The delicious thrills of being a senior and receiving a diploma are second only to the thrills of possessing a frilly lacy frock. While stocks are yet complete is a good time to look over the new arrivals. Even the very loveliest ones are quite moderately priced.

LUNCHEON FRIDAY FOR SPONSORS OF THE CHAUTAUQUA

There will be a meeting held at 12 noon Friday, May 20th, in the dining room of the Holland Hotel of the sixty citizens who signed as sureties for the Medford Chautauqua. A luncheon will be served and the members of this committee will have an opportunity of meeting a representative from the Ellison-White association of Portland.

It is imperative that all of the signers be present. The ticket campaign is to be started Friday and to make the sale of the tickets a success every one of the sixty guarantors will be expected to give all the assistance they can.

It is hoped that the citizens will take a real interest in this movement to make the chautauqua a regular thing in Medford from now on. Whether this can be done or not will depend entirely on how the residents of the valley rally to the support of the committee.

All those who buy season tickets will not only save money by so doing, but they will make it possible for the sixty citizens who stood good for this chautauqua to cancel their obligations before the opening of the meetings.

WOMEN'S FINAL SUPPER FRIDAY

The third luncheon for the business women was served today by the ladies of the Presbyterian and South Methodist Church at the Christian church. Mrs. Welch and Mrs. Lovett acted as chairmen, assisted by their capable workers from the two churches furnishing the luncheon. Two hundred and twenty guests were entertained the Tri-L girls occupying a reserved table. Misses Ott, Sarvey and Hussong solicited membership for the club and secured twenty-four new names for the commendable organization.

The final supper and rally will be given Friday night at six o'clock by the ladies of the Baptist church at the Christian church. A great time is being planned. After the rally, all of the business women who attend, will assemble and go to the tabernacle where seats will be reserved for this delegation.

"Once again oil excitement was stirred to fever heat this afternoon when Capt. J. W. Siemens returned from the oil well with a five-pound coffee can filled two-thirds full with oil and sand," says the Klamath Falls Herald. "This is the first showing of oil that has been brought in since drilling stopped to permit of the placing of the 8-inch casing, and it was sufficient to again start skyward oil stock values and cause many to see visions of the millions that will come when this field is fully developed."

In Justice Taylor's court Wednesday afternoon Shorty Miles and the two women who were arrested in a room with him last week were fined when their attorney, G. M. Roberts, appeared and entered a plea of guilty. Miles and the two Klamath Falls women, it is understood left town Sunday or Monday. Miles was fined $150 and costs for having liquor in his possession, and Rose McKenzie and Helen Mann were each fined $25 and costs for intoxication. The fines were deducted from the $200 cash bail put up by Miles, and the $50 each bail money put up by the women following the arrests. Other charges will be held in abeyance by the county prosecutor's office. Of the fines $175 goes to the county as two of the cases were state ones, and the only money received by the city is the $25 fine of one of the women charged under the local intoxication ordinance.

The bad weather of the past few days has decreased the number of arrivals at the auto camp ground. Nine parties were still encamped there this forenoon, a number having pulled out Wednesday afternoon and last night. The only new arrivals yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Leppin and son and Mrs. Loppt's two sisters, the party halting from Aloha, Ore. They are enroute to California.

Chief of Police Timothy saved the big funeral procession of yesterday afternoon from being cut in two as the lead of the procession just crossed over the Southern Pacific tracks when the south bound passenger train started to pull out from the depot. The chief hurriedly ran to the engine, explained that two war heroes were being buried and asked the engineer to please wait until the procession passed by. The engineer courteously stopped the train and held it about thirty minutes until the long string of autos had passed over the crossing.

FRENCH ARE BLAMED

day when answering the address of Prime Minister Lloyd George before the house of commons Friday that invasion of Silesia by German troops would not be tolerated by France.

M. Briand said he did not see the desirability of meeting Lloyd George before all the documents relating to the Silesian plebiscite had been received from the inter-allied commission at Oppeln.

