

TRIBUTES PAID TO MEMORY OF CHIEF JUSTICE WHITE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The bar of the supreme court of the United States met in the court room today to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of the late Chief Justice Edward D. White.

The meeting was presided over by John W. Davis, former ambassador to England and former solicitor general, who, in referring to the 27 years of service of the late chief justice upon the supreme court bench, declared that during that period "there came a development and expansion of the powers of the federal government and a resulting increase in the labor of the court unsurpassed during any equal period in the history of the republic."

A committee headed by former Senator George Sutherland of Utah and numbering among its members many of the most noted lawyers of the country, submitted resolutions extolling the late chief justice's service to his state and to his nation, declaring his work had constructed for him "a monument as enduring as the court itself."

PITCHED BATTLE RAGES IN BELFAST, FEAR NEW CLASH

BELFAST, Dec. 17.—(By Associated Press.) Fierce firing broke out in Newtownwards road section and east Belfast today. The firing was so intense that trams were suspended. Lewis guns were used against the rioters by the crown forces.

An employe of the tram service was shot dead and at least six persons are known to have been wounded.

In the Ballymacarrett district two persons were shot, William Proudfoot, 47 years old, being wounded in the abdomen and his son in the leg. Another young man was attacked by a crowd and badly beaten.

A victim in another part of the city was John Devaney, 50, who was shot in the chest and severely wounded.

Tomorrow is the anniversary of the closing of the gates of Derry (Londonderry) in 1688, when was begun the famous siege of the forces of James II, which is commemorated in Derry by the burning in effigy of the "traitor governor." This celebration, it is feared, will accentuate the heated feeling.

NAB MAN WHO KNOWS

(Continued from page one.) Mr. Burns declared, a careful check had borne this out. "Lindenfeld," said Mr. Burns, "is the only man that we know in the world that knows all about it."

For this reason, Mr. Burns continued Lindenfeld was sent abroad to get the necessary information for arrest of the participants in the bomb plot and was to have received the $30,000 reward for these disclosures. He was described by Mr. Burns as a highly educated and intellectual man of pronounced radical tendencies, although he did not himself advocate violent measures. He is about 35 years old and has a wife and two children now in New York and is a half brother of Rosa Luxemburg. He went by the name of William Linde in this country. Mr. Burns added, had taken out his first citizenship papers and an effort was made to obtain his second papers for him before he went abroad. He is a Pole by birth, Mr. Burns continued and was forced to leave Russia in 1906 because of his radical connections.

Paul Altendorf, who with Cosgrove trailed Lindenfeld and obtained information from him as to the explosion, was said by the bureau of investigation chief to be a Burns agency man, who had been sent abroad, first upon information supplied by Lindenfeld, but had been unable to make sufficient progress himself, so that Lindenfeld had been sent over to gather the details necessary for a roundup of the suspects. Upon Lindenfeld's failure to report, he added, Cosgrove was sent over to arrest him. Cosgrove's cabled report to the department had not been received when Mr. Burns left Washington at one o'clock for New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—A report that an arrest would be made here this afternoon in connection with the arrest of Wolfe Lindenfeld in Warsaw, Poland, by federal agents investigating the Wall street bomb explosion, was current today. William J. Burns, head of the federal investigation bureau was to arrive here this afternoon.

Police headquarters professed to be without advice regarding the arrest. Local investigators, while expressing intense interest in dispatches from abroad, pointed out in connection with the statement that the Third Internationale had financed the plot with $30,000, that anarchists usually were moved by fanaticism rather than by the desire for gold.

It also was pointed out that J. P. Morgan, for whom the bomb was alleged to have been intended was shooting in Scotland at the time, so that it would have been impossible for a woman spy to have watched him daily.

WARSAW, Dec. 17.—(By Associated Press.) Plots and counter plots, reading like a chapter from fiction, were involved in the search for clues in many parts of Europe by American secret service agents which resulted in the arrest here yesterday of Wolfe Lindenfeld, alias William Linde, in connection with the Wall street bomb explosion in New York in September, 1920. Lindenfeld has fully confessed, the authorities say, naming the finger leaders in the plot, which he declared was aimed at J. P. Morgan, the infernal machine exploding prematurely.

According to Sylvester Cosgrove and Paul Altendorf, who trailed Lindenfeld the suspect has named five principals in the plot now in Europe, who received $30,000 from the Moscow Third Internationale through New York communists. Lindenfeld has declared his willingness to return to New York as soon as possible and turn state's evidence. The Polish authorities say he was exposed in 1906 as a Russian secret agent and fled to America at that time, returning to Europe last spring. Altendorf came to Europe in February last, while Lindenfeld came over in March. During the summer Altendorf, living in various communist centers, obtained a clue which led him to seek Lindenfeld's acquaintance. As a result Cosgrove arrived in Warsaw two months ago, posing as having connections with communist groups in America, and was introduced to Lindenfeld by Altendorf. After establishing his acquaintance Cosgrove suggested to Lindenfeld a scheme whereby, by giving information in regard to the Wall street explosion he could receive a large share of the rewards offered for the arrest of the plotters without risk to himself.

Polish operatives shadowed Lindenfeld and the Poles claim that while Lindenfeld was pretending to play into Cosgrove's hands, he was at the same time double-crossing the Americans. Clues developed while trailing Lindenfeld led the police agents to arrest a number of communists who are alleged to be spies working against the interests of Poland. Several women are involved in this alleged plot.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(By Associated Press.) The reported arrest in Warsaw of Wolfe Lindenfeld on suspicion of complicity in the Wall street bomb plot mystery is "the right story," William J. Burns, director of the bureau of investigation of the justice department said today.

Mr. Burns said he was momentarily expecting a cabled report from Warsaw, but until its receipt he would be unable to discuss the details of the case. He added, however, the department has known of Lindenfeld for some time and indicated that agents had been working upon his supposed connection with the Wall street explosion with the expectation of clearing up the two-year-old mystery.

MAY SOLVE NAVAL WOES

Replying to a question as to whether the British would accept "theoretical recognition," while France declared to be given the right to naval construction she had suggested, it was not her purpose actually to build the ships, the British spokesman returned a decided negative. He said that England and the United States "wished to deal with the matter on the basis of actualities" and not on a theoretical ratio allowance for any power based on national pride alone.

M. Sarraut, the head of the French delegation, it was learned, recalled to the attention of the committee at today's session the promise of secrecy made by all delegations on Thursday and said this agreement had been disregarded by the British spokesmen on Friday. Mr. Sarraut further asserted that he had kept his word and that until the committee changed the rule he intended to observe the obligation.

WOULD SET ASIDE TOUVELLE VERDICT

A motion to set aside the verdict rendered by the jury in the case of E. L. Touvelle vs. the Farm Bureau was made this morning by defense attorney Gus Newberry for the Farm Bureau. George Roberts is attorney for the plaintiff.

The suit involves an alleged breach of contract and in the last case the jury compromised the case awarding Touvelle 50 per cent of the amount for which he sued. The contention of the defense is that the jury did not decide the case on its merits and that the jury had no right to make any other award than all or nothing, according to the validity of the contract. Judge Calkins has taken the motion under advisement.

To Stop Coughing at Night When anyone is suffering from a bronchial affliction or has a cough that lingers on and grows worse at night, the loss of sleep tends to weaken the sufferer and grows more serious the longer it is neglected. Mrs. M. Suter, 617 Longbrook Ave., Stratford Conn., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar has given me great relief from a severe attack of bronchitis. No medicine stands higher throughout the nation as a family remedy for colds, coughs and croup. Sold everywhere. Adv.
