

H. SCHOOL MOVIE MACHINE FEATURE CLASS EXERCISES

The new moving picture machine purchased by the school board for $125, second-hand, from a Spokane school, was given its first use last night when it formed a prominent part of the senior class night exercises at the high school auditorium, a two reel comedy film being presented. A large crowd was assembled and the exercises were much enjoyed.

The class will be presented by Kael Klum, the class history by Anna Ferguson and the class poem by Leonard Brown. The class prophecy, which was written by Winston Vance, was read by Orrel Powell, and the class song which was written by Orrel Powell, was sung by the class. The presentation of the class memorial was by Elbert Coleman, president of the class, and it was received by Francis Prescott.

The moving picture machine, which is a fine one will be used next year in the presentation of educational films in the various school buildings.

DANIELS RESIGNS C. OF COMMERCE, LINDAS SUCCEEDS

Due to the press of business and the manifold demands upon his time for public service, T. E. Daniels resigned as a member of the board of Medford Chamber of Commerce. Absence from the city for a considerable length of time in the near future and knowing that the administrative affairs of the Chamber still remained in most competent hands, were additional reasons given for asking to be relieved from service.

Benj. F. Lindas, having been the choice of the members by their vote at the annual election, he having received the next highest vote of any not now on the board, was unanimously elected as a director to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of T. E. Daniels.

Although one of the newer residents in this locality, B. F. Lindas has made an enviable reputation for himself as a man of exceptional ability and his membership on the board is a distinct asset to the Chamber of Commerce.

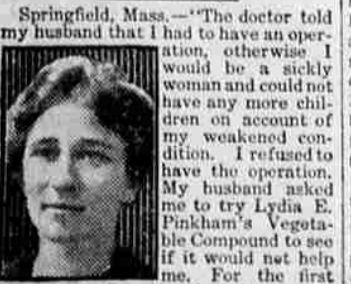

CLEANING WORKS DAMAGED BY FIRE

A fire which started at 4 p. m. Wednesday from a spark from the boiler engine stack burned the upper, or peak part of the roof, of the two-story frame building on South Riverside occupied by the plant of the City Cleaning and Dye Works. The ceiling of the upper rooms was also burned. The fire had a good start before the fire department was summoned, but fast and good work by the firemen saved the building. The plant will be out of operation for a day or so until the insurance can be adjusted.

The fire loss on the building, which is owned by the Osenbrugg estate, is about $500, covered by insurance, and the loss by fire and water to the household goods and furniture of John F. Watson, proprietor of the plant, is about $700, covered by insurance. All the clothing of customers was saved from any damage.

WIFE TAKES HUSBANDS ADVICE

And Is Made Well Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Springfield, Mass.—"The doctor told my husband that I had to have an operation, otherwise I would be a sickly woman and could not have any more children on account of my weakened condition. I refused to have the operation. My husband asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it would not help me. For the first four months I could do but little work, had to lie down most of the time, was nervous and could eat hardly anything, but my husband was always reminding me to take the Vegetable Compound, which I did. Of my eight children this last one was the easiest birth of all and I am thankful for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend it to my friends when I hear them complaining about their ill health."—Mrs. M. NATALE, 72 Fremont St., Springfield, Mass.

Liars No Longer Safe, for New Machine Discloses Every Falsehood Uttered

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND FOLEY & BURKE CARNIVAL

Large crowds have nightly attended the Foley & Burk Combined Shows, which opened a week's engagement here Monday night and every afternoon when only the riding contrivances are in operation many children accompanied by their parents have visited the grounds on Front street, just north of the Big Pine Lumber company. The carnival opens at 7 o'clock nightly and at 2 in the afternoon for the riding vehicles.

The brilliantly illuminated show grounds with the thousands of small lights, carnival atmosphere and holiday spirit is the nightly mecca for a large part of the population of the city and valley. The Foley & Burk attraction, always good, is this year better than in previous years with a number of new big features. Visitors can find most any kind they desire among the wide variety of amusements, but few specialize and the majority take in the whole "shooting match."

The biggest educational thing and amusement show is the horse, pony, monkey and dog show, where the animals go through stunts with almost human intelligence. The leading star is Trixie, the educated horse, which adds and subtracts, picks out colors, gives imitations of society ladies and even names the colors of flowers or garments worn by women in the audience. Then there is Yuma, the fire fighting horse, which rescues a baby from a burning building and does other stunts, and the wonderful dogs, ponies and monkeys, who go through various acts.

It is also an education to see Adam, the huge python snake, 28 feet long and weighing 300 pounds, and to hear the lecture on this reptile by the enormous fat woman, "The Lobster Boy," Clyde Runble, four years old, in a perfectly normal and lovable youth, except that his hands and feet are strangely deformed and resemble the claws of a lobster. He is one of the big attractions on the grounds. Then, there is the Hawaiian village, the laughing and entertaining Monkey Town Hotel, operated by monkeys, and the Bug House, mostly by women gives one a new kind of kick and sensation, the gypsy fortune telling booth and many others, including the usual kind where you can try out your luck.

