

Panorama View of the Jersey City Arena Where Today's Fight Was Staged

Panorama View of Big Fight Arena in Jersey City.

The above photograph gives a graphic idea of the spectacle witnessed at Jersey City to day, when Dempsey and Carpentier met for the heavyweight championship of the world. From the upper row of 85 seats where the picture was taken, the men working in the arena look like pygmies, while over 7 acres of land are covered by the temporary structure. On the right inserted in the picture are from left to right Georges Carpentier, the challenger, Tex Rickard, who financed and managed the fight, and Jack Dempsey, the American champion.

DEMPSEY UNABLE TO KEEP STOPPING PLACE A SECRET

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 2.—"Never felt better in my life," remarked Jack Dempsey as he sat down to a light breakfast this morning in a private home here, where he had spent the night.

The champion slept without interruption from 10 o'clock last night until seven this morning and awoke in a happy frame of mind.

Dempsey's breakfast consisted of two boiled eggs, toast and a pot of tea.

Accompanied by Ted Hayes, his trainer, Dempsey started out for a walk, but such a large crowd followed at his heels that he was forced to return to the house. Here worshippers had spent most of the night in the vicinity to get a glimpse of the defender and to shout words of encouragement to him when he made his appearance.

Although his whereabouts was supposed to be secret, the news leaked before he had been in town more than a few hours and fight fans were on constant patrol along the street in which he is housed. There was a large percentage of women among the spectators.

Getting Along Good
Women are as great sufferers from kidney and bladder ailments as men. Foley Kidney Pills help rid the blood stream of impurities that cause rheumatic pains, backache, swollen, aching joints and stiff, painful muscles. Mrs. Carey, Box 91, R. F. D. No. 2, Middletown, N. Y., writes: "I had kidney trouble ever since I was a little girl, but I am getting along good since I have taken Foley Kidney Pills. They act immediately and help restore the kidneys to healthful activity. Sold everywhere. Ady"

DEMPSEY PLANS A BIG CELEBRATION BELMONT TONIGHT

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 2.—Jack Dempsey is going to put on a "big party" at the Belmont tonight to celebrate the raising of his long training period and his expected victory over Georges Carpentier, provided his massive jaws come out of today's battle in good working order. "It all depends on how the old jaw is," Dempsey said when asked about his after the fight plans. He grinned broadly and crossed the jaw that is to be the target of the challenger.

His guests will include his two brothers, Bernard and Johnny; Mayor Baker of Atlantic City; Manager Kearns, Trainer Hayes and other members of the training squad.

Mrs. Mae Brown of Chicago, a friend of Dempsey, and his forebearing landlady in the days of "slim pickings" that preceded his rise in the pugilistic world, arrived here last night with two pairs of hand made white silk trunks, one of which the champion selected to wear in the ring today.

Mrs. Brown's ideas of the stylish thing in belts, however, didn't coincide with Dempsey's and he had her remodel the red, white and blue belt she had made.

Before leaving his Atlantic City training camp yesterday, Dempsey presented Mike Trant, the Chicago detective sergeant, who has acted as his bodyguard, with a diamond E.R.K. pin as a memento of his days at the champion's camp.

French Band Teets

The international aspect of the affair was apparent in the flags and ribbons carried or worn by the spectators.

An improvised band recruited from the crew of a French steamship in the harbor furnished amusement to a crowd packing one of the tube trains. The leader, equipped with a cornet of uncertain vintage, persisted in sounding blatant notes which drowned out at times the roar of the train.

"We gave you the serenade for Cahr-pon-tee-ay," he said, while the crowd laughed its approval.

Another fan carried a small telescope underneath his arm.

"Can't see the fight without that," he remarked.

Some of those who followed him to the seventh heaven around the ring were inclined to believe he was right. The cosmopolitan nature of the crowd became apparent during the afternoon rush. A squad of American doughboys, wearing banners that attested their sympathy for Carpentier, who was described as a "buddy" was followed by a group of Cubans, loudly proclaiming their interest in the French challenger.

Governor Edwards was given a big reception as he passed the big crowds assembled outside the arena. As he entered the gates the handclapping and cheers that greeted him could be heard for blocks.

Paris Fight Wild

PARIS, July 2.—Crushing banks, wars, cabinet crises, reparations, Russia and a multitude of other pressing public questions were unqualifiedly thrust to the background by Paris, France the World revolves about the Mecca of sportdom, Jersey City.

Even communist organs devoted columns to the combat and all newspapers subordinated everything to the fight in a manner wholly unprecedented.

Cartoonists, columnists and erstwhile composers of exhaustive editorials on the Near East situation devoted their energies to the "great conflict."

Early arrivals of country folk gave indication that the crowds would equal those which came for news of the battle of the Marne and the signing of the armistice.

