CAPITAL BLAMED FOR CHIEF WASTE BY HOOVER BOARD

ST. LOUIS, June 3.—Responsibility for more than fifty per cent of the waste in industrial processes which is causing enormous annual losses to the nation, can be placed at the door of the management and less than 25 per cent at the door of labor, declared a report of the American engineering council's committee on elimination of waste in industry made public today.

The report showed that the margin of unemployment amounted to more than a million men; that billions of dollars were tied up in idle equipment; that high labor turnover was a rough index of one of the commonest wastes, and that waste of time and energy and money through duplications and estimates and bids in building trades ran into millions annually.

Both employer and employee restrict output, it was said. Both capital and labor are blamed for existing abuses, but the annual losses through waste by conflicts between employers and employees form much less loss than was supposed.

After emphasizing the need of reform and improvement in plan management and administrative policies, the report urged the cooperation of labor.

"Organized labor should develop a policy for increasing output," it was stated. "The attitude of opposition or indifference to proper standards for production should be changed to a frank and aggressive insistence upon such standards."

HONOLULU, T. H.—A Pan-Pacific League of Nations, with Honolulu as the capital of the league, as recently advocated by Professor Walter B. Pitkin of Columbia university, is a subject which has been informally discussed between officials of the Pan-Pacific union, whose headquarters are in Honolulu, and several premiers of Pacific lands, according to Alexander Hume Ford, secretary director of the union.

Last year, said Secretary-Director Ford, both Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Franklin K. Lane, then secretary of the interior, advocated a Pan-Pacific league of nations.

It has been suggested by some of the Pacific premiers who have passed through Honolulu that the Pan-Pacific union, of which all of them are officers, should take up the project of the Pan-Pacific league and Mr. Ford, who recently left for the national capital, expects to confer on tentative plans along this line with officials there.

The Lure of Medford

The purchase of a big stumpage of timber in the Crater Lake reserve, the proposed extension of the Pacific & Eastern railroad into the tract and the early activity to be ushered in by the manufacture of the logs into lumber at Medford has added vigor to business conditions in the southern Oregon metropolis. Medford has had a few lean years. The fruit industry was one activity that profited little from the war. There was a long wait for newly planted orchards to come into bearing. Many enterprises were for a time in the process of waiting for the real start to begin.

It is Medford's new day now. The big irrigation project is in the full swing of construction. Water will be on the lands for next season's crop. It will double or treble the production in the watered area. This increase, along with the heavier volume of fruit output and the new milling industry, will greatly accelerate the movement for a greater Medford, already well begun.

It is a city with characteristics all its own. It is comparatively new as a city. Oregon cities, which means that the ancient shacks and buildings present in some Oregon cities are conspicuous by their absence.
