EVERY MAYOR IN JACKSON COUNTY IN CITY TONIGHT

ASHLAND, June 17.—(Special.)—Following the meeting at the Hotel Austin Wednesday night, things moved very fast yesterday in the matter of the Fourth of July celebration and parade at Ashland. Mr. J. H. Fuller, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by Mr. Jesse Winburn, visited every city and town of Jackson county. They called upon the mayor in each place, and in every instance were cordially received and without exception the mayors promised hearty cooperation, particularly in the elaborate parade that is to be so conspicuous a feature of the celebration.

The mayors of Medford, Gold Hill, Jacksonville, Rogue River, Phoenix, Talent, Eagle Point and Central Point were all invited to be present at the banquet to be given tonight at the Hotel Medford by Mr. Winburn, each to be accompanied by a representative delegation from their cities. All have accepted. Mayor Gates of Medford, Mayor Britt of Jacksonville, Mayor Terrill of Talent, Dr. Malgreen the mayor of Phoenix, Mayor Johnson of Gold Hill, Judge Gilmore, the mayor of Rogue River, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gallagher, Mayor Leever of Central Point, Mayor Henry Campbell of Eagle Point, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Tucker of Bellevue and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Barron of Nell Creek. Mayor Leever may be detained if so Miss Agnes Dunlap will act for Central Point.

Mayor Gates of Medford, who was particularly enthusiastic over the celebration and parade, is to be chairman of the meeting, following the banquet. Mr. John H. Fuller will act as toastmaster of the banquet, which will be attended by all the mayors and about 100 prominent ladies and gentlemen from all the cities in Jackson county.

At the meeting after the banquet a definite program will be adopted for the great Jackson County parade, which will be a fixed annual Fourth of July feature hereafter, and will take place in a different Jackson county city or town each year. The Ashland committee appointed Wednesday night are making fine progress in arranging the program. They report that they intend to have every element in the county represented in the parade. This will include the G. A. R.; W. R. C.; the churches, the schools, the lodges, the societies, the business men, and everybody else.

Mayor Lamkin of Ashland will be present and will outline what he is going to facilitate matters to make Ashland pleasant and comfortable for the visitors. Mr. Jerry Jerome, exalted ruler of the Elks at Medford, is greatly interested in the parade, and promises to be at the dinner and meeting tonight.

Mr. A. B. Cornell, a prominent citizen of Grants Pass, although not a resident of Jackson county, promises to have a fine feature in the parade, even though ineligible for prizes. There is a splendid band in Grants Pass, and the possibilities are that it will be in the parade.

Mr. Winburn announced the donation of an additional $50 for prizes, making his contribution for this purpose $250 altogether. This additional $50 is for other features not included in the original $250.

Mr. Amos Nininger, general chairman of the celebration, will probably not be able to attend tonight's banquet and meeting at the Hotel Medford, but will turn over to Mayor Gates such reports as he has ready to make. At this meeting the Ashland committee will make full reports of what they have done and propose to do, and will extend their membership to include all cities and towns in the county. The way things are shaping up, it seems sure that Jackson county never had a celebration and parade so elaborate and spectacular as that to be held July 4th, 1921.

Ring Sketches of Bygone Years

James J. Jeffries, like Alexander, reached the point where there were no more worlds to conquer. For six years after winning the heavyweight championship, the California boxer-maker met every boxer with nerve enough to challenge him, and mauling them all severely. He disliked the inconvenience of forever keeping in trim, however, and announced his intention of retiring from the ring in 1905, bestowing his title upon Marvin Hart. The present was made after Hart had thrashed Jack Root in 12 rounds at Reno, Nev.

With Hart the championship was a easy come, easy go sort of property. He promptly lost it on February 22, 1906, to Tommy Burns a Canadian, in a 20-round fight at Los Angeles. Burns remained in front of the pack of pugilists for almost three years. In that time he successfully defended his title against Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, whom he defeated in 29 rounds, and Bill Squires of Australia, who stood up only two minutes and eight seconds. During all of this time a big strapping negro, John Arthur Johnson, had been knocking pugilistic people right and left and in his off moments, endeavoring to get a crack at the champion. But the champion always had some excuse. Johnson's manager trailed Burns around the United States and to England, but could not get him to meet the former cotton jammer from Galveston. Undaunted, he kept on the trail of Burns and finally cornered him in Australia, where a match with "Lion Archa" was finally arranged.

