

A NIGHT IN SPAIN TO BE FEATURE OF ANDREWS BENEFIT

A novelty number of the George Andrews Complimentary concert at the Page theatre on Tuesday evening next will be a half-hour act entitled "A Night in Spain," in which a group of singers and others will be featured in singing, dancing and pantomime, in beautiful costumes and with special lighting effects. This will be one of the most enjoyable turns ever presented in Medford. Spanish beauties of every type and gay cavalieros will wield fans and tambourines, guitars and castanets in a reproduction of the atmosphere and romance of Old Spain which always appeals to the imagination of auditors in every land. Spain has never produced a great composer of its own, but all of the world's great composers have made use of Spanish folk-music, with its warmth of color and fascinating rhythm, the very soul of music, a spontaneous growth out of the hearts and lives of the people of the land of the Alhambra.

The old reliable firm of "Potash & Perimutter," in their new role as managers of a New York theatrical booking office, will have their hands full with the vagaries and ambitions of aspiring Hamlets and unheard-of vaudeville headliners, temperamental prima donnas and struggling geniuses of every variety known to stage life. An enlarged orchestra of the picked musicians of the city, under the able direction of Wilson Waite, has been rehearsing for two weeks especially for this occasion. The orchestra, in addition to accompaniments, will have two special numbers on the program, which will provide a treat for all lovers of instrumental music. Medford has occasion to be proud of its orchestral organization, and the performance Tuesday evening will mark a further advance in its position as a musical center.

The last rehearsal of the Choral society will be held on Monday evening, at the Presbyterian church; a full attendance is expected. The final touches of preparation for the first numbers on the program will be given at this rehearsal. The box office of the Page is open today, from 12 until 5, for the exchange of advance sale tickets for seat reservations. The remaining seats will be on regular sale at the box office afterward, beginning today at the regular box office hour.

FEDERAL OFFICIALS ENJOY THEIR STAY

E. M. Morton, deputy United States court clerk, as do all the other officials and attaches of the court from Judge C. E. Wolverton down, who have been on duty at the southern Oregon session of the court for the past two weeks, will return to Portland with regret, for they have greatly enjoyed the local hospitality, surroundings and climate. Morton distinguished himself late last Wednesday afternoon while fishing at the Rogue river and the High Jinks with Chief Deputy U. S. Marshal John D. Mann, Postmaster Wm. J. Warner and Assistant Postmaster Cliff Beckett by landing a gamey 4 1/2 pound steelhead which gave him a lively 20 minutes scrap before being safely landed.

It was his first experience at steel-head fishing and the upstate man was so enthusiastic over his catch that he had the fish dressed and on exhibition around the federal building all day Thursday, after which he expressed it to Mrs. John D. Mann at Portland to be served on the Mann table after he and Mr. Mann return home.

PRESBYTERIANS TO HOLD CONFERENCE MISSION LABORS

A conference will be held in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday of next week October 26th at which visiting delegates will be present from the nearby Woman's Missionary Societies and churches of Jacksonville, Jhoenix, Ashland, Central Point, Rogue River and Grants Pass and possibly Klamath Falls. Outside speakers to be present are "Mrs. C. W. Williams, recently of Minneapolis, but now the field representative of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions in the states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho, Rev. W. H. Amos of Portland assistant superintendent of Home Missions in Oregon and Rev. Weston T. Johnson of San Francisco, who is Pacific Coast representative of the Board of Foreign Missions.

Mrs. Williams is an exceptionally strong speaker and worker and it will be a rare treat for the women of Southern Oregon to meet and hear her. The women of the Missionary societies of these various churches are to meet at 2 p. m. and will have two hours of conference with Mrs. Williams. The later part of the afternoon from 4 p. m. and the evening sessions will be given over to discussions and addresses by the representatives who will bring to us a vivid picture of the great organized agencies of the Presbyterian church and their far-reaching work. A supper will be served by the women of the Missionary Society assisted by the Woman's Association of the local church for visiting delegates and local people who can be present.

BAPTISTS WILL RELATE NEW CHURCH PLANS

Sunday is set aside at the First Baptist church as "Church Building Sunday." The morning service will be given over to a platform meeting when the plans for the new building will be outlined. Mr. Aubrey G. Smith will speak on what Sunday school features will be made prominent, while Lester Merriman, president of the B. Y. P. U. will point out how the new church will be made to serve the young people, and Mrs. J. H. Dittmore, president of the Woman's Auxiliary, will speak on the social features which will be possible in the new building, and Rev. F. R. Leach will give some facts of special interest to the people. The public are invited to this service which will be of interest to the entire city.

This election is for the purpose of selecting an executive committee and an advisory board. Representatives from the various branches are urged to attend this meeting as well as all members of the Red Cross. This date is fixed by national headquarters and is observed throughout the country. Medford High School Notes

Mrs. J. C. Mann entertained some of the teachers last Friday night. Those present were Misses Manning, Gaumgartner, Smith, Sherwood, Wallace, Bragg and Reynolds. It may be of interest to many of her Medford friends to hear of the marriage of our former English teacher, Miss Tula French Kinsley to Vernon Barrett Fairley, Sept. 28, 1921, at her home, Condon, Oregon. The typewriting contest for the commercial classes of southern Oregon will be held some time in May. Miss Sherwood sprained her ankle while at institute and is not able to walk without limping. The first issue of the Hi Times was distributed Thursday. Cash Wood, the Y. M. C. A. secretary, spoke to the high school Thursday regarding the convention to be held at Ashland this week. He urged the boys of Medford to attend the convention. The English V classes are studying Shakespeare's Twelfth Night. Thursday afternoon an assembly was called to encourage the sale of football tickets and to arouse enthusiasm among the students. The members of the Junior class have ordered their class rings and pins. The student body dues have been coming in quite well but still there are some who have not yet paid. An assembly was called last week to take up subscriptions for the Hi Times. The subscription price is one dollar per year. Quite a number of students paid up but about half of them have not as yet. The seniors especially are not supporting the paper nearly as well as they should.
