AMERICA IS PUT OUT IN 6TH ROUND

F. J. Wright of Boston Sole Survivor Goes Down in Defeat After Gallant Struggle—All Even at 18th Hole—Extra Hole Is Lost—Graham, Hunter Left.

HOYLAKE, May 26.—(By Associated Press.) The Royal and Ancient club rules committee, at a meeting here today decided to bar ribbed or slotted clubs in use by American golfers.

The decision will not become effective until after the open championship which begins June 29.

The two semi-final matches were singularly unlike. The Tubbs-Graham match was a very poor display of golf, neither of the men at any stage playing up to his reputation.

The Hunter-Darwin match, on the other hand was a very fine contest. Hunter's victory makes him the favorite for the finals.

HOYLAKE, May 26.—(By Associated Press.) Allan Graham, Royal Liverpool, and W. I. Hunter of Walmer and Kingsdown, will compete in the finals tomorrow for the British amateur golf championship at 36 holes.

Bernard Darwin of Woking, who eliminated Frederick J. Wright of Boston went down to defeat at the hands of Hunter by 3 up and 2 to play in the semi-finals, Hunter thus advancing to the final round.

Graham also advanced to the final by beating H. S. B. Tubbs of Sunningdale by one hole in the other semi-final match.

HOYLAKE, May 26.—(By Associated Press.) The United States was forced out of the British amateur golf championship at the end of the sixth round this afternoon when Frederick J. Wright of Boston, sole survivor of the American entrants, was defeated by Bernard Darwin of Woking in a sensational finish on the nineteenth green.

The match was played under unfavorable weather conditions, a light rain falling and a northeast wind blowing over the course.

Wright's play was brilliant in the first half of the match and toward its close when he won the eighteenth hole after Darwin had become dormie on the seventeenth. At the nineteenth however, the American badly topped his tee shot and failed a later chance to redeem himself by underplaying a short putt.

DEVELOPMENT FOREIGN TRADE DECIDED UPON

President Harding Has Dinner With J. P. Morgan, Paul Warburg and Other Leading U. S. Financiers—Aid to Europe Imperative.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The administration's policy of promoting exportation as a means toward restoration of normal business conditions was discussed at a White House dinner here last night attended by Secretaries Mellon and Hoover, J. P. Morgan, Paul Warburg and a number of other prominent financiers. President Harding was said to have talked over the whole subject with his guests.

The dinner was quietly arranged and no word of it made public until today.

It was understood that while no final and fast program was decided upon, that the discussion served to cement the belief of administration officials that one of the best remedial measures available, would be active co-operation between the government and business men for revival of export trade.

Aid Europe Revival. It was also indicated that the administration policy would turn toward some sort of aid for the financial situation in Europe as a part of the effort for general world stability.

The dinner is expected to have an echo in numerous conferences in the near future between the president and other financial leaders.

Others attending the dinner were James A. Alexander of the National Bank of Commerce and Charles A. Sabin of the Guaranty Trust company, New York, and H. C. McEl-downey, Union Trust company, Pittsburgh.

It is understood that one of the president's chief purposes in calling the financiers into conference was to discuss the contemplated loan of American private capital to foreign governments and the effect of such a loan on the resumption of normal industrial conditions at home and in the American export trade.

President Harding is said to have laid before his guests an offer to do everything practicable to co-operate for the relief of economic conditions, while the bankers are said to have replied with expressions of willingness to work in close conjunction with the administration.

Most of those present are understood to have argued emphatically that the surest way to promote export trade would be by helping actively in the rehabilitation of European finances. It is said to have been suggested that American products could be sold in many parts of the old world only if American capital were invested abroad to enable the purchasers to pay.

Mr. Harding had an engagement today with Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate and although no announcement was made, the assumption was that he was consulted on the same general subject.

President Oregon has ordered the foreign office to make an inquiry with a view to making representations to the United States government.

GRANTS PASS, Ore., May 26.—Collister Gray of Fort Klamath was killed and eight passengers of the Grants Pass-Medford interurban stage were slightly injured at six o'clock last night when the machine struck a cow and went into the ditch and overturned on the Medford road three miles east of here. Gray's neck was broken when the machine overturned.

