

LAW AND ORDER LEAGUE FOLLOWS BULGIN REVIVAL

By Rev. F. R. Leach.
The tabernacle was well filled last night with an interested audience, who came out to hear Dr. Bulgin's discourse on Moses. It was announced that tonight the subject would be "The Philosophy of Faith," and Saturday night "Sweethearts." Sunday there will be three meetings at 10:30 a. m., 2:20 and 7:00 p. m.

Rev. Conder called attention before the sermon to the current reports being circulated by the sheriff, especially as to Dr. Bulgin. These lies are sent to the cities to hurt Dr. Bulgin in his work. They are sent out by men whose business is shown up to their disadvantage. The same tactics are used when Billy Sunday comes to a community. If any person really desires to get the facts they can go to Dr. Bulgin himself, who will freely give all information wanted. The pastors and churches of Medford are unanimous in their commendation of Dr. Bulgin and party as to their work and standing as evangelists, and feel that Medford has never had a stronger team of Christian workers as helpers. A clean up in the community life of a city invariably calls for fire. A Law and Order League will be organized as a result of aroused sentiment, which is growing as time advances.

The discourse last night was one of the strongest yet given and greatly appreciated by all who heard it. Each age, said the speaker, has had its wave of destructive criticism, but the old book is still here. No exact scientist believes today in materialistic philosophy. That something hit this world and was not of it was certain when Christ came. That Christ was not a product of evolution is shown in that it has never produced another Christ. If men desire to know the origin of Christianity let them take the strand of the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. None but the Christian religion has any prophecy, as God is back of the Christian faith. It is possible to take 200 prophecies in the Bible and show that they have been fulfilled.

Moses has been dead 4,000 years and some man writes about his mistakes. No one will write about our mistakes 4,000 years from now. Moses must have been a great man to have this done. Moses was a great prophet and a great teacher. The world was in darkness as to monotheism before Moses came. As a general Moses also shows his remarkable ability in the leadership displayed in leading 3,000,000 people for 40 years through the wilderness. Nothing compares with it in modern history. As a legislator he stands without a parallel. Follow Moses and there will be no divorce courts, nor any labor question. No land monopoly would be possible, as every 20 years Moses had a redistribution of land. Many of the vexing problems of the day would find a solution in the teachings of Moses. Moses had his ten points, and put them all over, while Wilson had his 14 points and failed on all of them. It is interesting to study Moses as a doctor. Eat what Moses directed and refrain from the things he pointed out and men would be better of physically. Medical science confirms the principles laid down by Moses. Many ideas recently given to the world were taught by Moses 4,000 years ago. The best argument for an inspired Bible is the Jew. They are a wonderful race. The sermon made a stern impression on every thinking person who heard it.

BANK ROBBERS FOUND GUILTY

and met the sheriff of Tillamook county. I was released. The sheriff said: "The law has made a mistake; you're not the man." A bank book showing deposits made by Strauff in a Wyoming bank was presented. H. C. Foster, an ex-convict testified that Kodat and Strauff had told him of a plot to rob the bank, and had asked him to help. Foster "tipped" off the sheriff. "Foster was a trusty at Salem, and I was on the 'inside,' and men on the 'inside' don't have much to do with trusties," commented Strauff. He denied that he had ever been in Gold Hill except once, when he and Kodat were looking for work, and that he called Foster to one side, "for fear he would haul me out for being an ex-convict."

Witness is Facetious
W. C. Wise, a garage man of Gold Hill, and on guard in the bank on the night of the attempted robbery was a semi-humorous witness, and was glib in his answers. Attorney Blanchard for the defense, shook his testimony. Wise testified at the preliminary hearing that "he didn't know whether it was a white man or a Chinaman that came into the back door of the bank," but identified Strauff as the man yesterday, and said Kodat bore a resemblance to the other. This discrepancy was stressed by the defense. Wise recited the shooting of a chair in detail. The lights and shadows in the bank were the subject of a spirited cross examination. Lynn Smith, cashier of the bank, testified it was "dark in the bank," but Wise thought it was light. Attorney Briggs characterized Wise's attitude as "smart aleck."

Asked what he had done after the shooting, Wise replied facetiously, "I went back to bed to wait for morning." He admitted that he made no investigation after the shooting, but that he had a vivid recollection of the affair. E. W. Strauff wired that he could not arrive until Friday morning to testify as to the good character of Strauff. Attorney O. S. Blanchard and the state agreed that Mr. Wright would testify that Strauff was "honest and industrious" while in his employe.

TOROKA, Kas., June 3.—Charges that union men are being laid off by the Santa Fe railroad system in an effort to replace them with non-union workers were made in a telegram sent today to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor by W. The Screen

"The Old Swimmin' Hole"
"How pleasant was the journey down the old dusty lane, where the tracks of our bare feet were all printed so plain. You could tell by the dent of the heel and the sore, there was lots of fun on hand at the old swimmin' hole." So sang the poet James Whitcomb Riley and now Charles Ray has caught the haunting lilt and transferred it to the screen.

In "The Old Swimmin' Hole," now on the screen at the Page theatre, Charles Ray, that master of rustic roles, imparts a naturalness to that of Ezra, the mischievous boy, which makes you forget that you are a spec-

WAR PREVENTION TO BE TOPIC AT PHOENIX CHURCH

Will a large army and navy keep the United States out of war? If not, what is our best preventive of future war? Should we reduce our present armament? These and closely related questions will be discussed at the Phoenix church, Sunday, June 5, by the pastor, in the morning sermon. Special music.

Sunday, June 5th, being the closing day of the tabernacle meetings at Medford, with services at the tabernacle both afternoon and evening, the Phoenix church will not resume its evening services until June 12th. Phoenix people are especially invited to attend the closing meetings of the tabernacle campaign at Medford, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, as announced in another column.

tator. It lifts you out of yourself so completely that once again you are re-creating the scenes of your own childhood and are wending your way through the meadows of memory. Seldom does a picture so delight one as does this. There are laughs aplenty and an occasional tear and that choky feeling that only the art of the true artist can create.

New Curwood Film

One of the interesting events for lovers of the photoplay of the season is occurring at the Rialto theatre, where James Oliver Curwood's latest story of the Northland, "Isobel, or The Trail's End," is playing. This film drama is a product of the directorial talent of Edwin Carewe, and is presented with a cast which features House Peters and charming Jane Novak.

Of all the Curwood stories, it has been acknowledged that none has the breadth and human appeal of his famous novel, "Isobel," from which this interesting epic of a Northland romance was adapted. Those who have read this volume will find that the photoplay version adheres closely to the lines of action and character portrayal as laid down by the author.

Quarreled Since Wedding Day

"My stomach and liver trouble made a regular grouch of me. I was sore at everyone, including my wife, and we quarreled every day since the wedding. She is a dear little girl and I know it was my fault. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy was recommended for my stomach trouble, and since taking it I have felt like a new man. My wife and I now get along beautifully." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis.
