

ENDLETON WOMAN WOULD GO FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE

"I wish I could go from house to house and tell everybody what I know about Tanlac," said Mrs. Minda Endleton, 514 Market street, Pendleton. "About two years ago," she continued, "I had an attack of the 'flu' at left me in a badly run-down condition. I could eat little more and was so weak I couldn't even sweep the floor. I was very nervous. Never slept well and was so discouraged I hardly knew what to do. Then, too, I suffered terribly from neuritis in my face and it often swelled awfully and turned dark purple. "Finally, one of my friends got me to try Tanlac and I certainly feel grateful to her, for there were many times while I was sick, when I would have given a thousand dollars for something to help me. Well, Tanlac has certainly made quick work of my troubles, for now I feel fine appetite, sleep well and feel all in every way, and I never have an attack of neuritis, or whatever my trouble was I had in my face. Tanlac certainly deserves every bit of the praise being given it."

JITNEY DRIVER OF GRANTS PASS CAR HELD UNDER BOND

GRANTS PASS, May 30.—That the wreck Wednesday of the Grants Pass and Medford auto bus two miles south of here was due to careless driving at a rate of speed unlawful in the state, was a verdict returned by the coroner's jury, at an inquest held at 2 o'clock Friday in the court room of the Josephine county courthouse. L. B. Hall was deputized by the coroner, Dr. S. Loughridge, to head the inquest. Conflicting testimony was introduced, witnesses swearing to rates of speed of from 35 to 45 miles per hour. The driver, who was not called for testimony, had stated earlier that the car was making 27 miles an hour when the cow was sighted. Previews to the hearing, a warrant had been sworn out for the arrest of the driver, Cecil Jennings, of Medford, and his bonds fixed at $250. The matter has been bound over to the justice court and a hearing will be held on Thursday, June 2. In the event that the principal witness, Mrs. Clyde Harper, of this city, is sufficiently recovered to attend the trial.

SUPT. SMITH SAYS CONSTRUCTION NEW H. S. IS IMPERATIVE

In his brief address at the high school commencement last Friday night, Aubrey Smith, superintendent of schools, recommended that Medford build a new modern high school building, in order to relieve the present congestion in the schools which will become worse because of the city's ever-increasing growth. He also recommended the establishment of a junior college and stated that the board of education was discussing the floating of a bond issue in order to provide a new high school building, Supt. Smith's address which was of much interest to the school patrons and taxpayers generally, was in part, as follows: "We appreciate the presence here tonight of so many people interested in public education and in this class now about to be graduated. "Our year's work among you has been a delightful one. No year of many spent in school work has been more enjoyable. There have been difficulties, some misunderstandings with resultant friction, and worries, but the agreeable things have greatly overshadowed the unpleasant ones. Personally, I wish to thank you for your loyal co-operation and support. It is only by such united action that we can best advance the interests of the school. "I further wish to praise the patience of many parents who bore gently with us when circumstances have caused us to place seeming handicaps upon them. We have made mistakes, but it has always been our policy to do our best to correct them when possible. We have endeavored to give as little offense as may be in accord with progress. "It is essential that the friends of free public education should stand together. In every community there are some who would hinder the development of the schools. Because of this ever-present handicap it is essential that patrons and supporters of schools should avoid dissensions among themselves. The best way to bring about harmonious action usually is to encourage frank and open discussion when differences arise. "Proposes New High School. "Among the problems now pressing in the schools of Medford is that of housing. At present three of our schools are full to overflowing. It is just as serious in the high school as it is in the two central grade buildings, but less apparent to an outside observer. "Many solutions have been offered, but the only adequate one proposed is the construction of a new high school building. The recent increase in enumeration and attendance and the prospective further increase which is at our doors because of the additions to our local industries, makes it apparent that this must be done at a comparatively early date. "This action would not only provide an adequate, modern, up-to-date and well-equipped plant for the high school proper, but should make provision for a junior college. The present high school building then might be used to house a well organized junior high school, the most important recent development in education. We have the nuclei for this in our present departmentalized work at Washington and Lincoln schools, bringing these together in the one building would relieve these grade buildings. There would be room for additional grade teachers there and perhaps we could introduce a free public kindergarten in at least one of these buildings. "We cannot have all these things at once. They must be added only as we can afford them. A start has been made. This year the officers of the district have refrained from repeated needless expenditures in order that the finances may be put into such shape that the floating of the bond issue, which would be necessary for a new building, might be done in the not distant future without unduly straining the credit of the district. "May we bespeak for your schools and their officers your continued interest and loyal support so that next year may be as agreeable, and that even greater progress may be made by your sons and daughters."

