

Local and Personal

This was chicken day at the public market, not by arrangement, but just because so many farmers and poultry raisers decided to bring chickens to sell at the market, and it so happened fortunately that the people of the city were chicken hungry. Probably more chickens were sold this morning at the market than on any one day ever before including the days before Christmas, Thanksgiving and other holidays. As the chickens began to pile up this morning it was at first feared that the supply would greatly exceed the demand, but the patrons began to buy poultry so briskly that by 9:30 a. m. there were only 10 chickens left.

The largest buck ever killed in Klamath county and brought to Klamath Falls was shot in Barnes Valley last week by Barney Chambers and Prentiss Puckett, who stated that the animal a mile tall, had ten points on one side and eight on the other. The only drawback was a means to weigh the animal but it was estimated the deer weighed about 300 pounds.—Klamath Falls Herald.

Discuss Arms Parley Presbyterian Church Sunday P. M. Service

Every citizen should hear one of the speakers on Law Enforcement in some of the churches tomorrow. At the Presbyterian church, Rev. W. J. Herwig will deliver at the morning service his masterly address on "America's Opportunity in World Crisis." Dr. Lovett, pastor of Baptist church of Boise, Idaho, in which state Mr. Herwig worked for several years, says of him: "Mr. Herwig's address on Sunday morning was one of the most concise, intelligent, and eloquent, sane and stirring utterances which I have ever heard."

At the evening service several speakers will bring some phase of the disarmament question. In addition to the pastor, Mr. Ben Sheldon, state representative, and Attorney F. J. Newman will each have a part in the discussion. This promises to be a most interesting meeting and will prepare the minds of those who attend for a better understanding of the difficulties in the way of the conference and also the conditions and forces which lie back of the calling of the conference and results hoped for. The meeting will be open to everyone.

RED CROSS DRIVE TO START MONDAY UNDER FULL SAIL

Coincident of one of the most successful campaigns ever launched for charity and civic betterment in Medford General B. F. Lindas will put a great organization of business and professional men into the field Monday morning in the annual Red Cross maintenance campaign. The workers will meet at the chamber of commerce 9:30 where final instructions and supplies for the work will be furnished.

It is the intention of the executive committee of the Red Cross that no person able to do something to help his fellow man in Medford be overlooked during the campaign. Medford has no associated charity organization as many other places in the country maintain but is fortunate in having one of the best organized Red Cross home service departments, which does a much more comprehensive work.

The subscriptions will be made on pledge cards furnished by the solicitors and will be on the monthly basis. In this way no one will be asked to impose any burden on himself in order to give to the worthy cause, the only opportunity of the kind in Medford. It is the intention of the committee to publish names of the subscribers in alphabetical order. Every right thinking citizen will no doubt recognize his duty, which should assure a list of many hundreds of names.

Pledge cards will be left at all of the banks in order that anyone the committee might fail to see can do his or her share toward the maintenance of the Red Cross. These funds on the monthly subscription basis will all be used in Jackson county to relieve distress throughout the coming year in the homes of the unfortunate as well as for the hundreds of ex-service men who are continually asking aid from the Red Cross.

The following citizens have volunteered to put the campaign across which assures its success:

W. H. Gore, Fred Heath, Ben C. Sheldon, B. J. Palmer, Ralph Woolford, H. G. Nicholson, G. A. Coddling, Glen Fabrick, Frank Farrell, T. J. Fuson, C. M. Kidd, John C. Mann, O. A. Aenderfer, C. C. McCurdy, A. H. Miller, S. T. Richardson, Jack Wakefield, Leonard Carpenter, R. W. Rubl, Axel Hubbard, W. H. Tait, H. L. Walther.

Driskel Compliments Builders of Home

Medford, Oregon, 11-4-21.

"I wish to make a little statement through the Tribune in reference to men I had under my employ during the building of my home on lot at 310 South Riverside. I have always thought as little as an employer could do was to speak a good word in favor of his employes when he thought they were worthy, and I deem it a privilege as well as a duty to say that I was well satisfied with every man of the different trades in building my home. All the different trades were let by contract except the carpenter work, which was done by day work under the management of B. F. Fifer, who selected his helpers and was foreman, and on the job every hour, looking after the building of the house in every respect. The men he selected as helpers could not have been better.

If I were going to follow the business of building nice homes I would want B. F. Fifer as manager and foreman.
