Mrs. Williams Tells How
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her
in Health

Overpeck, O.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me both before and after my baby was born. I suffered with backache, headache, was generally run down and weak. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and decided to try it. Now I feel fine, take care of my two boys and do my own work. I recommend your medicine to anyone who is ailing. You may publish my testimony if you think it will help others."—Mrs. CARRIE WILLIAMS, Overpeck, Ohio.

CONSTANTINOPLE IS SCENE WILD SPORTING LIFE

Cockroach Races One of the Latest Events to Thrill Turkish Capital—Russians Introduce Bathing in the Altogether.

CONSTANTINOPLE—Betting on cockroach races is one of the newest sports here. It was introduced by a Russian who has just opened a hall, where a man who wishes some real excitement for his money can get results.

The hall is darkened at the moment the race is to begin. Then a single electric light, at the end of a runway is turned on, and the cockroaches, each in a separate track, are let loose from their cages to race for the light. More real, old-fashioned, non-professional sport may be had here than in any other city of Europe. This is due in part to the allied troops of occupation, to the American officers and sailors on station here, and the large number of American and British civilians who have come out for business since the armistice.

What the Russian refugees have done in the way of enlivening the city with concerts, dancing places and queer restaurants, the other allied allies have done in sporting lines. In winter there is wild bear, duck and fox hunting. There is also, in and out of season, plenty of horseback riding over the dirt roads and unfenced stretches of upland country on both sides of the Bosphorus. Horse races are often held.

Both the British and the Americans have laid out golf courses. There are also a few tennis courts. The troops and sailors within the city have taken charge of a large field near Taxim, in the center of Pera and there play football and baseball matches. Yachting and swimming are commonplace sports open to all.

The Russians from the Black Sea, who are accustomed to bathe naked, have increased the popularity of the beaches, especially a fine strip of sand on the Marmora north shore, known as Florida. There, without let or hindrance, men, women and children, undress on the open beach and bathe in costumes that seem quite conventional here.

The Turks have contributed chicken fights to the international sports.

Local Briefs

The musical comedy "Mary," which delighted a large and very appreciative audience at the Page last night, lived up to its advance notices and the friendly tip that Al Johnson last week gave not to miss it. The large company had a pleasing personnel through out, was very full of ginger, strove hard and successfully to please, had good scenic effects and costumes, good music, good voices and very clever dancing. And best of all while the performance was fast and full of pep it was exceptionally clean.

Peter Strauff and Frank Kodat, found guilty last Friday of burglary of the Gold Hill bank will come up for sentence before Judge F. M. Callins Wednesday morning. It is expected that an appeal will be taken in their case.

Dancing at Nat tomorrow night. Splendid music. A good time. Admission 10c.

Twenty-two members of the Colvig family, well known pioneers of Ashland and vicinity, held a family reunion picnic at Savage Rapids on the Rogue river yesterday. The oldest member of the family was Volney Colvig, 80 years old. The patriarchs were Volney Colvig, George Colvig and William M. Colvig, all of whom crossed the plains in 1851. Judge Volney Colvig was represented at the gathering by the following members of his family: Mrs. G. V. Gillett and son George Virgil, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Sanford and Helen Colvig. Geo. W. Colvig had as his representative, Dr. and Mrs. Bertram H. Stone of San Francisco, and Mrs. Geo. W. Colvig, Miss Rowen Galt had the distinction of representing her grandfather, Wm. M. Colvig, other members of his family being away on their vacation.—Ashland Tidings.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Evans and daughter left Monday for Seattle, Mrs. Evans and daughter to spend the summer. Mr. Evans will return in about three weeks.

Mrs. John E. McDonald of Trail left the city this morning for Portland where she will take in the Rose festival doings.

Perhaps it is not too late yet for you to vote. The polls will be open until 8 p. m.

A change in the personnel of the sheriff's office was effected this week, when Miss Flora Thompson and Joe McMahon severed their connections as deputies. Miss Thompson has been employed at the court house for more than ten years and the latter has served efficiently for two years.—Jacksonville Post.

There will be a Y. W. C. A. picnic for all business girls Friday evening. A man giving his name as Jerry Lewis who was arrested Saturday night by Patrolman Hemstreet on the charge of having a pint bottle partly filled with booze in his possession and who put up $25 cash bail for his appearance in police court forfeited that bail by failure to appear.

The strawberries are now coming on so fast that the season is approaching its height. The price has fallen and it is claimed that now is the time to can. There was a big supply in the city today, and at the public market the berries sold for 8, 10 and 12 cents a box, according to the size of the berries, and for $1.20, $1.50 and $1.75 per case.

