BIG OVATION GIVEN FOCH BY LEGION

General Pershing Leads in Three Cheers for Marshal of France, Who Pays High Tribute to American Dough-boys—Distinguished Service Medal Awarded to Galbraith.

"OH, LORD, I'M NOT WORTHY," SAYS FOCH

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 1.—The military chieftains of France, Italy and Belgium paused today in the midst of their activities in connection with the American Legion's national convention to pay homage to the Man of Calvary.

Marshal Foch, General Diaz and Baron Jacques cast aside military dignity and in the small private chapel at the residence of Bishop Thomas Lillis celebrated an early morning mass.

During the most solemn part of the religious ceremony, the grey-headed marshal of France bowed low as he murmured: "Oh, Lord, I am not worthy."

Following the mass, Bishop Lillis addressed Marshal Foch.

"You are the hero of the world. Thousands will pay you tribute today, but amid it all you have passed long enough to worship God."

"During the world war you stood out as the savior of civilization. But with all, you were a true son of the church."

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—The American Legion received its war time commanders—Marshal Ferdinand Foch of France and General John J. Pershing—here today with a welcome fit for the heroes of victorious armies. The thousands of delegates and visitors to the national convention of the American veterans gave the military leaders a tumultuous greeting that spoke the affection of the American soldier and people for the two men.

After hearing the visitors the convention adjourned at 10:30 a. m., until tomorrow morning to permit the delegates and visitors to attend the dedication of Kansas City's memorial to its war dead and to participate in the big legion parade this afternoon.

Marshal Foch brought to the legionnaires a personal declaration of comradeship and from his government bore the official greetings of France.

Just the appearance of the marshal was enough to throw the huge hall into a frenzy of applause and acclaim and General Pershing was given an equal ovation by the former soldiers who served under him.

General Pershing announced that the war department had awarded the distinguished service medal, posthumously, to the late Colonel Frederick W. Galbraith, Jr., commander of the American Legion at the time of his death last spring.

General Pershing led the convention in three cheers for the marshal of France. He did it with the enthusiasm of a college cheer leader, smiling broadly.

Marshal Foch concluded his address as follows: "Your second army impatiently awaited to attack in its turn in the direction of Metz, which already was stretching her arms to us for deliverance; but harassed and defeated, the enemy laid down his arms."

"A solemn hour, which compensates"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Justice Hitz of the District of Columbia supreme court declined today to enjoin Attorney General Daugherty, United States Marshal Splain and others from serving subpoenas or other legal process on the National Coal association and John D. ## U.S. SOLDIERS HANGED WITHOUT A TRIAL

Senator Watson of Georgia Makes Sensational Charge in Senate—Produces Picture of Gallows—Claims Dough-boys Were Shot By Officers—Charge Denied.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Investigation by a special committee into charges by Senator Watson, democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers in France were hanged without court martial or other trial was ordered by the senate today by unanimous vote. The committee will be appointed by the president of the senate and Senator Watson will be invited before it to produce proof.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Charges by Senator Watson, democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers serving in France, were hanged without court martial, or other form of trial, precipitated a heated debate today in the senate. Chairman Watsonworth of the military committee invited the Georgia senator to appear before his committee to produce evidence in support of his charges.

Senator Watson produced a small photograph of an alleged hanging and insisted that his charges were true. Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, said he had examined the photograph and had been told by two former service men that the charges were true, but that he was "unwilling to proceed on such evidence."

Hanged Day After Day

"How many senators know," Senator Watson had asked, "that a private soldier was frequently shot by his officers because of some complaint against officers' insolence and that they had gallows upon which men were hanged, day after day, without court martial or any other form of trial? I had and have the photograph of one of those gallows upon which 21 white boys already had been executed at sunrise when the photograph was taken; and there were others waiting in the camp jails to be hanged morning after morning."

Senator Watson declared that his charge could not be lightly brushed aside, "nor could it be excused on grounds of excitability in debate."

He demanded that Senator Watson produce the proof.

Senator Watson replied that he resented the "democrat" and would tell him foot to foot and shoulder to shoulder that he was equal to any senator, and assumed full responsibility for his charges. He said he would refuse to go before any committee with his evidence, or to produce his witnesses unless they were guaranteed immunity.

Means What He Says

"I mean every word I say, and I would not overpaint the picture. I have a photograph of the gallows upon which white soldiers were hanged and I can produce witnesses who saw the executions."

"The men were hanged like dogs! I can produce men if it were safe, who saw men shot without trial. I cannot compel men to come to this uncertain danger."

