For the candle procession and pageant music a chorus of twelve girls reserves will sing. Miss Carmichael will speak at the close of the pageant and the high school girl reserves will sing "Taps," as they did at their Silt-cook conference, to end the program.

Refreshments will be served by the membership committee. Association membership meetings are to be held three times during the year and this first one should be represented by every member and every woman or girl interested in the Y. W. C. A.

The Screen

Anita Stewart in "Sowing the Wind"

In announcing Anita Stewart in her latest photoplay, "Sowing the Wind," the management of the Page theatre feels perfectly safe in assuring its patrons of seeing this popular screen actress at her very best. If Miss Stewart has ever lacked the proper opportunity before to give her talents full scope, she is given this chance in

"Sowing the Wind," as she portrays a role requiring the most consummate skill as an all-around interpreter of the dramatic art in its highest form. All fans who like really human stories in which the star delineates character from a purely human standpoint will like Miss Stewart in this excellent picture at the Page theatre today, remaining until Friday night.

FEATURE APPLES AT WEDNESDAY'S FORUM

The 1925 Oregon Exposition and the 1921 Oregon State Fair will be the topics which will be discussed by Mayor C. E. Gates at the forum of the Medford Chamber of Commerce tomorrow.

The Oregon Exposition in 1925 is of vital importance to the upbuilding of Oregon, whereas the 1921 state fair had an influential and beneficial effect on Jackson county, on account of this county having received first prize for its display over all other counties in the state.

As next Thursday will be National Apple Day, the members of the forum will celebrate by having apples served in various forms. The Medford Hotel has an enviable reputation for preparing same.

AMERICA LAUDED FOR WAR SERVICE BY LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Mr. Lloyd George the prime minister, who headed the cabinet members attending the ceremony in honor of the unknown dead British soldier yesterday said:

"It is my special privilege on behalf of the government and the people of this country to express their profound gratitude to the president and to the congress of the United States of America for this striking act of homage to our valiant dead."

"The action of the president and the congress has deeply stirred British hearts. We know the value of this famous medal. We know how jealously its worth has been guarded. We know it represents, not merely in purpose but in the fact, the highest distinction which the great republic can confer on valor amongst its sons and we also know that for two generations it has been consecrated by its association with deeds of conspicuous heroism amongst a conspicuously brave people."

"We thank the American people for conferring this, the highest tribute of honor in their command, upon the poor remains of an humble and obscure British warrior who gave his life for a noble cause. We thank them for conferring this medal of honor through the hands of the distinguished soldier who played such a notable part in the final triumph. We thank the ambassador of the United States for his eloquent words."

"This empire to its remotest corners will not miss the deep significance of this deed and of this day. We feel we are taking part in no idle pageant. The warrior who rests in this sacred tomb is but the representative of nearly one million British dead, from many continents who gave their young lives freely, not only for the honor of their native lands, but for human freedom in all lands."

The cause for which they fell America espoused in a critical hour and helped to carry to victory, so that the homage laid today on this grave will remain an emblem of common sacrifice for a common purpose. It will be a reminder not only to this generation, but for all generations to come that the fundamental aims of these two democracies are the same and will be interpreted as a solemn pledge given to the valiant dead that these two mighty peoples who were comrades in the great war have resolved to remain comrades to guarantee a great peace."

ULSTER VETERANS DRILL FOR WAR

BELFAST, Oct. 18.—Reports that the Ulster volunteer force was being reorganized were verified in official quarters here today. It was stated that Ulster ex-service men were enrolling. "Why shouldn't the Sinn Feiners drill, even in Belfast?" was the comment in official quarters.

The Ulster Ex-Service Men's association, nearly all of whose members were volunteers in the pre-war days is constituted on strictly party lines, no republicans or nationalists being eligible.

At Lisburn last night 1000 of them assembled and under commandants who are ex-officers of the British army marched in formation along a specified route. The men carried no arms during their march, although they were well equipped in this respect.

ENGLISH BUSINESS MEN FAVOR CUT IN ARMY

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Reduction of the size of the British army and a cutting down of the royal household cavalry by one-third is recommended in a report formulated by a committee of business men appointed to examine the expenditures of the war office. The committee however urges that British troops be retained in Mesopotamia, says the Daily Sketch.

It is asserted by the Sketch that the committee was surprised to find the number of men in the British army at present to be 10,000 in excess of the forces in 1914.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH FELLOWSHIP DINNER THURSDAY EVENING

A call is being sent out to all the members and families of the First Christian church to gather in the basement of the church at 7 p. m. Thursday evening for a sumptuous good fellowship dinner. A program is being prepared and a good time is anticipated. Every member of the church and family are urged to be present and enjoy the fellowship of this special fall occasion.

The Mystery of the Cook's Pet Parrot

A FUNNY paper recently,
CLIPPED ME a good laugh,
WITH A wheeze about,
A FAMOUS ventriloquist,
AND WHY he had quit,
THE VAUDEVILLE stage,
IT SAID he discovered,
HE COULD make more jack,
SELLING WOODEN parrots,
SO WHEN I got home,
I PASSED the joke,
TO OUR cook, who owns,
BOTH A speechless parrot,
AND A sense of humor,
BUT SHE muffed it,
BECAUSE SHE didn't know,
WHAT A ventriloquist was,
SO I had to explain it,
AND ON the wayout,
I BLEW just a whiff,
OF CIGARETTE smoke,
AT HER amusing old,
FOOL OF A parrot,
WHICH NEVER talks,
AND I said, "Poll,
HOW D'YOU like it?"
AND TO this day,
IT'S GOT me guessing,
WHETHER IT was cook,
OR THE blamed bird,
WHICH SQUAWKED back,
"THEY SATISFY."

Healthy Mother Merry Children Happy Home

TO maintain a happy home the housewife must keep in good health. Her duties are many and various, and it seems as if every other member of the family depended very much on her. "Where is my hat?" cries the boy. "What did you do with my coat?" asks the daughter. "I can't find any handkerchiefs," yells the husband. The housewife is usually the advisor and general manager of the family. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women to maintain a happy home by keeping them in good health.

Bloomington, Ill.—"I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a wonderful sight of good. I was never very strong and female trouble kept me weak so that I had no interest for my housework. I had such a back-ache I could not cook a meal or clean up a room without raging with pain. I would rub my back with alcohol and it would ease for a few hours, but after I had taken three bottles of Vegetable Compound my aches began to gradually leave me. Now I am as strong and healthy as any woman and I give my thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my health."—Mrs. J. A. McQuerry, 610 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill.

Dante, So. Dakota.—"I would have pains and cramps every month until I could hardly stand it and could not do my work at all at that time and often had to go to bed. I went to a physician, but he did not do me much good and said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspaper and thought I would give it a trial. Now I feel lots better and don't have to give up and go to bed, and can do all my work. You may use these facts as a testimonial, and I will answer with pleasure all letters I receive, and you may be sure I will praise your wonderful medicine."—Mrs. ARTHUR J. KADE, Box 71, Dante, South Dakota.