The Levitt, Brown, Huggins combined shows, which appear in Grants Pass the rest of this week, passed through the city on its special train of 25 cars this forenoon, enroute from Chico to Grants Pass.

Claus Charley left the city this morning for Portland to attend the Rose festival.

Attorney William Briggs of Ashland states that the estate of Benton Bowers is rated at being about $50,000, and not $200,000 as generally credited. An appraisal of the estate is now being made.—Ashland Tidings.

The scheduled meeting of the city council for tonight has been postponed until Wednesday night because of the election today.

EAST FREIGHT RATE ON APPLES IS REDUCED

J. A. Nott, traveling freight agent of the Union Pacific system, this morning, received the following telegram from H. E. Lounsbury, general freight agent, with headquarters at Portland, as follows:

"Portland, Ore., June 7, 1921.
"J. A. Nott,
"Hotel Holland, Medford, Ore.
"It is proposed to establish the following reduced rates for carload shipments of vegetables, melons and apples, viz: rate of one dollar seventy five cents per hundred pounds on vegetables and melons, including cantaloupes, effective at earliest possible date from Pacific Coast terminals and intermediate points to destinations east of Chicago and Mississippi river, also rate of one dollar fifty cents per hundred pounds on apples without stopping in transit. Privilege effective September first from Pacific Coast points to eastern defined territories, which includes Colorado common points and practically all points east thereto to Atlantic seaboard inclusive. Advise all interested."
"H. E. LOUNSBURY."

The above new rates would be beneficial to the Rogue River valley only on apples and is a reduction of 10 and one-half cents from the present rate of $1.66 and one-half cents per hundred, and will mean a large saving to local orchardists. The present freight rate on pears is $2.08 per hundred. A large percentage of local grown apples is shipped over the Union Pacific and the new rates will not entail new routings.

Mr. Nott is the new freight representative of the Union Pacific in this district, on his first trip, and plans during the fruit shipping season to be in this city.

YAKIMA, June 7.—Rail rate reductions on fruit, announced last night will save the Yakima fruit growers over a quarter of a million in moving the 1921 crop, according to the best estimates available here. It is stated that 40 per cent of the Yakima apples are moved into the zone on which a reduction of 8 1/4 cents a box is allowed.

FLOOD THREATENS DENVER (Continued from Page One)

The outstanding feature of the Pueblo flood disaster is the utter absence of discouraged grief. A man who witnessed the great flood at Galveston contrasted the situation here with that in the Texas city where crowds of refugees sat about in groups, weeping.

Papers Are Issued. FIVE ELEMENTS OF DANGER (Continued From Page One)

that we cannot continue indefinitely to use them for a punching bag, or door mat. If we go on there will be retaliation and nobody can foresee what may be the results of that.

What hurts is the idea that the Japanese have been discriminated against. If all aliens had been debarred from land buying the Japanese would have had no feeling in the matter. But the discrimination has prepared a certain soil of irritation for the Jingo and the anti-American press and of that sowing we must expect some fruitage.

Rise of Popular Power.
But all those things that make for trouble, take them at their worst, are overshadowed by the great central fact of the steady rise of the Japanese people to power upon their own government and the steady increase among them of feeling against war.

The militarist element may control the parliament, but the inevitable day is almost in sight when there will be no control except that of the people. Slowly but unmistakably the masses become more restless and less concerned as to the way they show their dissatisfaction.

Indeed the change they have already wrought is astonishing to those who know the Japan of other times. The old superstitious reverence for the Mikado has died out so rapidly the most reactionary observer is now compelled to admit it is gone. Ten or twelve years ago the government was hanging men that held radical views about politics and social relations. Today such men nominate their candidates for parliament and by the thousands parade the streets with banners before bearing declarations of an astonishing radicalism. What the government called "race riots" in 1920 were nothing but manifestations of the same spirit. At one time they looked exceedingly grave.

Strikes Multiply.
Meantime, strikes multiply and always become more serious.

At Kobe last summer there was a strike against a great shipping firm. A report got abroad that the firm, for purposes of safety had put its books and papers into the safe of a neighboring hotel and compelled the proprietor to open his safe and exhibit all its contents.

Finally I offer this table of the parliamentary elections in Japan for the last twenty years:

Year	Number of Electors	Number of Franchise holders to one member	Franchise holders to 100 pop.
1899	467,887	1559	11.43
1903	951,860	2532	20.91
1904	757,788	1999	16.43
1908	1,582,676	4176	32.89
1912	1,598,659	3947	29.24
1915	1,546,341	4059	28.81
1917	1,422,118	3737	25.75

The percentage has varied as the voter's qualifications have been changed, but observe the total increase.

And now there is the growing agitation for manhood suffrage and the sudden and ominous manifestations of political interest among women.
