Following the 43 of an inch of rain that fell in Medford during Sunday and up to 8 a. m. Monday, 12 of an inch more fell from that time until 8 o'clock this morning. However, the rainfall at the Southern Oregon Experiment station near Talent was much heavier during the last storm. During Sunday night and Monday 20 of an inch fell there, and during Monday night and on Tuesday 25 of an inch. This brings the total rainfall in the experiment station neighborhood from Sept. 1st up to the present time to 20.26 inches, which is practically the amount that fell a year ago during the same period.

All lot owners of Medford who wish to avoid a fine of from $2 to $20, or in lieu of the payment thereof imprisonment in the jail from 1 to 10 days, had better get busy and cut the weeds and grass along their fences and sidewalks. The city council, last night, because of so many complaints having been received decided to have the ordinance governing cutting such weeds and grass strictly enforced, and gave orders accordingly to Chief of Police Timothy. Because of the spring rains the weeds and grass along many sidewalks in various sections of the city have grown so fast to such a height as to become a nuisance to all pedestrians.

"We've bought four motor trucks which will be used along with several others to maintain a regular service between Crater Lake and Medford," said C. Y. Tengwald of the lake, who is registered at the Multnomah. "It will probably be July before the roads are passable to the lake. We plan to have the trucks fitted with cushion seats and easy-riding conveniences. One truck will leave each end of the lake to the rim of the lake is 82 miles. We will have a bus leave Medford after the Shasta limited arrives each morning. The tourist season at the lake is only three months, but we expect each year to increase our patronage. We are advertising the resort as 'America's greatest scenic wonder,' which we feel certain will be approved by those fortunate enough to be able to see Crater Lake."—The Oregonian.
