ARTHUR H. MEYERS, Manager

W. H. JOHNSON IS NOT ALLOWED TO VISIT HIS HOME

W. H. Johnson, convicted ex-cashier of the Bank of Jacksonville, brought back from state prison at Salem to testify in the bank cases before the present session of the circuit court, expected to come as a trustee, and be treated as such during his stay in his own home town. The former bank official was disappointed when this privilege was denied him, and his chagrin, according to his keepers, is reflected in a gruff attitude.

His jailer describes his attitude as being always on the "peck." Monday evening, according to the jail authorities, he engaged in an argument with a youthful forger, and threatened to "slap him." Johnson was quieted down by the moves of Peter Stauff, known in police circles as "Dutch Pete." They called each other "liars."

Johnson was turned over to the county authorities by the prison officials, who demand his safe return to Salem. Friends interposed to have him allowed to go to his home. Sheriff Terrill refused to accede, and the result was an immediate change of attitude on the part of Johnson who wanted to make his visit to Jackson county a "holiday."

Mrs. Johnson is almost a daily visitor to see her husband in the county jail.

NAVIGATING LIFE BELT PATENTED BY PARISIAN

PARIS, May 25.—A lifebelt, to which are attached a propeller and sail, has been invented by a Frenchman, M. Mercorelli, and has passed severe tests successfully.

The propeller is worked by an arrangement like an enlarged sewing machine handle fixed on an upright bar.

There is a saddle on which the shipwrecked mariner will sit, his head just protruding through the lifebelt.

Presumably, all he has to do when his ship goes to the bottom is to seat himself on a queer machine—which looks like a hobby-horse—and then drive it to the nearest shore.

When the physical effort of working the propeller becomes too much, he hoists his sail and sets back at his ease.

FINAL MEETING OF THE CHAUTAUQUA BOARD, TONIGHT

A meeting of the Chautauqua guarantors is called for 7:30 this evening at the library. A large attendance is urged for there are many business details to be worked out and as this is the last meeting before the opening of the program the executive committee wishes to be able to give all members the exact financial standing up to date.

The program will begin Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the tabernacle. The evening programs will be at 8:30 at the close of the revival service. Dr. Hulglin has kindly consented to start his services at 7 o'clock during Chautauqua week and all persons attending are urged to be on hand promptly so that all services and program may begin on time.

The season ticket sale has been encouraging to the guarantors, showing that there are real Chautauqua lovers in Medford. The adult season ticket advances to $3.00 on Thursday noon so late buyers are urged to purchase theirs today at West Side Drug Store, Heath's Drug Store, Palmer Piano Co. or the tabernacle.

SUSPEND AIR MAIL SERVICE, NO FUNDS

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Funds for airplane mail service from New York to San Francisco are almost exhausted. Postmaster General Hays today advised congress, and service must be suspended May 31, lacking a deficiency appropriation of $125,000. Under a treasury ruling appropriations for railway mail service cannot be used for the air service. Mr. Hays said, and current appropriations of $1,250,000 for trans-continental air route will not last beyond this month.

STYLES FOR MEN AND WOMEN ARE SOURCE OF WASTE

CHICAGO, May 25.—Huge losses through industrial waste are being saddled upon the nation, it was declared today at a national forum held in connection with the meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Leading engineers, manufacturers, technologists and educators herald the sharp indictment of methods in American industry by L. W. Wallace of Washington, executive secretary of the American Engineer Council of the Federated American Engineering society.

The American people, he said, were paying a stupendous subsidy through changing styles in women's hats, shoes and millinery. Every time fashion decreed a slight change in the cut of the lapel of a man's coat, more great waste occurred, he said. Lack of effective planning of elevators in great centers like Chicago and New York, industrial design of locomotives and the commission system in housing and building were adding to the people's burden's, he said.

EX-SUPT. OF SCHOOLS PLEADS NOT GUILTY

PORTLAND, Ore., May 25.—John W. Todd, ex-superintendent of schools at Salem and now a resident of Vancouver, Wash., entered a plea of not guilty to charges of land fraud late yesterday in federal court. An endeavor was made by Charles Robinson, attorney for Todd, to have Todd granted a separate trial from Carlos L. Byron, with whom he was jointly indicted. Judge Bean refused to grant the verbal request, but instructed counsel to file a written motion on which he said he would pass at a later date.

Byron was allowed ten days in which to enter his plea to the charges. Byron was recently released from the federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island, where he was sent on conviction of similar charges. Both men are at liberty under $5,000 bonds.

attorney included Mrs. Evelyn Clifford, a friend of McGillvary. In her mail box on May 10, the day he was killed, was found a note which the police have regarded as a farewell message.
