A telegraphic dispatch from Salem says: "The Crater Lake National Park company, organized for the purpose of operating Crater Lake lodge and Anna Springs camp in Crater Lake National park, filed articles Saturday. The company is capitalized at $40,000 with the following incorporators: R. W. Childs, R. W. Price and Eric V. Hauser. The organization of this company is the result of investigations of hotel accommodations at Crater Lake by a committee named by Governor Olcott a year ago. Through the activity of this committee numerous improvements are to be made in present hotel accommodations and an option on the purchase of the hotel property is given to the newly organized company."

The wood work of the outer lobby of the Rialto theater is being given a new coat of paint.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. White of Medford are in Roseburg for several days attending to business matters.

A series of games between the Elks' volley ball team and the Ashland Y. M. C. A. team is being arranged. It seems difficult to find a suitable date, but there is every indication that the series will come off soon. Serious judges, lawyers, doctors, bankers, business men compose the teams and it is earnestly hoped that no blood will be shed.

W. O. Hadley of The Dalles left this morning for Grants Pass and the Ament dam to see about something being done as soon as possible to remedy the bad conditions at the dam, due to a large break, so that the fish can come through.

J. H. Peare of La Grande and W. A. Barrett of Albany, who were here at the Knights of Columbus initiation last night, left for their homes this morning.

The M. M. Department store this week is featuring a "Home Sewing week" to introduce the new McCall patterns to the public. These new patterns have printed instructions on each part so that the pattern itself teaches any woman to make her own garment, which means a material money saving. The M. M. company is offering many attractive values in silks, ginghams and wash goods, some of which are listed in their page ad in yesterday's papers.

Guests from a distance at the Medford include Mr. and Mrs. Guy Woolley of Cleveland, O., Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Lewis of Washington, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Knauft of St. Paul, P. V., Keeble of San Jose, J. T. Smith of Seattle, and C. Constantine and Geo. McMullin of San Francisco.

Rogue River Valley Fruits Have World-Renown Fame

No section of the United States produces Pears and Apples that are superior in size, color, flavor and keeping qualities to those raised in the Rogue River Valley. That their fame is world-wide is evidenced by the fact that they can be found in the markets of the principal cities in the world. Other varieties of fruits, berries and grapes are grown here in abundance. The several big fruit companies here have many thousands of dollars invested in plants and equipment, employ hundreds of people, and the money paid for fruit and labor amounts to millions of dollars. Last year 800 car loads of pears, 250 car loads of apples and several car loads of other fresh fruits were shipped from Medford. This will be greatly increased this year. Rogue River Pears topped the markets of New York and other large cities last year, receiving the highest average price ever paid for pears.
