The Medford High School Athletic association may be credited as being the first in southern Oregon to take out a rain insurance policy, they having signed an agreement with the Holmes Insurance Agency of this city by which that firm must pay all the expenses of bringing the Albany football team here Friday and the estimated profits of the game if the rainfall on Armistice day exceeds one-tenth of an inch. The high school officials have taken this precaution because of the expense involved in bringing the Albany squad here.

Among the wonders of southern Oregon, Prof. I. C. Wilson would give a prominent place to the immense droves of turkeys which roam the deserts north of Medford. During a recent visit to that region Ashland's erudite instructor saw a stampede of 5000 turkeys—or maybe it was 500—which he declares was a fearsome sight, with a multitude of gobbles gobbling making an awful chorus in his distracted ears. The turkeys are reported to have been eating great quantities of grasshoppers and grinding them up with agates and other precious stones which are found in that interesting region.—Ashland Tidings.

GRATEFUL WOMEN

Gratitude and appreciation for health restored by that good old-fashioned root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is what prompts so many women from all parts of the country to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., of Lynn, Mass., the letters of praise, which we publish from time to time. Women who have always had their health cannot realize what it means to others many of whom have suffered months and even years from such ailments, and are now well and happy through the use of this natural restorative, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Ady
