

Do you eat
H-O
HORNBY'S OATS
-or just oats?

The difference:

1. We steam-cook H-O, so you only have to cook it a few minutes.
2. Pan-toasting brings out an entirely different and delicious flavor, and gives it that rich, golden color.
3. It cooks up flaky—not sticky and pasty.
4. It comes to you clean and fresh, in an airtight Waxseal wrapper.

BULGIN MEETINGS
NEW TABERNACLE
BEGIN SUNDAY

The opening service of the Bulgin-Lewis evangelistic meetings will be held Sunday 7 p. m. The tabernacle is located on Eighth and Ivy streets, opposite the City park, which is central and well adapted for parking of cars. All of the evangelical churches of the city are uniting in the meeting. The combined churches unite in extending a most cordial invitation to every person in Medford and the surrounding towns and the country, to attend these great revival meetings under Dr. Bulgin, who is looked upon as one of the foremost evangelists of our country. Our people will do well to make the meetings the prominent thing, and side track other matters as far as possible, that they may get the greatest amount of good and do the greatest amount of good during the coming weeks. The tabernacle is ready and a grand piano, loaned by A. W. Beebe of Central Point, will be used in connection with the large chorus choir under the direction of Mr. Lewis. Mrs. Lewis will preside at the piano. Plans to be on time to hear the music each evening.

The services in the churches will be held Sunday mornings, but none others. Union young people's meetings will be held in the different churches at 5 p. m. Saturday night no meeting will be held. Every other night meetings will be held and open at 7:30 p. m. excepting the Sunday service, which will always be at 7 p. m. At 2:30 p. m. Sunday there will be a rehearsal of the choir. At 4 p. m. all ushers and the personal workers are asked to meet at the tabernacle when refreshments will be served, following this Rev. and Mrs. Lewis will talk to the young people. Next week will be church week, Monday evening will be Baptist night. Seats will be reserved for all Baptists. They are asked to meet at the city park at 7:20 p. m. and go to the tabernacle in a body.

Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week following school a boys' and girls' meeting will be held in charge of Mr. Lewis. These meetings will be entirely different from anything ever held in Medford and always draw hundreds of the boys and girls.

Dr. Bulgin is resting this week at his home in Portland, and will arrive in Medford Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis are at Hotel Medford, having been here looking after the details, preparing for the campaign. It is expected that the meetings will result in great good to the entire city, as well as the churches, and they deserve the greatest co-operation of all who are anxious for making a better city, and homes.

PIONEER ROGUE RIVER VALLEY
CALLED BEYOND

Joshua Patterson, a pioneer and prominent resident of the Rogue River valley, passed away Friday, April 29th, at the family home on the Pacific Highway, north of Talent. The deceased had been afflicted for the past several months from a complication of ailments and underwent an operation last November, which in addition to all human skill and tender care proved unavailing. Though he had been steadily failing for some time, the end came quite suddenly, but peacefully at 10 o'clock in the morning.

A son of Joshua and Catherine May Patterson, he was born in Michigan December 2, 1857, and emigrated to Jackson county in 1882. He was one of a family of fourteen children, only five of whom are living, as follows: Lair, of Salinas, Calif.; Sylvester, of Ashland; Frederick, of Monterey, Calif.; Benjamin Franklin, of Salinas, Calif.; and Sarah, May Morris of Stockton, Calif. He was aged 63 years, 4 months and 27 days. In the early seventies he went to the Sacramento valley, where for several seasons he was engaged in threshing. In 1881 he was married to Ella J. Fewel of Sonoma county, Calif. There were three children born to this union, Henry Clay, who died April 25, 1920, and Myrtle C. Jacobs and Hazel J. Peck, both of Jackson county, who with their mother are left to mourn his demise. Shortly following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Patterson returned to this valley, locating on the present site of the Suncrest Orchards, east of Talent, having disposed of this property about twelve years ago, when he built the present beautiful home on the highway. He served as county commissioner of Jackson county for two terms and by force of his energy and public spiritedness was highly instrumental in forming the road building campaign that has resulted in the county's present splendid system of thoroughfares. He was not only successful and thrifty in his personal affairs, but was untiring in his efforts for the improvement and upbuilding of the community as well. At the time of his death he was president of the State Bank of Talent a member of the Bagley Canning company, besides having other extensive holdings throughout the county. He was a charter member of the I. O. O. F. lodge of Talent and encampment of Ashland, also a member of the A. O. U. W., and W. O. W. lodges.

Joshua Patterson was a lovable parent, a loyal friend, a charitable neighbor and a sterling good citizen. His living and example may well be emulated for the uplift of humanity.

Remains are at the parlors of Weeks-Conger Co. The funeral services will be held at the family residence Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. Lodge and a sermon delivered by Norman W. Phillips, pastor of the M. E. church of Talent. Following the services, the remains will be taken to Portland for cremation.

'UNCLE TOM'S CABIN' AT PAGE THEATRE

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," the play that has been popular with the theater-going public for three generations, drew a large and enthusiastic audience at the Page theatre this afternoon.

Uncle Tom, Little Eva's devoted slave, is admirably played by Tilton Stone.

Simon Legree, the villain in the play, is enacted by W. D. Jefferson. The character of Topsy is interpreted by Mabel Davenport in a manner that brings down the house. Juliette Zettel gives a faithful portrayal of Aunt Ophelia, a typical old maid from New England in ante-bellum days. George W. Farrell is a scream in the character of Marks, the irrefragable lawyer. Eleanor Phillips does some excellent dramatic work in the character of Eliza.

The colored singers and dancers in the plantation and slave market scenes and the colored orchestra with its excellent music add much to the play that, apparently, will never grow old.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" will close with tonight's performance, which starts promptly at 8:30.

BUILDING ORDINANCES TO BE ENFORCED

Enforcement of the building ordinance by the city authorities has been suggested by the board of directors of the Medford Chamber of Commerce insofar as it relates to permits for new buildings and for alterations.

It is only through the enforcement of this ordinance that official records can be maintained as to the building activity in the city. It affords an opportunity for comparison from month to month and year to year without such a record there is no means of recording the growth and prosperity of the community except by guessing at it.

Many buildings and many alterations have been made in Medford during the past year without having a building permit issued. The ordinance demanding that permits must be obtained should be enforced for no other reason than for the satisfaction of the people here to know of the progress being made.

At the Page

Supported by a cast of unusual merit, directed by a skilled artist in a play which has for its contrasted settings the savage wilds of the Australian bush and the refinements of an English manor, Ethel Clayton gives in "The Price of Possession" one of the most satisfying and pleasing demonstrations of her ability to play intensely human roles that she has yet enacted for the screen. The dramatic incidents arising in the development of the plot crowd one upon another with such haste, and withal so logically that the interest of the spectator cannot flag for a moment. "The Price of Possession" is a picture calculated to interest every type of picture-goer. Come to the Page theatre tomorrow and see the emotional star, Ethel Clayton, at her best.

Helped Her Little Girl

Children need all their strength for growing. A lingering cold weakens them so that the system is open to attack by more serious sickness. Mrs. Amanda Flint, Route 4, New Philadelphia, O., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar cured my little girl of the worst crouping cough. I had tried many things and found nothing to help until I got Foley's Honey and Tar." Gives immediate relief from distressing, racking, tearing coughs. Sold everywhere. Adv.