Maurice Maeterlinck, author of the "Blue Bird" was an enthusiastic supporter of Carpentier. Maeterlinck has frequently donned the gloves with the French champion. Last night he telegraphed the Excelsior:

"I forecast victory for Georges Carpentier."

This view was generally held by the French public, if not by the majority of experts in this city.

Betting on the fight opened briskly today. Several large bets were recorded with Dempsey the favorite at 2 1/2 to 1.

BETROTHAL TO SON OF AUTHOR BROKEN

NEW YORK, June 21.—Friends of Miss Grace Helen Talbot, daughter of the late Roy Merriek Talbot, and a granddaughter of the late Thomas Talbot, one time governor of Massachusetts, have learned that her engagement to Robert Husted Chambers, son of Robert W. Chambers, the novelist, has been broken by Miss Talbot, who is a niece of Mrs. Victor Cunneen, prominent in Manhattan social circles, has gone to Europe to spend most of the summer. Her aunt is accompanying her. The engagement of Miss Talbot was announced last winter. She is a capable sculptress. Mr. Chambers who is an undergraduate at Harvard, being in his junior year there, is said to be following in the footsteps of his father and is generally looked upon as a budding author.

CARPENTIER NAPS ON LAUNCH TRIP TO JERSEY SIDE

JERSEY CITY, July 2.—Georges Carpentier, French challenger, arrived at Pier B here at 12:50 o'clock.

The trip was without incident. The French pugilist ate a light lunch on board and also enjoyed an hour's nap on the trip.

Guarded by a large squad of motorcycle policemen, the challenger's party entered automobiles and were escorted to the arena.

MANHASSET, N. Y., July 2.

Arising this morning at the usual hour Georges Carpentier, after breakfast, spent 15 minutes at setting up exercises after which he permitted himself to be amused by 150 comrades while he waited for the fateful hour of battle.

Manager Descamps had mapped out the day to coincide with the training schedule the challenger has followed for six weeks. Luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock, then the motors took the party to Port Washington on Manhasset bay, where they boarded the 65-foot power yacht Lone Star.

One of the bunks was fitted up for Georges and he slept an hour while the little craft sped down the sound to a Jersey City dock. There a closed car and a special guard of six motorcycle policemen awaited the party.

Manager Descamps, Trainer Wilson and little Charles Ledoux, the French bantamweight champion, will be in Georges' corner and will work in the ring with him between rounds. Paul Journee, the French heavyweight, will be the fourth man behind the challenger, but will not be permitted to enter the ring.

RETIRED EDITOR HOLDS FUNERAL SERVICE OVER BODY OF PET DOG

KANSAS CITY, Kan., July 2.—E. R. Humble, a retired editor and lecturer, conducted a funeral service over the body of Jiggs, a Fox terrier dog, who came to his death when running to meet the car in which Frank Schultz and his family were returning to their home at 1126 No. 24th St., Kansas City, Kansas.

The dog had been the constant companion of the Schultz children. It was Margaret, aged five, who went to Mr. Humble with the request that he would preach for Jiggs' funeral.

Mr. Humble said: "Poor Jiggs is dead. But he died happy in his love. That is more wonderful than I can tell you. And Jiggs will live in you. When you are grown, my children, you will often think of this faithful animal and wish that all men were like him,—faithful unto death. Jiggs was a good dog. That is saying much. When the sun sinks in the west for me, I could ask no higher words of praise than those I have applied to him. To say he was good is highest praise."

white trunks with blue stripes down each side. He said this morning he did not intend to wear a bit of the tri-color of France as had been reported. It was announced today that several of Carpentier's backers had bet close to $5,000 that Georges would win by a knock out. They said they had been given three and five to one.

He was accompanied by Francois Descamps, manager; Gus Wilson, trainer; Pierre Mallet, friend and adviser; Charles Ledoux, French bantam champion; Paul Journee, French heavyweight, and other members of his entourage.

There was a good sized crowd at the landing to cheer and wave to the challenger.

A small naval escort followed the Lone Star as she pointed her nose down the sound and started for Jersey City.

How Phoenix Got Its Name

It will be of interest to many people to know that years ago the name of the town was Gasburg. After what was, for these times, a big fire, the village grew so rapidly it was named Phoenix, as according to the Greek fable, the great bird, much like an eagle, which the Greeks called the Phoenix, set fire to its nest, burned itself in the flames, out of which came a greater Phoenix.

All residents of the community, who are interested in a live Phoenix (town) are asked to enter the Phoenix section of the parade at Ashland Monday morning. Look for the Phoenix banners and join the ranks, show the world how strong the old spirit is, with the new life of more recent years added. Come!
