fit so comfortably and snugly that you can eat, laugh and talk without revealing that your natural teeth are gone. Why deny yourself the enjoyment of your food by going without teeth or wearing a set that does not fit. When you can have them made by an expert.

LOCAL PRODUCTS DINNER ASHLAND APRIL 29 OR 28

ASHLAND, April 22.—Preliminary arrangements are under way locally for the observance of Oregon Products Week, April 25-30. The Chamber of Commerce is on the alert, in common with efforts to be put forth by all the valley towns. The intent is to bring producer and consumer into a closer business relationship. A program for the week's activities is being arranged. The major attraction will be a community banquet, the main components of which will be Oregon products, the date of the dining event to be either April 27 or 28. Proceeds derived from this special affair will be in aid of the Near East relief movement. A census of Ashland merchandising stocks will be taken to determine the percentage of state products retained from their shelves. Mr. V. A. Stewart will superintend this involving feature, the returns to be tabulated accordingly in order to form a basis upon which to institute a campaign to further enlarge the scope of production and sale of home products. Store window displays will also be in evidence, a movement fostered by the Associated Industries of Oregon, prizes offered by this organization being an incentive for merchants to make a creditable showing of their wares. "Products Week" bids fair to be a busy one, the program being outlined containing a schedule of diversified entertainment.

"The Man With the Hoe" is much in evidence nowadays, literally, but soon we are to have a noted exponent of the well-known quotation figuratively, who will visit this city on Monday, May 9. This refers to Edwin Markham, foremost American poet, who will appear here under Chautauqua auspices as a pre-assembly attraction. The gifted poet is a native Oregonian, and as far as age is concerned is entering upon the threshold of the traditional three-score year and ten. Specifically, Oregon City is his birthplace, and he is returning for a visit to the old home surroundings incident to another tour of the Pacific coast. His "Gates of Paradise," "Lincoln," and "Shoes of Happiness," incorporate well-merited praise, but his fame rests upon "The Man With the Hoe," a fame that is world-wide, even among other than English speaking peoples. Probably this masterpiece in sentiment and verification has been more quoted than any other in the present era, exemplifying in a remarkable degree the merits of poetic genius. It is said to have been inspired by a remarkable French painting. California claims him as a resident, but he is a native of Oregon nevertheless, though his literary talents have been more exercised within the bounds of the golden state than elsewhere. In securing his appearance here, the chautauqua management is to be complimented by way of affording a literary treat sustaining the highest ideals.

GIGANTIC PARADE STRIKING FEATURE KLAMATH REVIVAL

One of the unique features of the big tabernacle meetings which are being held here under the auspices of five churches by the Bulgis-Lewis evangelistic party, was the big parade Sunday afternoon which they always put on the fourth Sunday of their meetings. The parade was formed in the tabernacle at 2 p. m. and marched on itself to Eighth and then to the churches where the afternoon meetings were to be held. Three hundred boys and girls from the large Sunshine chorus, which is making such a bit with the boys and girls and is being greatly appreciated by the parents and the church workers for the instruction and drill which it is giving the members, formed and marched behind the ministers of the city, who with Dr. Bulgis and Rev. Robert Lewis were in the lead.

The women, 100 strong, followed the men, almost another hundred in number making close to five hundred—back of these were the automobiles, filled with Christian people representing the different churches and some who were not members of any but have become much interested in the work of the Bulgis party. The parade included in its make-up merchants, bankers, lawyers, doctors, workmen, lumber interests, practically every business interest in the city was represented. The parade was enlivened by the waving of flags and singing of gospel songs.

At the tabernacle the parade disbanded, the boys and girls going to the Methodist church where a gospel meeting was held for them by Mr. Lewis. Many of the children took a decided stand for the Christian life and manifested their happiness in the helpful step. The women went to the Presbyterian church filling the large auditorium to almost its full capacity. This meeting was in charge of Mrs. Lewis who gave a strong message to girls and women on some of the dangers of the day that threaten womanhood, appealing for the highest, purest life for womanhood as taught by Jesus Christ.

The men assembled in the big tabernacle to hear Dr. E. J. Bulgis on the trinity of evils, "Wine, Women and Gambling." Before his address Dr. Bulgis put up to the men the need of a law enforcement league in our city—read the constitution which was immediately adopted and the organization completed.—Klamath Falls Herald.

Personal

It is not known as yet here whether the contract agreement between Alfred L. Parkhurst and the Portland chamber of commerce Crater Lake betterment committee, reached in this city last week, and the national park department has yet been signed, but it is presumed that it has been. Vernon Vawter, the Medford member of the committee, did not attend Wednesday's committee meeting at Portland. Horace M. Albright, field assistant to Stephen Mather, director of national parks, enroute to Portland for this meeting, was met at Ashland late last Tuesday afternoon by Mr. Vawter and Alex Sparrow and was rushed to Medford by auto in time to again board the train when it arrived here. Mr. Albright approved the settlement situation when it was explained to him on the way over from Ashland.
