ECONOMIC FORCES.

SENATOR LaFOLLETTE says there is no difference between the position of Ireland today and the position of the American colonies in 1776. There is this difference,—the Atlantic ocean. England and Ireland today are economically one, England and the American colonies in 1776 were separate economic units. All the forces of commerce and trade, tended to divide England and America, these same forces tend to unite England and Ireland.

In fact to seek an historical parallel between the British empire and Ireland today, the situation between the north and south in 1861, is more analogous, than the situation between England and America at the close of the 18th century.

For what Lloyd George is really insisting upon, is the integrity of the British empire. He is opposing the right of any division of that empire to secede. There is no question that a majority of the Irish people want their independence, there is no question that in 1861 a majority of the people of the south wanted their independence, but Lincoln held that right did not exist, and he held also, that it was the duty of the national government to put down any attempt to secede by force of arms.

Economic forces, after all, are determining factors. If the Atlantic ocean separated England and Ireland, there would be no question of the outcome; if in 1861, an Atlantic ocean, or a natural economic barrier had existed between the north and the south, there would have been a very different outcome; but the essential economic unity in the former case, promises to have as determining an influence, as it did in the latter.

When Ireland was placed within sight of England's shores, a geographical obstacle to independence was erected, which even a nominal political separation, will never be able to entirely overcome.

READING BOOKS.

READ helpful books that fill the mind with gems of noble lore; in such great volumes you will find the world's sublimest store. But if you read them all the time, your patience they'll exhaust, and you will think such books a crime, and noble lore a frost. If you would keep an appetite for thoughts from noble domes, you ought to read some fiction light between the stately tomes. Read Milton till his sounding verse no longer thrills your bones, then buy and read "The Tinker's Curse, or, Who Slugged Johnnie Jones?" Read Bacon's essays one by one, until you're feeling bored, then buy and read "The poisoned Bun, or, Who Swiped Henry's Ford?" The man who lives on pie alone will find that diet dire; 'twould do him good to gnaw a bone, or chew a rubber tire. The modern pie's the greatest treat that science can produce, but it should go with beans and meat, and prunes stewed in their juice. And so the works of guys inspired, like Milton and that bunch, as steady grub are not desired—they finish up a lunch. I always shun the student pale who says, with misfit pride, he never reads the trifling tale with vamps and gore supplied.

The Situation in Regard to Local Farm Loans

By E. H. Hurd.

The situation in regard to farm loans through the farm loan system at this time is not at all clear. E. H. Hurd, secretary-treasurer of the local association, has received the following information from Mr. A. Hendrick of the California Joint Stock Land bank, of San Francisco, under date of April 15: "We scarcely know what to tell you about accepting applications from your district, as we are already overloaded with applications. Since the Federal Land banks are not functioning, everybody turns to our bank, as we are the only land bank in the district that is loaning any money. At the same time, Senator Smoot has introduced a bill in congress to repeal the law which authorizes our banks. Under the circumstances, we feel rather embarrassed and in a state of indecision as to what we should do. If the farmers are going to permit the predatory interests; the mortgage bankers and the large insurance companies; to put the Joint Stock Land bank out of business, we of course can understand that the next step will be to put the Federal Land banks out of business. If this legislation can be effectually stopped, our bank will be willing to undertake the work necessary to relieve the farmers of these two states. Until we have some assurance, however, that this is likely to happen, we shall have to go slow and not obligate ourselves to too great an extent. We would advise you, however, that we have a number of million dollars worth of applications, and it would be some time before we could get around to do more."

From President O'Shea of the Federal Land Bank of Spokane, Washington under date of April 19th: "The board has offered for sale forty millions of farm loan bonds for the entire system. It is hoped that same can be marketed. If so, we will work strenuously to get our full quota thereof or more, and we shall allot the amount which will be divided as equitably as possible among the National Farm Loan associations most worthy. You will appreciate that forty millions in the United States leaves a small amount for one of the twelve banks, and in our district we have four hundred fifty-five chartered associations."

President O'Shea writes further under date of the 21st inst: "You doubtless have read that the Federal Farm Loan board has organized a bond selling campaign for forty millions of farm loan bonds. You also know the condition of the bond market and the uncertainties of the times, and that the banks have no loanable funds excepting such as can be derived from the sale of farm loan bonds. Tax except as are qualified for service and have kept their obligations. Your associations were allotted their full quota under the most liberal interpretation. We realize the amount may be disappointing; but would urge that it be used to the best advantage possible for your people and community with the hope that before that is completed the bond situation may be such as to enable a further extension of the business."

