SECRET GOLD MINE IN MEXICO DRAWS LEGIONS TO DEATH

BISBEE, Ariz.—For three hundred years, according to reliable records, the Sierra Madre mountains of Sonora and Chihuahua, Mexico have held the secret of a gold mine of fabulous richness and a vast treasure store of gold, mined and hidden away in an inaccessible tunnel.

The romance of the gold hunter is written in the history of man's efforts through the centuries to reach and bring back to civilization this wealth of the Old Tycopa mines. Murders and violence have marked many of these efforts and still in many hardy breasts there still stirs the spirit which has prompted many to brave the dangers of starvation, thirst and death at the hands of Indian bands and outlaws in the search for gold.

Mexico City contains records of the old mine and several prospectors, one of them Jack Dunn, accredited discoverer of the Warren district, have reported seeing ruins of the old mine, but none ever reached there.

According to records at the Mexican capital, in the latter part of the seventeenth century the isolated village of Old Tycopa was raided by Indians, who destroyed the town and killed all the inhabitants except a priest.

After wandering for several weeks, the priest arrived at a little town called Agua Fria, on the Papal river, where he was received and cared for by a Mexican family. His hardships caused his death, but before he died he gave to the family a description and map of the mining camp. He also reported that the gold obtained from seven years of mining had been stored in an old tunnel because of the impossibility of shipment to civilization.

The story and map, it is said, have been handed down from family to family for generations. Those who attempted to reach the camp lost their outfits and many did not return. The Indians for years menaced all prospectors and this condition still exists, augmented by bands of outlaws.

Max Coyita, for several years Mexican consul at Naco, is said to have been the latest possessor of the priest's map. He declared he twice succeeded in getting as far as Casa Blanca from which the ruins of Old Tycopa are visible and it was reported he had not given up hopes of reaching the place at his death several years ago.

Bert Grover, a local man, twice started with two companions to make the perilous journey, but was forced back because of insufficient equipment, Indian and outlaw bands.

Some remarkable gold specimens have been brought back from the vicinity of the Old Tycopa, but so far as known no one ever has reached the mines since the old town was destroyed centuries ago.

RUSSIA WILL BE ALL RED IN THE NEXT GENERATION

RIGA.—Most of the younger generation of Russians are bolshevik, says Captain Merion C. Cooper, of Jacksonville, Fla., the American flyer who was captured by Russians while serving in the Polish army and recently escaped from a Moscow prison. He attributes this to the bolshevik educational system, under which communism is taught in the schools.

"The schools are all red," he said, "and the educational program prescribes that the first thing to be developed in the mind of the child is the 'revolutionary conscience.' In prison, I saw, several times, children visit their parents, the latter being anti-bolshevik. The children were 'tired' and accepted their parents' imprisonment philosophically, wondering how they could go against the tenets they had been taught to absorb in the classroom."

Visiting with this system of educating the children, said Captain Cooper, is the wonderful propaganda system by which the bolshevik attempt to convert the adults.

"Their communist lecturers work even in the prisons, trying to convert the prisoners," he continued. "They even tried it on me. There were lectures or classes held very frequently. If a man said he was converted and could convince the prison committee of that fact, he generally was released."

"Further in the line of skilled propaganda was the excellent treatment of the Polish war prisoners just before the repatriation agreement of the Polish-Russian peace treaty. Before each bunch was repatriated all of the soldiers in it were given new clothes and new shoes, being well fed for several weeks, so that when they arrived in Poland they looked well fed, well dressed and, in short, were walking advertisements for the soviet government."

Generally, Captain Cooper said, conditions in the prisons were very bad they were returned to Poland, under the standpoint of diet, but that he received no personal ill-treatment.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

W. Alice Parr and wife of Reese Creek motored through our town last Friday. I omitted to state in my last that the stork was visited in the home of William Holman at Lake Creek on the morning of the 17th of June. A general surprise to their many friends, not only here but also in the Lake Creek country. The parents are rejoicing over the fact that it is a fine healthy boy.

Miss Winnifred Hank and Miss Bertha Hayman, two of our prominent young ladies and Earl Tucker of Brownboro, were transacting business in our town Friday.

L. K. Hank, one of our prominent farmers, dairy men and orchardists was also here with a team. He had started for Medford, but after arriving here decided to postpone his trip until another day. Mrs. Hank who has been back to their old home in Michigan, attending to business affairs and visiting relatives is expected home today, Wednesday.

