

KENTUCKY GIRL WRITES LETTER

How She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sunnyside, Ky.—"I suffered for more than two years with my back and nervousness, and was not able to help my mother do the housework. I took treatments from two doctors and they did not do me any good. Mother saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the paper and I took about ten bottles. It has done me a great deal of good. I weigh 138 pounds and am in good health. I will gladly recommend Vegetable Compound to anyone who suffers with the troubles which I had, and you are welcome to publish my testimonial."—VILMA HENDRICK, Route 1, Sunnyside, Ky.

To many American girls life is often a heavy drag in consequence of illness, and every mother should heed the first manifestations, such as cramps, backaches, headaches and nervousness as Mrs. Hendrick did for her daughter, and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For over forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been relieving women of just such troubles.

Write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about your health.

MAINTAINS RED CROSS OVERHEAD SHOULD BE CUT

To the editor: According to current report we are going to have a Red Cross drive this week for funds to sustain the organization from now until November. That the Red Cross should be continued in Medford goes without saying but that it should be continued along the lines that it has been conducted during the past twelve months is quite another matter.

It has been suggested several times to those in charge of this organization that they publish a statement of their past year's work showing somewhat in detail their receipts, expenditures, expense of administration, etc., together with a report of their accomplishments but for some reason or other that is not quite clear, this has never been done. Surely this is a reasonable request, those in charge will not deny that the public who furnished the money should be entitled to know how it was spent and there should be no reason whatever why they should not have this information.

Early in April or thereabouts the directors of the Medford chapter of the Red Cross appointed a committee consisting of Rev. D. E. Millard, Vernon Vawter, T. E. Daniels, Judge Glen O. Taylor and myself, acting as chairman; and requested them to make a survey of the past year's work and suggest a line of work for the future. We were given a financial statement made out by the executive secretary which, though far from being complete nevertheless gave some figures which were at least surprising. It not stating. This report showed one employee drawing a salary of $125 per month, one drawing $100 per month, another drawing $50 per month and the National Headquarters at Washington, D. C., drawing $125 per month. Ashland paid a small part of one of these salaries and probably some of the remittance to national headquarters. In addition to the above there were items of rent, heat, light, telephone, telegraph, taxicab and janitor service; all in liberal amounts. A total of these figures will show that in round figures it was necessary for the people of Medford to contribute at the very least $400 a month, or $100 a week before there would be one single dollar available to purchase anything that the executive man and his family, or any other worthy case, could eat, drink or wear.

This committee secured information from Ashland and Klamath Falls and found that Ashland has no salary list, rent, light, janitor service, etc., and never has had, yet they have managed to accomplish a great deal of work that is truly commendable. Klamath Falls is a full chapter the same as Medford and Klamath Falls compares favorably with Medford in size and activity. A knowledge of that country would lead one to believe that they would have even more calls for aid than Medford would have. Their salary list consists of one secretary who spends part of her time at the work at a salary of $20 per month and the total of their other expense was less than $5 per month for the year.

This committee made a report to the board of directors of the Red Cross which has never been published and as this report was made in good faith by responsible people after an investigation involving considerable work it ought to be fair to ask the Red Cross at this time to publish it.

Why all this secrecy about an organization that everyone is interested in? The people of Medford are generous in their charity and will respond liberally to a call for funds for the Red Cross if they can have confidence that the money is well spent. Those in charge of the Red Cross have a grave responsibility, not the least of which is to retain the confidence of the public upon whom they must depend for support to carry on this great work and this organization above all others should never lay itself liable to charges of inefficiency and extravagance. Respectfully,
GEORGE T. COLLINS.

June 28th.

The interest in the Dempsey-Carpenter fight next Saturday continues strong locally, but there is little wagering on the result, as the Dempsey adherents balk at giving the prevailing odds of three to one.

Residents of the Applegate report that the wild blackberry crop in that section will be a recordbreaker this year, and that the fruit will be ready for picking in another month or so. Scores of Medford people visit this district every year to pick the blackberries, and heretofore have been able to strip the vines in one Sunday.

'TALKEE BIG LIE NO GOOD' STATE WARRING CHINKS

Local Mongolian circles are somewhat disturbed by the suit of Wah Hop against Wah Kim, for the collection of money alleged to be due for board and room, wood and water. The case will be heard in the justice court Wednesday. Both the plaintiff and defendant have "ketchum smart man to fixee." Wah Hop until recently was a dishwasher. Wah Kim is a former servant of a half dozen Medford families, and recently recovered from the pangs and pains of a toothache, by burning incense tapers.

As near as a foreign devil can figure out, Wah Kim was the star boarder at Wah Lee's, paying the staggering sum of $15 for three months' food and shelter. This was "too muchee," but Hop was a "velly good friend." Wah Hop alleges that Wah Kim got the board and room, but failed to remit, in part of whole, delaying so long that his Celestial patience was broken, and he seeks compensation in the courts.

On the other hand, Wah Kim declares that he paid as he proceeded, and blandly counter charges that Wah Hop borrowed $77.50 from him, while he was employed as a janitor at the Barnum apartment, the which he has not seen hide nor hair of since, despite repeated duns in the most approved Oriental manner, and when he failed to balance accounts last Chinese New Year, began to suspect the alleged debtor was from the North of China, and therefore "heap no good."

It is further declared on both sides of the argument that the other "all time, talkee big lie, no good."

BOOST CRATER LAKE AT FORUM MEETING

Why it is imperative that the attendance at Crater Lake National Park be increased this year will be the subject taken up at the Chamber of Commerce forum tomorrow noon at the Medford Hotel.

The most critical situation confronts the future development at Crater Lake. Local men have been charged with the responsibility of making the Crater Lake concession a success. These men, V. H. Vawter and George T. Collins will place the situation squarely before the citizens of Medford at the forum.

The company, which the local men represent is amply supplied with funds, but funds are not altogether necessary for the success to be obtained. They must have the moral backing of every citizen of Southern Oregon and the reasons for this will be made known tomorrow noon. Members of the Chamber should show their loyalty to the greatest scenic asset Oregon has by their attendance at the forum.
