

The Grand Canyon of the Colorado

Here is an unparalleled spectacle—a sight never to be forgotten—one of nature's most stupendous wonders.

The Grand Canyon is about 250 miles long—with a width at the top varying from 5 to 12 miles. At some places it descends to a depth of a mile below the plateau surface. Its best effect, as revealed by extreme depth and brilliancy of coloring, is from a point opposite the Kaibab Plateau—about 65 miles northwest of Flagstaff, Arizona.

Motor roads lead to the Grand Canyon through Ashfork, Williams and Flagstaff, Arizona—and all the way you can get "Red Crown," the all-refinery gasoline.

You'll be glad if you make your Grand Canyon trip a "Red Crown" trip.

Look for the "Red Crown" sign on service stations and garages.

MEDFORD PROUD
MUSICAL ABILITY
LOCAL PEOPLE

Miss Janice Butler who has won many friends and admirers for her splendid musical interpretations of pictures the past year at the local theatres left for California today for a short vacation and to take up further study of the Wurlitzer Hope Jones organ.

Miss Butler is a young lady of rare musical ability and was organist at the Rialto theatre until one day she was called upon to play the big Wurlitzer organ at the Page, which is an entirely different model than the Rialto's and without hesitation or any instruction she jumped right in and through her own efforts and diligent practice every morning she has accomplished wonders, but Miss Butler herself is not satisfied, she wishes to accomplish more, and no doubt upon her return to Medford in a few weeks, Miss Butler will give the music lovers of the valley some new and clever musical treats on the big organ at the Page.

Grace Brown, who is another local young lady of well known professional ability will be heard at the Page organ during Miss Butler's absence; and Miss Buster LaMar, popular and well known here has just returned from New York for a visit with her mother, and will be heard at the Rialto organ. Miss LaMar has just closed a successful vaudeville engagement over the Orpheum and Keith time.

Medford is justly proud of these three young ladies, who are fast gaining widespread reputation for their keen musical ability and untiring efforts in the world of music.

DR. BULGN TALKS ON SATAN'S WILES

Monday night at the Holm-Lewis tabernacle meetings drew a large audience. The women of the various churches met this afternoon at the Presbyterian church and planned for lunches to be served next week to the working women of Medford. The object is to enlist the interest of all the community in this work. This evening the Odd Fellows will attend in a body. When Dr. Bulgln will speak on "David and Jonathan."

Last evening Dr. Bulgln in speaking on "If I Were the Devil What in Hell Would I Do?" assumed himself as Satan and told what he would do under that role. In doing this he sought to point out how the devil is doing his work today, and how many good people become his tools innocently in many cases. "If I were the devil," the speaker said, "I would dress to suit my business; I would get boys to dress as dudes, I would get into society and dress as vulgar as possible. I would dress beyond my means. I would go into society and command that the name of Jesus be never mentioned, making it out of taste. I would seek to be a moral man, and would get people to be as moral as possible without being a Christian. That would be a good advertisement for the devil. I would also substitute education for religion, and I would lay down a liberal code and brag how liberal I was. I would capture the pleasures of the day, especially the dance, as it gives a chance to ruin the young. I would try and get into the church and become a church official, and would join the choir and set myself up as too big to sing a gospel song. I would get into the pulpits and make fun of any who had any piety, and lastly I would whisper into the ears of every person who was under conviction not to yield now, for when they delay it will make them weaker.

A number at the conclusion of the sermon indicated a desire to lead the Christian life.

BUDGET NEW SONGS FOR AL JOLSON

Al Jolson, the world's most popular singer, and the comedian of widest acclaim before the public today, will be presented at the Page theatre Tuesday night, May 24th, instead of May 25th as formerly announced, by the Messrs. Subert. Mr. Jolson will appear in the mammoth New York Winter Garden oriental travesty, "Sinbad." This incomparable singer of comic songs in his drumfire of rollicky and cannonade of comicities has achieved in this, the greatest success of his career, such receipts as the American stage has rarely known even for grand opera engagements by the great Metropolitan company. Mr. Jolson has a budget of new songs and one of these, his own, "Avalon," has simply preceded the others in the matter of "sweeping the country" as the music publishers phrase it. All of them are corkers—trust Jolson. Even without Jolson, "Sinbad", with its fourteen gorgeous scenes and its ravishing revel of fair femininity, would be a remarkable entertainment.

WILL MEDFORD
CELEBRATE JULY 4

Several Medford people have expressed a desire to have a rousing Fourth of July celebration this year. There has not been a celebration in Medford for several years and they think the patriotism of the people should be demonstrated this year.

It has been suggested that those who feel likewise should make it known to the Chamber of Commerce or Mayor Gates.
