MEN LESS VAIN, MORE HUMOROUS THAN ARE WOMEN

(By International News Service) BOSTON, June 13.—Women are more emotional, more impulsive, more temperate, more religious, more patient than men. They have more vanity, more shyness, less temper, less independence, less self-consciousness and less humor. These are the words of Professor Thorndyke, accredited a sage among psychologists. A statement embodying the above ideas is hung in the surgeon's room of the First Army Corps headquarters in Chauncy street. With it hangs the following table, the result of hundreds of psychological examinations:

Table comparing Men and Women on various traits like Emotion, Temperance, Impulsiveness, Religiousness, Patience, Vanity, Shyness, Temper, Self-consciousness, Humor, and Independence.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

In my wanderings around town last Wednesday afternoon Frank Lewis, our confectionary man called my attention to a book he held in his hand, and it proved to be a day book that was used in the old Butte Creek flouring mills forty-seven years ago when it belonged to the firm of Emery and Dailey. It contained the names of a great many, in fact almost all of the old settlers in this and surrounding neighborhoods, for at that time it was about all the grist mill near here and the farmers would come in from Sams Valley and the country around here Medford and Central Point are now situated, bringing in their wheat and exchange it for flour. At that time the rule was to have the miller take out one-eighth of the wheat for tote and the farmer would then take home with him, if he had good clean wheat, from thirty-eight to forty pounds of flour beside all the bran and shorts and the screenings. But it was but a short time before the millers adopted a different plan and instead of taking out one-eighth they would take all of the flour except thirty-five pounds and give the farmer a certain part of the mill feed they called it, that was the bran and shorts all run together, and finally they adopted the plan of taking all of the wheat and giving the farmer thirty-five pounds of flour for a bushel of wheat. At the time referred to I have seen the road blocked with wagons and teams for an hour at a time, for people coming in from, say Sams Valley via the Bybee bridge would often be at the mill by 4 o'clock in the morning in order to be unloaded and get back home so they could load up again that night.

The reader will bear in mind that all of the wheat had to be run through a screen and a small one at that, and all of the cracked wheat and other seeds taken out before it was weighed, and it would sometimes take several hours to run a load of say a hundred bushels through the screen and consequently those living at a distance had to move early to get home the same day. Our election passed off very quietly as there were only about one hundred votes cast and the vote for the bonus carried 56 to 41, the legislation bill was defeated by 23 to 74. The Emergency Clause amendment lost by 41 to 52. Marriage license lost by 31 to 58 and the women jury bill lost by 25 to 61. So the reader will see that a majority of the voters in this precinct seem to think that it is better to let the Portland clique that seems to govern the legislature, fix up their little schemes, and some of them are not so very little and attack the emergency clause, and thus take it out of the hands of the people rather than give the governor power to veto that clause or part of the bill that they, the clique was afraid to submit to a vote of the people.

Fritz Peck and his mother, Mrs. Maggie Peck of Lake Creek, passed through here on their way to Medford, returning the next morning and going up home on the stage. R. W. Paul of the Electric store, Medford, was out here Wednesday evening for supper. He was out trying to secure signers to a petition to have the county call another election to vote to raise $37,000 to build houses, etc. on the fair grounds, an additional expense to the taxpayers for the benefit of a few interested Medfordites. He met with little encouragement out here for the country people are already tired of paying such heavy taxes. Rev. J. F. Dritson requests me to say that he will preach here on Sunday, June 19, at the close of the Sunday school. W. M. Jenks, salesman for W. K. Tarkland Co., was here for dinner Wednesday. Mr. Helms of Prospect, came out early Thursday bringing the mail from there and went direct to the garage to have work done on his car. He brought out Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Price of Portland and they called a taxi from Medford to take them in to Medford. There seems to be a great deal of travel on the stages just now and many of them are strangers looking over the country. Mr. Heckner, the official squirrel poisoner, passed through here Thursday on his way to the hills with squirrel poison. Pete Young, one of our prosperous farmers, came in Thursday and left his auto at the W. L. Childers soap to have it overhauled. C. H. Pierce drove in in a one-horse buggy Thursday. He was trying to secure more members for the Farm Bureau. We had our full quota of civil engineers here for dinner Thursday, there was K. E. Hodgson, deputy state engineer, Herbert Nunn, C. C. Kelly and Will Jay and N. J. Drew, who said he was not a civil engineer, and R. W. Rea, a civil engineer for the Medford Ditch Co. And we had besides them James Owen and Victor Bursell, the county commissioners, and five strangers whose names I failed to secure. The L. C. C. of Eagle Point met Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. H. Brown on June 9th and there were about the usual number of ladies in attendance, although a few of those who have attended the previous meetings were absent. Mrs. W. H. Brown and Mrs. S. A. Van Hardenberg were the hostesses. The next meeting will be on Thursday, June 23, at the home of Mrs. M. L. Pruett. As Mrs. Pruett lives some three miles out in the country the arrangement was made for those who have cars to meet at the postoffice at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and take any who wished to attend the meeting out and back; a fine arrangement. Will tell later who will serve as hostesses. Mrs. M. L. Pruett and her daughter, Mrs. Thos. Stanley, were business callers. Mrs. Merritt and son were trading here Friday. Mrs. J. W. McKissick and her aunt, Miss Margaret Prillaman and Mrs. S. A. Van Hardenberg and daughter motored to Medford Friday. R. C. Farrier and wife were here for dinner Friday and were met here by Mrs. Farrier's sister, Miss Martha Porter, who has been teaching the Derby school, and all went up to their home on the north fork of Little Butte Lake Creek postoffice. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith, son and daughter of Portland, were also here for dinner. They had been up to McLeod visiting friends.

Notice A new law passed by the last session of legislature provides that in School Districts of the first class the Board must provide printed ballots for the election of Directors. It further provided that you have the names appearing on this ballot of candidates whose Certificates of Nomination have been signed by not less than 3 per cent, and must be at least 10 persons, of the number of qualified voters voting for school directors at the last annual election. These certificates of nomination must be filed with the Clerk at least seven days before the date of election. The parties so nominated must also file at least 5 days before the annual election, an acceptance of this nomination. This is especially interesting just now as the Annual School Election is to be held the 3rd Sunday in June, being the 20th of the month this year.
