

DISABLED U. S. VETERANS HONOR BLIND CHAPLAIN

DETROIT, Mich., June 20.—A blind hero of the World war will be the center of attraction at the formal opening of the first annual convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World war, here on June 27. He is Michael Aaronson, rabbi and student of the Hebrew Union college, Cincinnati, who as chaplain of the Disabled American Veterans will deliver the invocation at the first day's session of the veterans.

Rabbi Aaronson at the outbreak of the war enlisted and served in the 147th infantry. Both of his eyes were blown out when in the capture of Montfaucon in the Argonne, he was struck by a shell as he was bringing back wounded American soldiers.

Capt. Robert S. Marx, judge of the superior court of Cincinnati, national president has announced that on Monday, June 27 there will be a reception of delegations.

Tuesday, June 28 addresses of welcome will be delivered by Governor Grosbeck of Michigan and Mayor Couzins of Detroit. Ambassador Jusserand of France will deliver the greeting to the republic of France, and if General John J. Pershing can be present he probably will make an address. General Pershing has notified Capt. Marx he will either be present or send a personal greeting.

In the afternoon a parade will be held, which will include floats visualizing the problems confronting the disabled soldier and what is being done to help him. Tuesday evening there will be a French fete at Belle Isle, given by the United French Society of Detroit.

On Wednesday there will be a business session and an address by Uel Lamkin, director of the federal board of vocational education. Mr. Lamkin has 77,000 disabled soldiers in training and he will tell about their activities.

LOCAL PUBLICITY TO BE SUBJECT AT MEETING TONIGHT

There has been a general request from the membership of the Medford Chamber of Commerce that a meeting be called to consider a wider campaign of publicity for this valley than has ever taken place in the past. Such a meeting will be held this evening at eight o'clock at the Public Library assembly room and the committee in charge is very anxious to make this meeting similar to those held in the early history of Medford when the business men gathered in great numbers in the old Commercial club rooms above Kidds shoe store.

Estimating that some 25,000 acres of land will be placed under irrigation this year and believing that a considerable proportion of this will be of no benefit to the land owners or business interests of the county unless every acre is under intense cultivation, there is a strong sentiment that the community is obligated to do all it can toward getting new people in the valley to settle upon these lands. Means and means will be discussed this evening as to the best possible method which may be employed to secure those settlers.

Promptly at eight o'clock there will be a short address by Guy G. Emery of Portland. He has been a close observer of publicity used by various successful communities which was possible in his travels about the country as a Chautauqua lecturer.

All members of the Chamber of Commerce should endeavor to be present and a general invitation is extended the public to hear the discussion.

THREE ARRESTS FOR SPEEDING BY HIGHWAY POLICE

Much advice and three arrests marked the activity of Speed Cop H. L. Griffiths the latter part of the week.

Irene Barron of Ashland was fined $10 in Justice Gowdy's court at Ashland for racing a train, while driving on the Pacific highway.

Arlene Butler of this city was fined $5 for driving without lights as was J. C. Hayes, his fine being $10 however. Justice Glenn O. Taylor officiated.

Enforcement of the speed laws in this county will hereafter be in the hands of J. H. McMahon, former deputy sheriff. Griffiths was ordered to Portland Sunday.

Dozens of Medford people were warned against violations of the auto laws. Their names are kept in the state files at Salem, and should they again be caught, the law takes its course.

The world's smallest complete theatre is at Ypsilanti, Mich. It seats 50 persons.

Gladys in "DESPERATE YOUTH" Walton ITS A UNIVERSAL

"A Kentucky Cinderella," F. Hopkinson Smith's classic story of the old south, opened yesterday at the Rialto theatre as "Desperate Youth," a photo drama with Gladys Walton in the starring role. As Rosemary, the mountain girl who goes to the Alabama plantation of her aunt to get educated, and eventually married, Miss Walton is at her best.

Playing opposite the star is Harold Hiller, the smiling big fellow who is as

HOME HAPPINESS IS THE GREATEST, OWN YOUR HOME

That Medford must have more homes is evidenced every day by the demand of new people who are rapidly coming to the city and by those who live in rented houses that are purchased "over their heads" and they have to lease another home or an apartment and that is hard to do.

Building material, furniture, supplies and labor are all cheaper and this is a good time to build. All over the city new homes are being erected. Why not "Own Your Own Home" and save rent.

The happiest family in the world is the family that finds its happiness in the home. All altruism has its origin in the home; for it is there that co-operation and self-denial are combined to promote the common welfare of the group.