J. L. Robinson one of our bustling farmers and one of his sons motored to Medford and brought a five-foot hay fork. They were just christening their new fork.

The two Coe girls from near Butte Falls spent Friday night at the Sunnyside.

George W. Stowell and J. W. Hovey were also business callers Saturday morning.

F. J. Ayres of Reese Creek was in town Saturday and reports that his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Kewenaw of the office for the S. P. L. R., Portland, had arrived at the home of his brother in Illinois.

Mrs. Martin Vanham, Mrs. Ed Morgan's mother, were here last week visiting her. They were on their way to Willow Springs, where Mr. Morgan has a contract to cut a large lot of wood.

Miss Grace Lane and Mrs. Ruth Wallace of Butte Falls, who had been out to Jacksonville to take the teacher's examination, passed through here Saturday morning in the stage on their way home.

John Blinn was a business caller Saturday, and so was A. C. Edler of Lake Creek and Frank Foster of Reese Creek.

In my last I stated that the next meeting of the L. C. C. of Eagle Point was to be at the home of Mrs. M. L. Pruet and omitted to state who would be the hostess. It will be Mrs. Pruet herself, and they expect to have a good attendance and I will vouch for it that they will have a fine dinner.

As I could find no way to be sure to go to the Sunday school meeting on Rogue River last Sunday, I decided to take the 7:15 stage and start for Ashland to hear Dr. Bulgin preach. So I started and soon after reaching Medford, started on for Ashland in the regular Medford-Ashland auto stage, but when I reached there, learned that Dr. Bulgin was to preach in Talent that forenoon, so not to be disappointed altogether, went to the Congregational Church and heard the pastor, Rev. Judson Oldfield preach. He preached a good logical sermon and had a good audience. I also attended the Sunday school before preaching and there was quite a number of people there, but many of them were old people and quite a number of girls, but very few boys, and but two young men. It is a sad fact that so few of the boys attend church or Sunday school. After hearing two very fine sermons by Dr. Bulgin and having a good night's rest at the Columbia hotel I took passage for home, reaching there about ten o'clock a. m., and there learned that Rev. M. C. Davis formerly traveling evangelist for the Congregational Sunday school society, and family had come down from Wolf creek to make us a visit and of course I was greatly disappointed because I did not meet him but he and his family had a good visit with the family.

While I was riding along the roads going to and from Ashland, I was noting the crops all along the route, and although I have been living in this valley for the last fifty years and have been familiar with the crop prospect I don't remember of ever seeing a better prospect for beautiful crops of everything unless it is in some of the early fruits, cherries, plums, peaches, etc., that the late frost killed. When I met the auto stage and its trailer from Eagle Point, I found that there was quite a number of passengers and among them was Mrs. W. J. Joffe and Mrs. Ed Cowdon, Ed Spover, A. M. Gay, beside quite a number of strangers, and going back there were seven passengers in the car beside some on the trailer, and among the passengers was Mr. Barry, who has a homestead about three miles beyond Brownboro and Mrs. McDonald of the Elks residence.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned executrix has filed her final report and account in the above entitled Court and Cause, and that June 18, 1921, at 10 o'clock a. m. at the Court House in Jacksonville, Oregon, has been fixed by said Court as the time and place for hearing objections sort near the mouth of Elk Creek, and she informed me that Dr. Burstin had promised to come and visit the resort and arrange to preach for them while there, and she expects to have a large crowd there that day.

Mrs. McDonald has just returned from Portland, where she has been visiting friends and also witnessing the Rose Festival, and while she was there she had the experience of riding in an aeroplane. Asked how she enjoyed the ride, she said that the experience was wonderful, and that she went so high that everything on the earth looked like little specks, that she greatly enjoyed the entire trip. She went on up home on the Eagle Point-Perist stage.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Morgan went over to Central Point to visit her mother Sunday.

Decides on Best Life Insurance

"Five years ago I was refused life insurance because of my heart symptoms. Doctors said it was caused from a pressure of gas that came from my stomach, but their medicine did not help me, and I was getting worse all the time. Three years ago my druggist recommended Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I took a course of it and believe it is the best life insurance anyone can buy. It helped my trouble at once." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.
