NAVY WINS GAME WITH ARMY 7 TO 0

President and Foreign Dignitaries at Arms Parley Watch Clash On Muddy Field—Sailors Have Punch On Offensive—40,000 Spectators Witness Struggle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The United States Naval academy football team defeated its West Point Army rivals in their annual football game at the Polo Grounds here this afternoon by a score of 7 to 0.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Limitation of armies and scrapping of navies were farthest from the thoughts of Uncle Sam's army and navy today when the football eleven from Annapolis and West Point clashed in battle array at the Polo Grounds.

Diplomatic Washington had made its annual fall pilgrimage to New York and this year seats had been allotted certain delegates to the arms conference who had come from far off lands where a football scrimmage was an unknown form of warfare.

The navy sent its high dignitaries, and on the army side was a place set aside for Secretary of War Weeks.

Both eleven, with the navy a favorite, had put their last polish on their point winning machinery.

Vice-President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, the secretaries of the war and navy departments and the assistant secretary of the navy and Major General James G. Harbord with a host of friends to share their boxes, arrived in the city on an early train.

The probable lineup, as the game opens follows:

Table with 3 columns: Name, Position, Army. Lists players like Storck, Mulligan, Bredister, etc.

The average weight of the navy line as named is 182 3/4 pounds and the back field 151 1/2 pounds; that of the army line 172 1/2 pounds and the back field 166 1/2 pounds.

The officials: Referee, Dr. A. H. Sharpe, Yale; umpire, J. A. Evans, Williams; linesmen, Tom Thorpe, Columbia; field judge, W. G. Cowell, Swarthmore.

Game in Detail Captain Larsen won the toss for the navy and elected to kick off. It was raining and the field was water-soaked.

Unable to gain through the line Mulligan tried a field goal for the Army, the ball passing under the goal. The sailors put the ball in play on their 20 yard line.

After two line plunges for short gains French broke through the middies' line and made a first down for the Army on the Navy's 42 yard line.

Wood punted out of bounds on the Navy's 40 yard line. The Navy was penalized five yards for off-side play.

Cruise in a split off tackle made it first down on the Middies' 26 yard line. The Army knocked down a short forward pass by Conroy.