The total amount allowed the Medford and Rogue River associations as above stated by Mr. O'Shea is $45,000, and this amount conditional upon the sale of farm loan bonds. Applications can only be received from actual farmers and on farm units as established by accepted definitions. Since the farm loan association can only make loans in sums of $10,000 or less and to actual farmers, we had received authority from the California Joint Stock Land Bank of San Francisco to receive applications of loans of over $10,000, and under $10,000 where the applicant was not an actual farmer but needed the money for agricultural purposes, under date of March 3rd, as follows: "We are resuming the making of loans, and are receiving applications. We are compelled, however, to discontinue the payment of commissions to representatives, because of the fact that we anticipate we shall have to sell our bonds at a little below par. If you care to submit applications for the welfare of the farmers of your district, with this understanding, we shall be glad to receive them. Under these conditions we have taken applications to the amount of $38,000 for the California Joint Stock Land bank.

Douglas MacLean Wins

An audience Sunday hugely enjoyed "The Rookie's Return," Douglas MacLean's latest starring vehicle, which was displayed at the Rialto theatre.

Mr. MacLean is rapidly coming into his own as a screen star. He has personality and magnetism and both are conspicuous in his portrayal of the doughty hero who on his return home, seeks to adjust himself to the exigencies of civilian life with more or less success. The story of "The Rookie's Return" is an interesting one and the love romance which is strong, coupled with the humor of the situations, make this one of the most enjoyable comedies of the MacLean repertoire.

As usual, Mr. MacLean is capably supported, his leading woman being Doris May. This is an unusually good picture and well worth seeing.

"Colorado" at Page. Playgoers who like Frank Mayo and the vigorous drama to which his screen personality seems particularly suited, found their hero in a likeable role yesterday at the Page theatre when the star made his first local appearance in many months in "Colorado."

"Colorado" is a photo-drama based on the famous stage success of the same name by Augustus Thomas. For those who like action the story abounds in thrills. One of the breath-snatching incidents comes when a gold mine is flooded with a torrent that threatens to bring death to the heroine. The rescue of the girl by Mayo is one of the most realistic bits of daring ever screened.

Pretty Gloria Hope plays opposite the star as an appealing heroine, Charles LeMoine is convincing in bad

Never Has to Call a Doctor—Bathes Internally

Mr. J. E. McNeil, P. O. Box 217, Globe, Ariz., writes to the Tyrell Hygienic Institute: "I have been using the J. B. L. Cascade for the past twenty-five years and call it our cheap family physician for the reason that I have never had to call in a physician to treat one of the family. What a pity more of the human race are not acquainted with the virtues of the Cascade in a family. The 'J. B. L. Cascade' cleanses the lower intestine its entire length and keeps it always free of poisonous waste. Thousands testify that Constipation, Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, Biliousness, Headaches and all the very serious troubles which to them cause are absolutely relieved and prevented by this Nature Treatment. West Side Pharmacy, Main and Grape Streets, will be glad to show us, free on request, an interesting little book by Dr. Chas. A. ARTIFICIAL TEETH SKILLFULLY MADE

When you get a set of artificial teeth, there is one is one thing well worth considering. That is satisfaction. A cheap set made on the factory plan will cause endless worry, embarrassment and suffering. Plates that do not fit are little better than none. I specialize on artificial teeth, and guarantee them to fit. It requires practical skill to make artificial teeth and guarantee them to fit. It requires practical skill to make artificial teeth fit so comfortably and snugly that you can eat, laugh and talk without revealing that your natural teeth are gone. Why deny yourself the enjoyment of your food by going without teeth or wearing a set that does not fit. When you can have them made by an expert.

MEDFORD ELKS DEFEAT KLAMATH ELKS AT BOWLING

The Medford Elks' bowling team defeated the Klamath Falls Elks' team at the lodge alleys yesterday by 131 pins, the total scores being, Medford 4953; Klamath Falls 4822. Owey Patton of the Medford team bowled the highest individual score of 295 and made an average of 177. Nepp of Klamath had a higher average, 189, but he only played three games while Patton played six. In these three games Patton's average was 179. As in the match at Klamath Falls, Medford was defeated by a larger score, the victory of the series goes to Klamath.

There is keen interest in bowling at the Elks and it is hoped that Ashland will soon put in alleys so that a Southern Oregon bowling league may be established. After the contest yesterday, the Klamath visitors were given an informal banquet and were otherwise entertained. The score follows:
