

VISITORS BEGIN TO ARRIVE FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Visitors began to arrive in the city today for the Armistice day celebration which begins at nine o'clock tomorrow morning. Favored by the beautiful weather which has marked the past few weeks, with the city decorated and not a single hitch in the big program an unqualified success for the entire undertaking is confidently expected.

No one, and least of all the ex-service man, but can remember the relief and the joy which came with the word three years ago that the trials and uncertainties of war were over. To the man in the trenches the armistice meant even life itself for none knew in battle what the next moment might bring forth. To those at home it meant a lessening of the heavy burdens and denials which war had heaped one upon another.

There is little about war which is conducive to gaiety but it is certain that the anniversary of a victorious peace is a fit time for celebration.

Medford post of the American Legion has undertaken an ambitious program for the celebration this year and it is hoped that sufficient interest will be shown to warrant celebration of the day in future years on an equally elaborate scale.

Fun Starts Early
Tomorrow's schedule opens with street entertainments along humorous lines which will occupy the time from 9 a. m. to about 11 o'clock. The exhibit of Rogue river apples in the chamber of commerce building will be open for inspection after ten o'clock and should be visited by everyone interested in this valley and its products.

At 11:15 the high school student body and band will escort their football team to the gridiron where they will meet the Albany high school team in a battle which promises to provide plenty of thrills.

At noon in accordance with the proclamation issued by Mayor C. E. Gates the fire whistle will be sounded and all street traffic and other activities will cease for a period of two minutes while buglers stationed on the tops of various buildings blow taps. The mayor's proclamation calls upon citizens to give this time to silent homage to those who lost their lives in the great war.

Colonel E. E. Kelly, marshal of the day, at 1:30 will lead a monster parade through the business section of the city. Every effort has been put forth to make this attraction as big and as representative as it is possible to make such a procession in a city of this size.

Three o'clock ushers in two events—the Ladies' Auxiliary reception at the Legion hall for ladies, and the big smoker at the Natatorium for men.

Big Smoker at Nat
Some of the best boxers in the northwest have been training for weeks for their appearance in the ring at the smoker. Frankie O'Brien of Portland and Ben Dixon of Medford will top the card with a ten round go that should be a hummer as both these men are in fine form and both are mit artists par excellence. Billy Ryan and Johnny Carlson and Joe Blackburn and Kid Riehl will make up two other matches of six rounds each which hold possibilities of thrills galore. Some snappy preliminaries and, as an added attraction a little vaudeville between bouts, round out this entertainment.

The movies which have been grinding away since 11 a. m. will help fill in the interim after the smoker until 7 p. m. when a band concert will be given in the city park.

Nine o'clock marks the climax in way of entertainment for at that hour Alford's orchestra of fourteen pieces will get under way and the grand march led by officers of the legion will start the annual Armistice day ball. Elaborate decorations, spectacular features and seductive music will bring this event up to par with those of the past which have proved so successful.

TELEPHONE ARMISTICE CEREMONIES TO S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—All that is audible of the national Armistice Day ceremonies in Arlington cemetery at Washington, tomorrow will be conveyed through telephonic devices to thousands of San Franciscans, who are to assemble in Civic Auditorium here to pay homage to America's unknown dead.

Business of every description will halt for two minutes from nine to 9:02 a. m., in silent tribute to the unknown warrior and all Southern Pacific trains—local, state and trans-continental—as well as the company's harbor ferries will come to a dead stop for the same length of time under a general order issued by the company.

Liberty Bonds.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Liberty bonds closed:

BIG FOOTBALL GAME TO START 11:15 TOMORROW

The Albany-Medford High School football game which is to be played on the new high school athletic field tomorrow at 11:15 will be one of the best games to be seen on the home field this year. The rating of the Albany team as one of the strongest teams in the Willamette valley and the fact that the Medford team has lost but one game this season are factors that promise a fast game and a good fight.

This game will be the occasion of the dedication of the new athletic field which has finally been realized at no small expense by the local High school. The new field which is situated at the end of north Holly street is equipped with a large bleacher section for the band and spectators, with a substantial fence, dressing rooms and showers both hot and cold and a backstop which will be held home plate when the baseball season begins next spring. The new field is to be used for football, baseball and track.

As in the "Good old days" a rally will be staged at the high school at 7:30 this evening and every high school student is urged to be present. If your voice is weak officials in charge of the rally urge that you make all the noise possible anyway. Vernon Vawter, Paul McDonald, Sealey Hall and "Irish" Coleman will speak to the assembly at the rally, after which the entire body will parade Main street and give a demonstration of real enthusiasm. Boys are expected to take part in this as well as girls.

A rally and serpentine will start tomorrow morning at the High school building at 10:45 and will monopolize all privileges that pertain to noise making and enthusiasm until the game starts at 11:15. This rally will proceed from the High school building through the business district to the scene of the contest and a crowd of proportions never before seen in this city is expected to accompany them to the athletic field where the game will commence immediately upon their arrival.

Any high school students not taking part in the rally and serpentine will be taken into custody by the American Legion "Gold Bricks" and will be held until they can be properly chastised by a specially appointed committee from the high school student body.

U. S. ADOPTS BOLD PLAN

portant reduction for Japan, it is said than for Great Britain or the United States.

In any case, naval officers point out, the question of naval replacements must be dealt with and also, no naval power would be willing to stop all construction because of the factor of advancement of knowledge in naval engineering which can be carried on only by building.

THOUSANDS PAY RESPECT

they too are simple Americans such as he who lies in such state as emperors and kings may not know. Straight to the eastward ran the narrow roped way, marines in olive green field uniforms and with fixed bayonet lining each side. On each man's shoulder swung the looped cords of the four-ingers showing that they wore of a marine regiment decorated by France for high valor on French soil.

Gradually the roped aisle leading on up the great steps to the closed doors of the rotunda filled with folk come to pass by the bier with bowed heads. Off to the right where the steps sweep up to the senate chamber another group gathered about a floral garland, the first of the many to be set in place.

Doors Open to Throng
Just at eight o'clock the great main doors, huge bronze barriers, embellished with intricate figures and designs and long ago given the American republic, strangely enough, by France, on whose soil the soldier died, swung back and the waiting hundreds stepped upward four abreast to pass by the casket.

As the first line stepped within the hall from the group beside the bier where the flowers were being set in place male voices rose in blended harmony that awoke the echoes in the high, vaulted roof above, now flooded with sunlight. They sang the last verse of America:

"Long may our land be bright,
"With freedom's holy light."
They sang with a zeal of victory and no hint of sorrow, and the last notes died away down the long corridors to right and left as the line moved slowly on and out the western entrance, down over the terraced slopes that face out with the white gleam of Washington monument straight ahead and still behind, seemingly out through the center by the great shaft, the square white bulk of Lincoln memorial on the far brim of the Potomac.

every state, on each of which was the state's shield, completely circled the rotunda.

100 Pass a Minute.

As noon drew near the number of those in line to pass by the bier increased in numbers. The people moved through almost at the rate of 100 a minute. At stated intervals delegations approached the catafalque for a brief memorial service, each leaving a wreath. So numerous were the wreaths that guards picked them up and took them away, leaving room for others to come during the day and night.

Premier Briand and the French delegation to the armament conference, carrying a huge bunch of pink chrysanthemums, tied with the tricolor of France, entered the rotunda at 11 o'clock. The premier stood silently for a moment and then moved out with his party.

Many persons in the public line carried floral offerings of their own with which there seldom was a card. In nearly every instance the voluntary offerings were carried by a child. Of all those who filed through one door and out another, old men and old women, grandparents of some soldiers, perhaps, were the most visibly affected, tears streaming down their cheeks.

A three-foot bronze statue symbolizing the "Angel of Peace" was placed on the catafalque as the gift of the president of the Chinese republic.

A few minutes of noon the British delegation, led by Earl Beatty, Arthur J. Balfour and Ambassador Geddes marched into the rotunda from the north entrance. An officer of the guard approached the catafalque, holding aloft a huge wreath. As the offering from the British empire was placed at the side of the coffin, the earl, the former premier, and the ambassador stepped back, and a Scot, his head held high, moved forward with the first tribute from the British possessions. Next came the wreath from Newfoundland, carried by a hard son of the north and then the tribute from Canada, placed by Sir Robert Borden, former premier of the dominion. A son of India wearing a silk turban and representative from every land over which the Union Jack waves, brought their floral tributes. Entire, the British tribute completely covered one side of the coffin hiding it from view.

Just prior to the appearance of the British, the Boy Scouts marched in, saluted and chanted their oath. The Scout wreath carried the legend: "Be prepared."

Advice for Women Who Suffer

"I advise every woman who suffers with kidney trouble to try Foley Kidney Pills," writes Mrs. Bessie Brawner, 2522 Scoville Ave., Cleveland, O. "I could not do my housework, but since taking Foley Kidney Pills I feel like a new woman and am able to do my work." Rheumatic pains, swollen ankles, backache, stiff joints, sore muscles and sleep disturbing bladder ailments indicate disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills act promptly. Sold everywhere. Adv.
