Y. W. CRUISE BY TRI-L GIRLS PROVES PLEASING SUCCESS

Over two hundred people took the Tri-L Trip around the world Wednesday night, and as a result of its success, the Tri-L club of business and professional women of the Y. W. C. A. is most proud of itself today. Mr. Cash Wood, Mr. Ralph Brandon and Dr. Bert Elliott started the steamers and took in the gang plank, and Mrs. Ella Cross entertained the tourists who waited their steamer. Over $200 was cleared.

The good ship Tri-L left the Y. W. C. A. docks early last evening, and the first stop was Japan, the home of Mrs. Frank Owens. Beautiful Japanese maidens greeted the travelers and refreshed them with tea served Japanese style, and were Japanese cakes. The rooms were beautifully decorated with rare Japanese hangings and works of art. It was indeed Japan the beautiful, and travelers were loath to go. On the lawn under Japanese lanterns, which were strung in a great square, the Misses June Warnock and Katherine Edmeades dressed in pretty Japanese costumes, danced for the guests, and Mrs. Owens two little daughters, Barbara and Shelby, delighted the guests the early part of the evening with their dancing.

The next stop was Holland, the home of Mrs. R. W. Clancy where the guests were served with Dutch cheese and buttermilk, crackers and rye bread, served by little Dutch boys and girls in costume. The house was beautifully decorated with tulips and the serving room was cleverly arranged, carrying out the color scheme of blue and white. Dutch panels lined the wall, and the room was hung with lit, the blue windmills and ivy. The kaiser was there too, in a cage, and attracted much attention. Holland felt very bad about having the kaiser, but as long as she had to have him, she put him in a cage. After refreshing themselves, the guests stepped out on the porch and Miss Maurine McKeany, in pretty Dutch boys' costume, danced.

At Hawaii, the home of Mrs. Delroy Getchell, Hawaiian girls dressed in native costume, ushered the guests in and served them with punch. Beautiful palms and ferns and great bowls of flowers and fruit, were used for decorations, and a Hawaiian orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Root, entertained the guests, and played for Miss Rowen Gale, who very cleverly danced the Hula Hula. It was indeed delightful and one gazed and gazed and never tired. The conductor's whistle was very unwelcome.

Then there was gay old Dixie, where George and Martha Washington met their guests at the door, and George Washington Brown, with his darky companions was engaged in a game of craps, which very much delighted the tourists. Mrs. Sargent sang old southern songs, and Mr. Bliss Heine accompanied her. Colonial dames escorted one around the rooms, decorated with lovely green vines and flowers. Then those darkeys jigged, and Dinah sang her negro melodies, much to the pleasure of the guests. The colonial girls served hot chocolate and wafers and peanut candy. Dixie was at the home of Mrs. J. N. Brownlee, who is from the south, and Mr. Brownlee declared that the representation of Dixie made him homesick.

The tour ended at New York at the home of Mrs. W. A. Folger. The house was very attractive with flags and bouquets of lovely flowers and green. The tourists were just in time for Metropolitan Grand Opera season, in which Mrs. Fred Strang starred as violinist and Mr. Carleton James as first violinist with Mrs. R. D. Hoko and Mrs. Franz Steffin as accompanists. Broadway girls served cake and coffee. The good old United States was a very welcome sight after the long journey, and the guests left New York for their homes.

The Tri-L club wishes to express its appreciation to all the people who so delightfully opened their homes to the Tri-L girls and all those who assisted in the entertainment, loaned cars and helped in any way to make the Tri-L tour a great event in Medford and showed their interest in the Y. W. C. A.

TREVE LUMSDEN C. OF C. DIRECTOR

Being a member of the common council of the city of Medford and a member of the library board, T. W. Miles could not see his way clear to serve as a member of the board of directors of the Medford Chamber of Commerce and therefore handed in his resignation in which he stated that he did not wish to hinder its efficiency in his inability to attend the meetings.

T. B. Lumsden was elected a member of the board to fill the vacancy created by the resignation, he having received the next highest number of votes at the final election for directors held last month. Members of the board, who have served in that capacity for a long time, expressed themselves exceedingly pleased to be able to select one of the younger men of the community who in the future must assume the responsibility of community service.

MEDIATION OFFER CRUSHER CASE

The board of directors of the Medford Chamber of Commerce have offered the services of a committee from their organization to act as intermediators in the controversy between residents of North Riverside avenue, and the operator of the rock crusher in order that an amicable settlement might be arrived at.

The board adopted the following resolution at their meeting last evening: "Resolved that the Medford Chamber of Commerce communitate to the parties interested in the controversy respecting the Medford Concrete Construction Co., operating a rock crusher on North Riverside Ave., asking whether its good services in undertaking to work out an amicable settlement of the question would be considered."

There is no question but what an amicable settlement could be arrived at and in the offer of the chamber it has assumed its full responsibility to see that all parties interested in this controversy are given consideration and fair treatment.

The offer of the Chamber has been sent to C. J. Simon, W. E. Phillips and the city council.

MEDFORD FIRE HAZARDS OUTLINED

A report made by the deputies of the state fire marshal on the survey of fire inspection and existing hazards was given the board of directors of the Medford Chamber of Commerce and they authorized a committee to be appointed who will analyze same and make such recommendations as may have a tendency to reduce fire risks and insurance premiums to the property holders of Medford.

The report of the state fire marshal's office is most complete in detail. Whether the recommendations contained therein are practical solutions of the fire hazards of Medford is what the committee will investigate. With the growing importance in industrial development and especially in the lumbering industry, it is up to Medford to see that no loss by fire will interfere with her prosperity.

Six factors, all of equal importance, have placed the program of the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles, to be heard here tonight at the Page theatre on a par with those of its great sister organizations in the east. This will be a big treat for lovers of the best music.

These six vital elements for orchestral success are: highest quality of the personnel, a big conductor of great magnetism and creative poetic imagination, well varied selections from the greatest musical literature offers, rehearsals, more rehearsals and still more rehearsals, and last but not least eminent soloists.

Five nationally known soloists are travelling with the 75 artists forming this remarkable orchestra. Foremost among them ranks Sylvain Noack, so well known for his association with the famous Boston Symphony orchestra which presented him several times every season as a soloist for twelve consecutive years.