The best investment that any father and mother can make is that involved in making their home comfortable and attractive. This does not necessarily mean that the home shall be elaborate and expensive in construction; rather it means that it shall be suited to the needs of the family and designed to cement the bonds of sympathy and understanding among its members.

How many parents who are left home can attribute their leaving to so simple a thing as neglecting to provide them with some of the means of entertainment that children crave?

No parent ever ought to forget for a moment that it is in the home that character is built; and if parents wish to have a hand in the building of their children's character they must provide the right sort of work-shop—a home. Surely it is the cheapest imaginable protection against dissatisfaction and disappointment in later life. A good home in which children will be glad to stay, in which they are free to entertain their friends and where they find a sympathetic companionship is a kind of insurance that comes pretty near to making happiness in old age secure.

Philadelphian Jack O'Brien, former light-heavyweight, was laud in his praise today of the physical fitness of Dempsey. He boxed one three-minute round with the champion yesterday.

"I guess those were 14 or 16 ounce gloves he boxed with," Jack said, "but he made me feel as though a mule kicked me."

FARMER GRABS PLANE AS GIFT FROM HEAVEN

CHICAGO, June 20.—Nelson Kelly, aviator, today retains possession of his airplane but he was forced to summon the police to do it. He made a forced landing yesterday on the land of an Evanston farmer who laid claim to the plane as a "gift from the heavens."

HEALTHY PEOPLE Have Rich, Red Blood

Weak, worn-out blood is responsible for a host of ills. If you would attain ruddy health, a robust body and muscular strength, you must first have rich, red blood. Thousands have enriched their blood with S. S. S., the recognized standard blood building tonic.

OLDEST RESIDENT JACKSON COUNTY PASSES TO REWARD

Oliver Harbaugh, oldest resident of Jackson county, died suddenly at his home in Jacksonville Sunday evening, June 19, 1921, aged 96 years, four months, and five days. It was Mr. Harbaugh's ambition to live a century and a sad feature of his demise is that this wish was not fulfilled.

Mr. Harbaugh did not feel usually well Sunday morning and complained several times of feeling cold. He walked about the house and yard as usual however, but toward evening laid down, a fire was built for him and everything done for his comfort. It was a few minutes after five that he arose and went toward the window of the room, and later Mrs. Harbaugh was startled by a fall. When she reached him he was breathing his last. Mr. Harbaugh lived in Jackson county for 48 years, and was a true type of pioneer. The gold rush to California lured him in his youth and he came to Oregon in 1873, farming on what is known as the Culver place near Phoenix. He was a veteran of the Modoc Indian wars and was known to scores of southern Oregon people. His many years did not dim his cheerful nature.

Mr. Harbaugh was born in Ohio, February 14, 1825, and was one of a family of nine children. He is survived by his wife, and two sisters, Mrs. Rebecca Zimmerman and Mrs. Sarah Miller, both of Indiana.

The body is at the funeral home of Weeks-Conger company. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

GEORGE MANSFIELD FORUM SPEAKER

A series of efforts have been made to have George A. Mansfield present his experience of his recent trip to Washington, D. C., which was made in the interest of the farmers of this state, but not until the present moment has he been at home long enough to accept the invitation extended to him to speak at the forum. Just what the subject of his address will be is not known, but he will, in a general way, outline the progress which has been in the marketing of the farmer's products. In this every business man is interested as agriculture is the basic industry of all prosperity.

The forum will be held at the Medford Hotel on Wednesday noon.

"Never Has to Call a Doctor—Bathes Internally"

Mr. J. E. McNeil, P. O. Box 27, Globe, Ariz., writes to the Tyrell Hygienic Institute:

"I have been using the 'J. B. L. Cascade' for the past twenty-five years and call it our cheap family physician for the reason that I have never had to call in a physician to treat one of the family. What a pity more of the human race are not acquainted with the virtues of the Cascade in a family. The 'J. B. L. Cascade' cleanses the lower intestine its entire length and keeps it always free of poisonous waste.

Thousands testify that Constipation, Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, Biliousness, Headaches and all the many serious troubles which they cause are absolutely relieved and prevented by this Nature Treatment.

West Side Pharmacy, Main and Grape St., will be glad to show you the 'J. B. L. Cascade' explain its simple operation and will give you, free on request, an interesting little book by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrell of New York, a noted specialist on Internal Bathing for 25 years in that city. Clip this up as a reminder to ask for the booklet at your first opportunity. Adv.