BULGIN DECLARES HE WAS SHADOWED ON FISHING TRIP

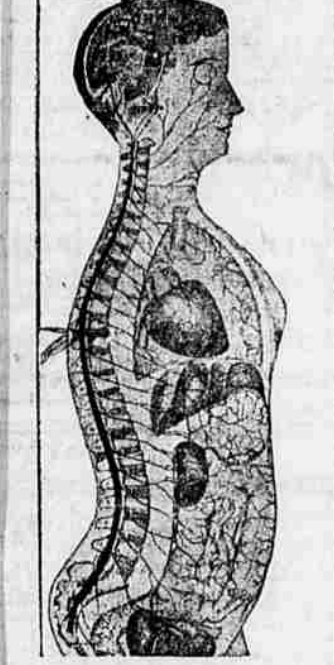

By Rev. F. R. Leach. Dr. Bulgin aroused the enthusiasm of the great audience present at the afternoon memorial service at the tabernacle Sunday when in speaking of the need of warriors today and of men who are willing to fight big evils he told how on Saturday the sheriff and chief of police spent all day in watching him while he was fishing to see if he caught a salmon in the wrong way. Bulgin said if these two officers really wanted to do something worth while that he would suggest that they clean up the bootlegging and house of ill fame on Front street. The public sentiment expressed in the afternoon and evening meeting was marked as to its feeling about law breaking and indifference in looking after the same. The G. A. R. and Women's Relief Corps attended the service in a body and were appreciative of the honors paid them, and of the splendid discourse delivered by Dr. Bulgin, who spoke on "Friendship." The speaker strongly advocated disarmament and while speaking on the same gave way to Rev. F. R. Leach who introduced a resolution calling upon our senators and congressmen to support our government in calling for a conference of the leading nations to consider the whole matter of disarmament. It passed without a dissenting vote. The man, said the speaker, who gives his life to his country gives his best. Those who died on the battlefield were in some ways better than those who have been dying for years since the war because of their physical condition. Our country is an artificial personality, which represents the collected rights of all personalities. The war taught the lesson of obedience to supreme authority. We have been going to the devil in this country because we have been doing as we please. As there is a sovereign authority, so there is a supreme power. Winning of the Civil war helped make possible the winning of the late war. There is enough glory about it for every one without doing any boasting. The war taught men to act without hesitation. When Uncle Sam said go, you went. Every old soldier ought to be a Christian, said the speaker, because he who recognized the sovereignty of the state should likewise recognize the sovereignty of God. The old soldier has more respect today for the men under the sod of the south than he has for the man who would not fight. We must help solve some of the greater problems of the day like labor and capital, and the agitator who runs down the country with no interest in it. Sunday evening the young people had a big meeting at the Christian church, when the young people of the First M. E. church served a fine lunch. An organization among the young people of the various churches was suggested. At 7 p. m. Dr. Bulgin addressed again a great audience who listened with marked interest to a strong sermon, "The Business of Life." A large number at the close showed their interest by asking for prayers of the people. Tonight Dr. Bulgin will give "Ten Reasons for Immortality," taking nine of them from outside of the bible. It should be heard by a full house. It begins at 7 p. m. Wednesday the Sunshine chorus will attend in a body, and put on a great service. Tuesday night the subject will be "Queen Esther's Plea for Her People," and will be of special interest to the Eastern Star members. This week will close the meetings and all who have not heard Dr. Bulgin will do well to be out every night.