"The food was piled up mountain high in France and virtually given to the French when our men were starving. I can prove that our men were unnecessarily exposed and left to die on the road. I know ex-service men who saw these things and told me about them. Told me how letters were censored and stereotyped to conform to regulations and how soldiers who would not comply were subjected to barbarous treatment. These men will not go back to Europe again to fight. I have heard them state they would die before they would do so. The men were treated inhumanely and told me so themselves."

Senator Watsonworth vigorously challenged the truth of Senator Watson's charges.

Senator Watsonworth asserted heatedly that "not one man in our vast army was executed without a court martial."

Senator Watson then produced his small photograph of an alleged illegal execution. It was passed among the senators who examined it carefully.

PARROT SINGS 'HELLO, COME IN!' WHEN DRY BRIGADE INVADERS HOCH DOMICILE

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 1.—When officers headed by Mayor Worthen of Pasco, raided the residence of V. Volkman on the east side of Pasco Saturday night in the expectation of finding not only bubbling moonshine, but decided resistance to their nocturnal visit as well, they were greeted with a cheery "hello, come in," in response to their knock. In answer to the very cordial invitation, the officers entered and found the sole occupant of the room to be a large parrot. Further investigation brought to light, however, two complete stills which showed signs of recent use and the alleged owner of the stills, V. Volkman. The coils of the stills were encased in two copper fire extinguishers and a five-gallon gasoline can.

It was estimated by the officers that the outfit was capable of turning out about three gallons of moonshine a day.

Following arraignment in police court, Volkman pleaded guilty to the charge of having liquor in his possession and was fined $200 and costs. When asked if he had anything to say, he replied: "No, only I'm going home and wring that parrot's neck."

U.S. CONSUL AT LISBON IS BOMBED

Infernal Machine Explodes On Staircase of Consulate in Portugal Capital—Consul General Hollis Has Narrow Escape—U. S. Department of Justice Launches Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Investigation has been instituted by the department of justice into threats being made by radicals in connection with the case of Sacco and Vanzetti, Italians convicted in Massachusetts of the murder of a mill paymaster.

LISBON, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—A bomb exploded this morning on the staircase at the American consulate here. No damage was done, however. The police attribute the outrage to agitation in connection with the cases of Sacco and Vanzetti, Italians, under conviction of murder in Massachusetts.

The bomb had been placed before the door of the quarters of the American consulate. It exploded after the consul in leaving the quarters, had given it a push with his foot, but the interval intervening was sufficient to give him time to escape.

Officials reported that a note found nearby said the bomb was meant as a protest in the Sacco-Vanzetti case.

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 31.—The American embassy has received a communication supposed to have been written by local sympathizers with the Sacco-Vanzetti movement, which says:

"If these two innocent beings are put to death you will pay with your lives."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—A dispatch from Consul General Hollis at Lisbon today reported the bomb explosion in the consulate there. The consul general said the Portuguese would make efforts to apprehend those responsible for the affair. Only trifling damage to the building was reported.

SPECIAL COUNSEL WILL AID STATE IN BOOZE CASES

"Why I have not asked the county court to employ an attorney to assist me in the prosecution of the bootleg cases in circuit court is because it is my duty to prosecute such cases without incurring any needless expense to the taxpayers as long as I feel that I can successfully handle such cases," said District Attorney Rawles Moore in an interview this noon. "It would be a different matter if I had lost several such cases and felt that I should have assistance in the prosecution of them."

"Some misguided people ever since circuit court opened and they learned that I was to be pitted in the important bootleg cases against two attorneys for the defense became needlessly alarmed in my opinion, and began to ask me to request the county court to provide and assistant in the prosecution. Not only that but they began asking the county court to provide me an assistant prosecutor, and were informed by the court that such an assistant would be provided if I asked for one."

"The county court has always been very good to me in that way and I felt all the time that if I wanted an assistant in the prosecution of the bootleg cases all I had to do was to ask for it. In fact once or twice influenced by outsiders, Judge Gardner came to me and offered such counsel."

"My position is that I am hired by all the taxpayers to perform the duties of county attorney without unnecessary expense to them, and as long as I feel that I can look after the public interest without such an expense. Understand I do not spurn extra legal help, but only the expense it would entail."

"But matters came to a head this morning when interested people came to the county court and offered to pay the expense out of their own pockets for a competent legal assistant for me in the prosecution of the bootleg cases, if I would accept such counsel."

"I do accept the proposition, in fact welcome it, as long as the expense comes out of private pockets and not the taxpayers generally."
