Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason

INTERRUPTIONS.

SOMETIMES when I would write a pome, and I am clawing at my dome to find a theme uplifting, a fellow who would sell a cheese, a corkscrew or a swarm of bees, to my abode comes drifting. I sadly listen to his spiel and try to tell how tough I feel, that I can't patronize him; I do not say that he's a bore, while to the fact that there's a door endeavoring to wise him. And when he's gone there comes a dame who wants to have me sign my name to some absurd petition; and, smiling still across my face, I gently shoo her from my place in Johnson's New Addition. And then I take my lyre and try to warble like a choir, I punch said lyre and paw it; but Thompson blows into my den to say he's lost his Maltese hen, and ask me if I saw it. And thus it goes some bitter days, I strive in vain to chant my lays, my chanter isn't working; and so I say, "I'll go down town and bore Smith, Robinson and Brown, and let my harp quit jerking." I call on men who need their time and perpetrate the same old crime that made my own day dreary; they foudle me with wicker chairs or drop me down the basement stairs, and life is dark and weary.

Quill Points

Some men are born poor and some monkey with the stock exchange.

Still, this coo clucks organization has a harmless, barn-yard sound.

If you can't lick him, flatter him. It amounts to the same thing in the end.

The tired business man probably gets that way reading advice about how to get back to normal.

A congressman informs us that every great business man has his hobby. Doesn't he mean lobby?

"Tariff tinkerers are not satisfied with their work." That, apparently, makes it unanimous.

The book salesman can get almost every man's signature on the dotted line if he will say that he is offering the work to intellectuals only.

What did ships do for a living in the old days before they began to bring immigrants to America?

As people grow older they lose faith in Santa Claus and begin to look to the Federal treasury.

Every once in a while you see a headline that doesn't say anything about anybody getting killed.

A man may forgive you if you ridicule his children, but not if you ridicule his home-brew formula.

To the lay mind, about the only difference between golf and old-fashioned "shinny" is plaid stockings.

When a negotiator says his patience is exhausted, he probably means that his epithets are exhausted.

Most of the light touring cars are designed to hold five passengers or twelve girls.

Lenine has executed a few more princes. Apparently they were overlooked during the spring house-cleaning.

Man is never raved over by the ladies except when he is three months old and when he becomes a movie star.

The best movies nearly always get through introducing all of the scene shifters before the first reel is exhausted.

If it accomplished nothing else the war improved the average American's batting average in the matter of geography.

A Congressman remarks that man is no greater than his convictions. Neither, for that matter, is a system of jurisprudence.

You can judge of a man's richness by the size of his kennel, and judge of his poverty by the number of hounds about the yard.

One reason why Germany is leading the way back to normal is because she doesn't have to waste any energy to preserve her sphere of influence.

HOME RUNS GALORE IN BIG LEAGUES

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—With only a few more games to be played, the season's record of home runs in the national and American leagues is nearly 300 more circuit clouts ahead of their 1920 total. Both leagues to date have made 924 homers.

American league players so far this year have walloped the ball for 470 homers, against 370 last year, and in the National league 475 have been hit to date as compared with 261 in 1920.

ACCUSE ITALIAN DUKE OF PLOT ON KING

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Violent attacks upon the Duke d'Aosta, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy by the newspaper Il Paesi of Rome has created a great sensation in that city, says a Rome dispatch to the London Times.

The newspaper charges the duke with inspiring and protecting the Fascisti, or extreme nationalists, and striving to gain the throne with the support of certain generals and other officers.

The Times' correspondent adds that rumors of such a movement have been current in Italy for some time and it has been suggested that the Duke d'Aosta has been spreading discontent with the present regime in the ranks of the carabinieri and the army generally.

8—Who invented the Bertillion system of identification? Ans. Alphonse Bertillion, a Frenchman.

9—How can sweet potatoes be kept through the winter? Ans. Pack them in dry sand which has been heated to drive out all moisture and put them in a dry place.

10—How can you improve the cutting surface of a razor strop? Ans. Rubt it a number of times over a tin vessel and the sharpening ability will be improved.

How I Earned My First Dollar

A series of pen sketches describing how some of Medford's well known citizens climbed the first rung.

Joe Brown

"When I was a boy about 12 years old in the big woods of Minnesota I happened upon my first dollar. I was a barefooted boy, and every night I went out into the timber and drove home the cows. I was going down the road, kicking up the dust, when I found a dollar bill. I picked it up and put it in my pocket, and before I could get home I lost it. I never found it, and I've never felt so bad about anything since. I was a man with whiskers and voting the democratic ticket before I have a distinct recollection of getting a-hold of another one."

Quotations You Should Know

"Damn with faint praise, assent with cruel leer, and without sneering teach the rest to sneer; willing to wound, and yet afraid to strike, just hint a fault, and hesitate dislike."
—Alexander Pope 1688-1744.