In the pleasure riding contrivances the new ones to Medford are the seaplane and the whip, which provide a new kind of sensation and are very popular. The old stand-bys, the Ferris wheel and the merry-go-round are also crowded with riders all the time.

ATHENS.—The Greek newspapers found much diversion in the arrival here by airplane of young William B. Leeds, son of Princess Anastasia. They are calling the youth, who is soon to marry Princess Xenia, the 17-year-old daughter of King Constantine's sister Marie, "Sir William Leeds," and it has been suggested that the king may confer a dukedom on him in return for the fortune he may inherit.

References are being made to him in the newspapers as "the Duke of Piraeus" and "the Prince of Leeds." "We hope," says a humorous writer in the Athenian, "that the young prince will dispose of his millions as charitably as his mother. It is a wonderful thing to be a prince or a duke, but it is better to be a millionaire. Let us hope that the national assembly, with its usual liberal opinions, will vote a bill by which Mr. Leeds will become an official Prince of Greece, but only on condition that he gives us all his money."

NEW YORK, May 25.—Successful lying will soon be a lost art. The latest achievement of science is a machine which is said to be infallible in detecting a lie.

William Molton Marston, Boston lawyer-scientist, is the inventor of the psychological lie-detector.

The principal benefit to civilization of his machine will be its faculty of detecting untruths in criminal cases.

Mr. Marston, who is a member of the Harvard university faculty, claims no supernatural powers for the instrument, which is known as the sphygmomanometer, but points out that in every case where the test was applied in court cases the machine unerringly detected statements that were false.

"The whole secret," declared Mr. Marston, "lies in the scientific fact that any person telling an untruth experiences an emotion which absolutely affects the blood pressure and breathing. The effort to make what is untrue appear true causes an exertion which can be definitely traced by means of the stethoscope.

"The simplicity of the apparatus and method of the test are its first recommendations for practical use. The instrument is attached to the left arm above the elbow of the subject. The operator takes frequent pressures, while the subject is being cross-examined."

The sphygmomanometer, which is operated by electricity, resembles vaguely the apparatus with which blood pressure is taken and is part of the development of the scientific detection of crime, inaugurated at Harvard Laboratory under Professor Hugo Munsterberg in 1915.

MRS. L. GEORGE RIVALS HUSBAND AS CAMPAIGNER

LONDON, May 27.—Mrs. David Lloyd George, wife of the British Premier, prides herself on the personal management of her home at No. 19 Downing street, but she can also make a political speech with telling effect.

Few by-elections of recent date have failed to lure her, and her aggressive campaign activities have furnished interesting copy for the newspapers of all shades.

Not only has she campaigned in Wales, the bailiwick of the Lloyd Georges, but she has invaded opposition territory uninvited by the hostile gestures of strong labor sections.

Perhaps her greatest personal triumph was her tour of the Bedford district where a hard fight was waged between Coalition-Liberal and Labor candidates. She was acclaimed everywhere.

The labor party sent cars and speakers in her wake, but they had a chilly reception. At Elstow, the birthplace of John Bunyan, Mrs. Lloyd George received a gift of a copy of "Pilgrim's Progress."

School children at Willington gave her a huge lock, emblematic of Wales, and she promised to boil it for her husband on election day.

The tour was completed by a visit at Willden to a father one hundred years old and his son, aged 81, both staunch Liberals and now supporters of the coalition.

Husband and Wife Both Sick
Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Comer, Shenandoah, Va., were both ill. He writes: "Rheumatism and bladder trouble was our trouble. My wife had rheumatism in her arms so she could not use them. She has had no trouble since taking Foley Kidney Pills. I don't have to get up at night so much since taking Foley Kidney Pills, nor have I a weak back." Backache, sore, swollen or stiff muscles or joints, tired languid feeling—yield quickly to Foley Kidney Pills. Sold everywhere. Adv.

B. BOWERS ESTATE DIVIDED BETWEEN FOUR CHILDREN

The will of Benton Bowers, prominent southern Oregon pioneer and citizen of Ashland who died last Sunday was filed in the county court Wednesday afternoon by Briggs and Briggs, attorneys of Ashland. The value of the property is not stated in the will. A son, Martin Bowers, is named executor without bonds.

To Martha J. Frederiek, a sister, the sum of $20 a month is bequeathed as "long as she shall live," to be paid monthly.

To Mildred A. Bowers, wife of the deceased, $1000 is bequeathed, "to be paid as soon as possible after my decease." The will continues: "The reason I do not make a greater bequest to my said wife is because I do not think she has treated me in a manner a wife should treat a husband, and, furthermore, that I have, heretofore, paid her large sums of money, in gifts and otherwise, and which I consider a due proportion of my property."

Mr. and Mrs. Bowers were recently divorced.

The residue of the estate after the above bequests are made is divided "share and share alike," between the four children of the deceased, Martin D. Bowers, Benton Bowers, Jr., James Bowers, and Raymond S. Bowers, with the provision that if any of the children "shall die without issue," the share shall be apportioned among the surviving brothers and half-brothers.

The will was drawn up October 1, 1919, and the wealth of Benton Bowers was generally placed at between $150,000 and $200,000.