Jack Johnson, the only negro who ever held the heavyweight championship, got it as a present from Santa Claus on Christmas Day, 1908. He didn't find it in his stocking, but in a couple of big boxing gloves that Tommy Burns never forgot. Johnson met Burns at Sydney, N. S. W., and so thoroughly pummeled the Canadian's features that police jumped into the ring during the 14th round and put a stop to the punishment. From the start the negro batter led the way. He floored Burns for nine counts in the first round and sent him to the canvas again in the second round, but the champion bounced back on his feet immediately. In the latter part of the fight, Johnson rained rights and lefts upon the face and body of Burns, whose mouth and eyes were badly distorted from the shower of blows. A swollen jaw added to his misery.

He was in no state of mind to enjoy Johnson's humor, a characteristic of his race that never left the negro, even in his defeat years later. Always he smiled and frequently he uttered mock encouragement to the man he was whipping. He talked continually, taunting Burns and daring him to attack, the defiance ever softened with a grin.

Now and then Johnson cast aside his smile and attended strictly to business. It was so in the 14th round at Sydney. As soon as his distressed opponent left his corner, the negro flew at him like a tiger and, using both hands unmercifully, soon had the champion tottering. The police then jumped in and stopped the fight and the referee declared Johnson the winner.

Earliest coins were made in Asia Minor of silver and gold.

DEMPSEY'S SPEED DEVELOPMENT IS CHIEF CONCERN

ATLANTIC CITY, June 17.—With Jack Dempsey back in his training camp today development of the champion's speed to match that of the crafty Georges Carpentier is the chief aim of his handlers.

Dempsey will be called upon to do more boxing with smaller and lighter sparring partners as he advances into the final two weeks of training, and mauling with the heavyweights in camp will be gradually cut down.

Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, plans to bring some of the fastest middleweights and light-heavyweights in the country into the camp. Harry Greb, the Pittsburgh 170 pounder, who assisted Dempsey in training for the match with Billy Mike in Benton Harbor last Labor day, Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul middleweight, and the Jamaica Kid, probably will join the staff of sparring partners.

Although Dempsey plans to enter the ring at "Boyle's thirty acres," July 2 weighing about 190 pounds, he may be lighted than this, Manager Kearns said, if the weather becomes hot in the days preceding the match. The title-holder scaled 194 pounds yesterday according to Kearns.

MANHASSET, N. Y., June 17.—Memories of an exhibition bout with an American doughboy in an American camp in France and the solution of a puzzle in connection with it were provided Georges Carpentier today by a telephone message from an American colonel of infantry. "Remember how he kept punching your head and when he paid no attention to your cautioning you had to knock him out with a right to the jaw?" inquired the colonel. "Yes," replied Georges, "but why was he so persistent?" "Why, we gave him $100 and told him to knock you out."

CONTRACTOR NOW GREATLY ELATED AT GOOD RESULTS

"What I needed was just an all around building and Tanlac has done that very thing for me," said E. P. Prentress, well-known contractor, of 315 Russell street, Portland, Ore. "The fact is I hadn't felt well in four years. I had no appetite and even what I did manage to eat didn't seem to do me any good. I was constantly suffering with severe headaches, and although I managed to stay on the job I was losing strength right along and had little energy for my work. I couldn't sleep well, either, and was in a badly run-down condition. "A number of my friends had taken on Tanlac with such splendid results that I began taking it myself. I have an excellent appetite now and eat a good square meal every time I sit down to the table. The headaches have all disappeared, my sleep is sound and refreshing and I have regained my strength and energy. I just can't say high enough good of Tanlac for what it has done for me, and will always give it my highest endorsement."