"I, too, want to see the treaty carried out," said the premier to the correspondent of the London Daily Mail, but there is nothing in the treaty which stipulates that all the rich mining districts in Silesia, must go to the Germans while the Poles get what is left."

Briand Faces Attack
When the chamber of deputies reconvened today after a recess of three weeks, the Briand cabinet was expected to be the center of a concerted attack. Friends of the ministry asserted it would receive a great majority when the question of a vote of confidence was put.

Twelve interpellations were inscribed on the blotter of Raoul Peret, president of the chamber, when the session opened. Rene Viviani, former premier was prepared to give an account of his recent mission to America.

Premier Briand had declared he would not make a statement until he had heard all the interpellations, when he would make a comprehensive reply. It was not believed the putting of the vote of confidence would be reached before Saturday.

The address of Prime Minister Lloyd George on the Upper Silesian question and payment by Germany of the first reparation installment of 150,000,000 gold marks were said by the premier's supporters to have solidified his position.

CHIEF JUSTICE WHITE DIES

the national capital, where during his long years of service on the supreme bench, he had grown in the admiration and esteem not only of his official associates but the entire community.

Although all hope for the chief justice's recovery following an operation last Friday had been abandoned since he took a critical turn for the worse two days ago, the news of his death, which occurred at two o'clock this morning, came as a shock to friends and associates. The chief justice, who was 76 years old, had enjoyed rugged health up to the time he was forced to submit to the recent operation for bladder trouble and his record of attendance on the supreme bench was traditional.

At the bedside when death came were the wife of the chief justice; his two nieces, Miss Ann Montgomery and Miss Mary Lee Broussard, and the Rev. Father S. J. Creedon of Georgetown university who had administered the last sacrament during the early evening.

Justice McKenna, as senior associate member of the supreme court, formally notified President Harding, Vice President Coolidge and Speaker Gillett today of the death of Chief Justice White. Following the court's custom in such cases, the news was sent in a letter inscribed upon black-bordered parchment and enclosed in an envelope deeply edged in black.

"I am directed by the supreme court of the United States to notify the senate through you that the chief justice of the United States died this morning at 2 a. m." Justice McKenna's note to Vice President Coolidge said.

The eight members of the court will act as honorary pall bearers if the family agrees to the suggestion that an official funeral be held.

TAFT MAY LOSE OUT

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(By Associated Press.) The choice of a successor to Edward Douglass White, as chief justice of the United States, was one of the most widely discussed subjects today in official circles of the capital. Although the speculation centered chiefly about the name of former President William Howard Taft, there were many indications that President Harding was far from a decision and might find the selection a difficult one.

All indications pointed a considerable delay in making the appointment. Another whose name has been linked repeatedly with the highest judicial post is Secretary Hughes, of the state department, a member of the court until he retired in 1916 to accept the republican nomination for the presidency.

One circumstance which is suggested as a barrier to such a transfer is the prominence assumed by Mr. Hughes as secretary of state in view of the important phases through which the nation's foreign affairs are passing.

In respect to Mr. Taft, some republican senators were recalling today the bitter controversy they had with him as president at the time he promulgated his rule against appointment of justices who had passed the 60 years mark. It was described as an entirely arbitrary ruling, having no foundation in legal regulations. Mr. Taft will be 64 in September.

Sutherland Mentioned
In some quarters there have been suggestions that a temporary solution of the problem might be reached by the promotion of one of the present justices. The names most frequently mentioned in connection with such a possible promotion are those of Justice Day of Ohio and Justice Holmes, of Massachusetts.

Should a promotion be made, the vacancy thus created would be generally expected to go to George Sutherland, a former United States senator from Utah, and former president of the American Bar association.

During the last campaign Mr. Sutherland served in Mr. Harding's headquarters at Marion and has continued, since the election, a close friendship of many years standing with the president.