DEMPSEY'S OLDEST BACKERS SWITCH TO G. CARPENTIER

By Tad. (Written for International News Service.) Two of the greatest boosters that Jack Dempsey ever had, have lately switched and gone over to the side of Georges Carpentier. Jack Curley was the first man that the writer ever heard boast the present champion. That was some years ago. We were standing on the corner of Broadway and Forty-second street, and Jack was quite hopped up on Dempsey. "You never saw a fighter like him in your life," said Curley, who had just seen Dempsey beat Carl Morris in Buffalo. "You'll admit that I've seen some good ones, won't you?" piped Jack. "Well, I never saw one like Dempsey. You can't stop him and he can hit the way dynamite bucks. He took my Carl Morris and almost killed him. Morris didn't budge him and he hit Dempsey with everything he had. This fellow will knock Fulton out before the sixth round if they ever fight." The writer at that time had never seen Dempsey, but was a great believer in Fulton, and right there let Mr. Curley a new $15 skimmer on Fulton if ever a Dempsey-Fulton match came off. Jack won in a punch. Well, so much for that. Yesterday we ran across Mr. Curley in Great Neck and asked him about the coming fight. "Put me down for Carpentier," said Jack with a grin. "I know I used to like Dempsey. I liked him a lot, but when a better man comes along my money goes with him. Carpentier will startle the world the day he meets Dempsey. There'll be a new champion. "Yes, for the first time in the history of boxing a foreigner will be the heavyweight champion of the world." Hark to Mr. Brady. Now we turn the page over and come to William A. Brady. You will remember that Mr. Brady was manager of Jim Corbett when James beat Sullivan. He took the short end on that fight and cleaned up. At Toledo he took the Dempsey end against Willard and raked in once more. He figured Dempsey a cinch and his money said so, too. But now, right now, he has left the champion flat and gone to the side of the Frenchman. Says Mr. Brady: "Dempsey isn't the man he was when he beat Willard at Toledo. He has had but two fights in two years and that is not enough. He has slowed up considerably. He showed that in his battle with Brennan at Madison Square Garden. He wasn't one-third the man that night that he was in Toledo. He has never met a really good man and never faced one the equal of Carpentier. The Frenchman will beat him just as Corbett beat Sullivan. He's too fast and knows much more about fighting than the heavy hitting Dempsey. Carpentier is the greatest glove man since the days of Corbett."

Up With the Napkins, Boys, Here Comes the Soup

A western exchange prints the following: "The Pons-Winnecke comet will be within 'speaking' distance of San Francisco on June 7, it was announced today by Director A. O. Leuschner of the Students' Observatory of the University of California. At that time, says Sauschner, the comet will be only 12,000,000 miles from the earth, and is at present 37,000,000 miles away. Astronomers say that on June 27 inhabitants of the earth may expect a meteoric shower. Then five days later we'll see a leather shower at Rickard's party in Jersey City. Nine vice presidents have become presidents of the United States.

Stops Medicine—Health Recovered by Internal Baths

Mr. A. Czarniecki, 657 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal., writes Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute of New York as follows: "I must admit that the use of the 'J. B. L. Cascade' has cured chronic constipation from which I suffered. Since May 12, 1913, I have never even tasted any kind of patent medicine or purgative. My health is excellent in every respect. "Over half a million bright, keen, intelligent Americans have found that Internal Bathing is more essential to their health than external baths—Have found that used occasionally at night they feel like different people the next morning. No more of that bilious, tired, nervous feeling, but having by nature's own cleanser—antiseptic warm water—removed all the poisonous waste from the lower intestine, they awake thoroughly refreshed by normal sleep, with all their functions acting properly, clear headed, happy and confident, eager and capable for the duties of the day. "Why not learn more about this rapidly growing and natural practice? The 'J. B. L. Cascade' is the invention of Chas. A. Tyrrell, M.D., of New York, a specialist on internal baths for 25 years, and is now being shown and explained by West Side Pharmacy, Main and Grape Sts., who will give you—free on request—an interesting booklet on the subject, called "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 per cent Efficient."
