ASHLAND IS WELL LIT UP, HAS BIG SURPLUS OF JUICE

ASHLAND, May 23.—"The great white way" is resplendent with electric lighting effects municipally, even this early in the season, streets being in a blaze of glory from the Plaza to Endersville and beyond. Street lighting problems present an anomaly here. The question is, not how to conserve the current, but how to consume it, there being an excess of juice from month to month over normal requirements. The city pays, as a minimum, six hundred dollars per month—$700 per year—to the California-Oregon Power company, for current on a light and power basis. By virtue of this agreement the corporation actually withdrew from the local field insofar as asking for any further franchise privileges, its relation to this municipality solely remaining as a wholesaler of juice, but it established a minimum supply, or price rather, which the city is to pay monthly. The municipal plant is humming away also, actually booming during the present high water stage. The result is that the city plant supplies light and power to such an extent that the California-Oregon minimum is not more than half used up. In other words, we are paying $600 per month to the corporation, and using about half the amount to which the city is entitled, owing to the activities of the auxiliary plant. The remedy for this existing state of affairs appears plausible enough, and that is simply to shut down the city system, using it to supplement the supply in emergencies. This could have been done under the old plan when it was operated upon the monthly wage system; but sometime ago several employees entered into a contract with the city to operate the plant, the time not yet expiring. The object in entering into such a contract is not generally understood, but it is supposed to have been in order to harmonize certain complications regarding the employment of labor on a skilled technical basis. The Ashland electrical superintendent is the highest paid among heads of various city departments, receiving $200 per month, which is a pretty fair wage considering reductions being made all around in the face of the high cost of electricity, which does not seem to participate in reduced standards as applying generally. The contract as affecting the city plant is nominally renewed from year to year, and in the meantime, while the electric current is so abundant, our streets are carrying a peak load of illumination, reminding one of the carnival and roundup periods of former days, just in order to use up a supply of juice which has to be paid for under existing conditions. At all events, the old town is well "lit up."

Certificates of honor, applying to 51 students of the public schools, have been awarded recently for perfect attendance and punctuality during the term just closed. Junior high "graduated" 29 in this respect, and Hawthorne school 22. The certificates are signed by State Superintendent Churchill and County Superintendent Homes. Also about a like number of pupils of junior high received diplomas for successfully passing examinations in the eighth grade as outlined by state requirements. These papers admit the holder thereof to any high school in the state, and the winners thereof in a great measure will constitute the freshman class of the local high school.

The Southern Oregon Osteopathic society was addressed on Monday, May 23, by Dr. Lillian Whiting, of Los Angeles. Clinical obstetrics and a talk to prospective mothers were chief topics discussed, the speaker demonstrating "special technique" as employed under osteopathic auspices.

Funeral services of the late Benton Bowers, who died Saturday evening, will be held at Elks temple, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, under auspices of that order. Deceased was a native son of Jackson county, and a self-made man in the sense of persevering industry through the various industrial channels, not only in Oregon but also other states, his property holdings being extensive and widely diversified, and it was but recently that his title to valuable mining interests in Texas had been confirmed by the United States courts after years of litigation.

Mt. Ashland chapter, D. A. R., has elected Mrs. Gordon MacCracken, regent; Mrs. J. P. Dodge, 1st vice-regent; Mrs. W. G. Curry, 2d vice-regent; Mrs. H. O. Anderson, secretary; Mrs. Carrie Mitchell, treasurer; Mrs. Emil Peil, registrar; Mrs. Harry Andrews, historian; Mrs. Mary Swartz, chaplain. The chapter, by special invitation, will be entertained by Mrs. E. V. Carter, at her home at the Boulevard, the third Friday in June.

The Screen

While the public always know that Harry Carey was a splendid actor, "Hearts Up!", now showing at the Rialto theatre, conveys the knowledge that the star can also write. Harry Carey wrote "Hearts Up!", and it is one of the most satisfying vehicles in which he has appeared in many months. It permits him to do many of the things he does so well and shows several new phases of his versatility.
