

TAX PROBLEMS FORUM SUBJECT ON WEDNESDAY

Is there an inequitable assessment upon taxable property in Jackson county? Are taxes going to continue to increase or is there some way whereby taxable property can be made to share its just proportion and thereby lower the tax rate in the county?

These are vital questions to every citizen in Jackson county and in which all should take an active interest to attempt to solve. The county assessor J. B. Coleman, has made an extensive study of this question and he has some very pertinent suggestions to offer as a solution to the tax problem. These will be presented by him at the forum of the Medford Chamber of Commerce tomorrow noon at the Medford hotel.

On account of the importance of the question to be discussed, there should be a large attendance of members present as it may develop in an opportunity where the Chamber of Commerce can be of service to every citizen in the county by means of a reduction of the tax rate.

Troubled for Ten Years

If you suffer pains and aches during the day and sleep-disturbing weakness by night, feel tired, nervous and run down, the kidneys and bladder need to be restored to healthy and regular action. J. T. Osburn, R. F. D. No. 1, Lucasville, O., writes: "I had kidney trouble for ten years. I tried many remedies but they did me no good. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me so much that now I am well." Don't delay. Sold everywhere.

BOOZEY DRIVER OF CAR GIVEN 6 MONTHS IN JAIL

Assistant County Prosecutor George A. Coddling had a busy day in justice court at Ashland on Monday in representing the state at three hearings as a result of which two men were bound over to the grand jury.

Foremost in interest was the case of Dan Ryan, the driver of the car which ran into a ditch near Talent Sunday night, three persons being injured in the accident, who pleaded guilty to driving a car when intoxicated and was fined $100 and costs and given a sentence of six months in jail by Justice Gowdy.

Anthony Reardon, aged 21 years, and a wanderer about the country was bound over to the grand jury under $2500 bail by Justice Gowdy on the charge of grand larceny. It seems that F. F. Whittle of Ashland last Sunday left his Ford car for a few minutes standing in the railroad yards and returned just in time to see Reardon backing it out of the yards, it is alleged. Whittle went to the attack with a monkey wrench and Reardon promptly fled. Later, on complaint of Whittle he was found in the city by Chief of Police Thatcher and arrested.

A warrant has been issued by the prosecutor's office for the arrest of J. R. O'Donovan of Ashland, on the charge of larceny by bailie, it being alleged that he fled that city with a Chevrolet car which he had purchased on contract from J. J. Lewis and only partially paid for. His present whereabouts are unknown.

REACH A DEADLOCK IN JESSE WINBURN LIQUOR SHIPMENT

Unless the federal prohibition law takes precedence over the Oregon dry law, and to the best of his knowledge it does not, County Prosecutor Rawles Moore says Jesse Winburn, the New York capitalist who recently located in Ashland and has big property interests there, can not keep the booze he recently had expressed to Ashland from New York under a federal permit.

Mr. Winburn on the other hand says he will stand pat and not dispose of the liquor by sending it back to New York or out of the state. Therefore the next move is up to Moore.

The booze, consisting of 23 quarts of wine, 5 quarts of whiskey and four quarts of vermouth, is at the Ashland office of the American Express company, to which it was shipped under a permit issued by the federal prohibition officer of New York, awaiting the outcome of the legal squabble.

Johnson Smith of Portland, federal prohibition officer of Oregon, arrived in the city Monday to investigate into the case, and confer on it with County Prosecutor Moore. First he inspected the booze and found it was in accordance with the federal shipping permit issued in New York (then with Winburn's attorney, E. P. Farrell, called on Prosecutor Moore in general Mr. Smith's attitude in the case seems to be a neutral one. He gave to Moore all the information about the booze shipment; he had in his possession, and departed leaving the local official to work out the perplexing problem as best he could.

Prosecutor Moore explained this noon that he was satisfied that Winburn shipped the liquor from New York to Ashland in good faith in accordance with the permit issued him in New York. Therefore as he as prosecutor has only to enforce the state law, which so far as he can learn does not take a back seat for the federal law, he will give Winburn a reasonable time to either ship the booze back to New York, or out of the state, but says that Winburn can not take the booze out of the express office otherwise, especially to his own home, else he will prosecute him for violating the Oregon dry law.

Winburn and Attorney Farrell claim that the former has violated no law, owns the booze which he purchased before the national prohibition law went into effect and which he expressed to Ashland with Uncle Sam's permission, and therefore can take it out of the express office any time he wants to.

Local Briers

J. W. Merritt, prominent mercantile dealer in this county for the past twenty years is slowly sinking to the end at his home here. He has been confined to his bed for the past two or three weeks. General debility seems to be the cause of the old time school teacher and merchant's passing. His store is operated here by his son-in-law, "Sandy" Sanderson who with his family moved here about a month past from Tacoma.—Gold Hill News.

Strawberries are growing rather scarce. The peak of the season was reached last week. The public market had a fair supply this morning and the growers have been catching up somewhat with the many orders ahead by delivering Sunday, Monday and today at homes direct, many cases which were ordered at the market last Saturday. However, it will be impossible to fill all the advance orders, it is said.

Company A, the local National Guard organization was scheduled to depart at 5:40 o'clock this afternoon for the annual state encampment at Camp Lewis, with full 96 per cent of its membership. The company members were busy all day at the armory preparing for the trip. Their cars and those of the Ashland company made up a special train to Portland, which followed the departure of the regular passenger train.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Vance with their daughter Constance and Miss Gladys Hartley left Saturday for Los Angeles where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Vance's daughter who lives in that city. Miss Lois Quisenberry, who is now in Los Angeles, will return to this city with the party in about two weeks.

I. O. O. F. MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD

The memorial services of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs last evening were fully as interesting and impressive as anticipated. Every feature of the program was enjoyed by members of the order and by invited friends. The decoration of chairs with flowers and wreaths and the tributes paid to deceased members were especially impressive. The memorial list included Mrs. Rebecca Jonas, Robert C. Reame, R. H. Harris, T. W. Johnson, E. L. Einkopf and A. M. Woodford. The last named was one of the charter members of Medford lodge at its institution in 1888. Other excellent features were selections by a male quartette and the address by A. J. Hanby.

FRUIT SALES ONE CONTROL

Several months Paulus conducted a very thorough investigation of the various fruit marketing agencies and as a result, came to the conclusion that the Stewart Fruit company is entirely independent in all its operations, without "entangling alliances" of any sort.

"Stewart Fruit company has an absolutely clean record," Paulus said, "so far as I can ascertain. I believe the growers of the Rogue River valley have taken a long step forward in entering into this arrangement."

BABY BORN ON PEACE DAY

After Mother Had Been Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Salisbury, Mass.—"For seven years I had a female trouble and such bearing-down pains I could hardly do my housework. The doctor said, 'If you can have another baby it might be the best thing for you but I am afraid you cannot.' I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my baby was born on 'Peace Day'. If women would only take your Vegetable Compound they would have better health. I always recommend your Vegetable Compound to the neighbors."

Mrs. TRACY PATTEN, 2 Lincoln Ave., Salisbury, Massachusetts.

The experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation, as it is impossible for a weak sickly wife to bring healthy children into the world.

Therefore if a woman is suffering from a displacement, backache, inflammation, ulceration, bearing-down pains, headaches, nervousness or "the blues" she should profit by Mrs. Patten's experience, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be restored to health.