Among the injured are Mrs. Clyde Harper of Grants Pass, broken ribs and cuts; Marshall Hooper of Klamath Falls, bruises; Cecil Jennings of Medford, driver of the stage, cuts and chest bruises; Adjutant Sidney Cooke of Portland, Salvation Army, two bones in hand broken; Joe Ray of Grants Pass, bad bruises; L. The worst injured were rushed to the Grants Pass hospital, and the lesser injured to doctors.

"According to what all the passengers and Mr. Jennings, the driver, told me the accident was purely an unavoidable one caused by a dog taking after a cow just as the stage came along and driving her suddenly in front of the stage which was coming along at 25 miles an hour," said Mr. Lewis this afternoon. "The stage struck the cow and was upset."

"Jennings is not only one of our oldest drivers, but is a good one, having been in our employ for the past six years."

Sims who commanded the American naval forces in the war zone during the last two years of the war, told Admiral Beatty, commander of the British grand fleet and a distinguished assemblage of British and American naval men and other prominent persons today that the British had been disposed to give the American navy too much credit for the part it played in the allied victory.

R. R. PRESIDENT COMMENDS RANK AND FILE, LABOR

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Railroads of the United States are being operated efficiently, H. E. Byram, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul said today at the hearing before the senate inter-state commerce committee, which is inquiring into the transportation situation. He praised the work of the employees, who are endeavoring to aid the carriers in obtaining better results.

"It is to be regretted," Mr. Byram said, "that the attitude of some of those who speak for railroad employees of the country does not tend to promote good service. It is greatly to the credit of the rank and file of railroad employees of the country that they have not been misled by false doctrines, as is shown by the general willingness to co-operate with the management of the railroads in bringing about the necessary efficiency and economy in their operation which prevails at the present time."

Officers and employees of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad company for several years, and particularly of late, have been carrying out the principle of co-operation and study mutually in finding and practicing economies and improved methods. Committees have been formed of officers and employees on every division to study the details of operation.

SLOW WORK IN GETTING JURY BLAKELEY CASE

Jury to Try Former County Treasurer Not Secured Until This Afternoon—Disinclination to Convict Woman Is Main Cause.

The following jury in the retrial of Mrs. Myrtle Blakeley, former county treasurer, charged with malfeasance in office in connection with the failure of the Bank of Jacksonville was secured this afternoon.

O. D. Lowe, Ashland, farmer; Charles Isaacs, Medford, farmer; T. E. Daniels, Medford; H. H. Gillette, yardmaster, Ashland; A. H. Pracht, hotel man, Ashland; J. E. McDonald, farmer, Tillamook; P. C. Haines, farmer, Ashland; D. F. Fuller, Eagle Point, farmer; J. P. Gregory, farmer, Central Point; T. S. Willey, farmer, Ashland; Burdette Dodge, orchardist, Medford; F. J. Shinn, bookkeeper, Ashland.

The regular panel was exhausted this morning and a special venire of three drawn to fill the jury box. The case is expected to go to the jury late Friday afternoon.

Most of the jurors expressed hesitancy in convicting a woman, or had fixed opinions. The state asked if they had discussed the case with any member of the county court, and if their relations with that body were friendly.

T. E. Daniels, the last juror accepted, expressed an opinion that he would be inclined to give a woman defendant the "benefit of a doubt to a greater extent than a man," but under further questioning thought that his "sense of chivalry" would not affect his verdict.

The grand jury, which has been in session, investigating conditions relative to the bank failure, adjourned Wednesday until next Monday, when they will continue their deliberations.

The work of selecting a jury in the retrial of Myrtle W. Blakeley, former county treasurer, charged with malfeasance in office proceeded slowly in the circuit court Wednesday afternoon, with both state and defense carefully questioning each prospective juror.

The jurors were asked if they had formed any opinions, if they were acquainted with the defendant, and the star witness for the state, W. H. Johnson, former cashier of the Bank of Jacksonville. Stress was laid on the attitude towards the handling of county funds, and if they had ever discussed or heard discussions relative to county officers other than Mrs. Blakeley and the Bank of Jacksonville.

Fred Benedict, an Applegate farmer was excused because he was prejudiced towards "convicting a woman."

Hob S. Deuel, Medford merchant was excused from service because he entertained opinions, as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant. Deuel said he did not think he could be an unprejudiced juror, but would try to be "fair-minded."

Some of the jurors were asked if they knew County Judge Gardner, and former County Commissioner T. H. Simpson.
