EDEN PRECINCT

By Mrs. Mary O. Carey
Students from Eugene who have returned to their homes in Phoenix for the holidays are Vane Wilder, Berthold and Mabel Hearn and Marie Malmgren.

Guests at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Roberts of Phoenix last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. C. Carey, Charley Roberts, A. H. Houston, and George W. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Duke of Sams Valley, have come over to spend the Christmas season with Mrs. Duke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Button, who have lately moved into the house formerly known as the J. D. Henry place on the highway south of Phoenix.

Dr. Malmgren of Phoenix has a brother who has just arrived at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Malmgren in Phoenix, to spend the holidays.

The many friends of Mrs. M. Rose will be glad to learn that she is very much improved in health. Mrs. Rose is now at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Furry.

Mrs. Ray Yost, nee Irene Denzer, presented her husband with a fine baby girl last week. Mother and child are doing very nicely.

Mrs. Azzie Wright of Phoenix, returned from Hill Sunday and her sister, Mrs. Nora Rinehart, came home to spend Christmas with home folks, A. H. Houston and her sister, Mrs. J. E. Roberts of Phoenix.

Mr. and Mrs. Fish, the late purchasers of the Roberts garden ranch in North Talent, were in Medford Monday, having their new license attached to their Dodge car.

Mr. Bowman, the Talent mail carrier pointed out a big pasteboard box Monday and informed me that he had been remembered by some one of his patrons on the route with a nice fat chicken, remarking that he did not know how they knew that mail carriers and ministers liked chicken.

A. H. Houston has joined the many poultry fanciers in and about Phoenix and is building a large-poultry house, and last week bought a nice flock of Plymouth Rock hens.

Fred Newland, a nephew of Mrs. Ed Lockwood of Phoenix, left for his former home expecting to return soon, and will bring his bride to Phoenix. The happy young couple will make their home at the White Wing Poultry farm, where young Newland is employed.

Mrs. Charley Holdridge and daughter, Miss Lucile, were doing Christmas shopping in Medford Monday. Mrs. Holdridge informed your correspondent that Mr. Holdridge's mother, Mrs. M. Holdridge has been in a dangerous condition with pleurisy and pneumonia.

Mrs. Hendrick Godard of Talent was in Ashland visiting her mother last Friday. Her mother, Mrs. Sherman, is in her eighty-third year and is in poor health just now.

Mrs. Salsman and Mrs. Lester Fay were in Medford Monday doing some Christmas shopping.

Mrs. F. M. Sheets was in Medford shopping Monday, and tells me that her husband, who is on route 4 out of Medford, is having about all he can handle these days of Christmas deliveries.

Mrs. C. Carey received a very fine light Brahma rooster last Friday. This will complete a very fine pen of these birds, of which Mrs. Carey makes a specialty.

The Rogue River Canal company's men have been having some trouble keeping the water from freezing in the big viaduct across Bear creek during this freezing spell. They have men on the works day and night pumping out the water and keeping fire near the place where it sinks under the viaduct. Great icicles form wherever there is a leak, which looks very wintery.

Charley Sherman came home to Talent some days ago to see his mother who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Stearns, in Ashland. Mrs. Sherman has been very ill but has improved so much that her son has returned to his work in Modesto, Calif.

Mrs. F. E. Furry of Phoenix, has returned from a month's visit with her son Milo and family, at Benicia, Calif. Mrs. Furry reports times quite lively in the Bay city.

One of my items had a typographical error last week, when it read that Aubrey Furry was a member of the Glee club at the U. of C. It should have been the U. of O.

Miss Vivian Stancil of North Talent, has entered the academy at Medford again and is very much pleased with being allowed to take up some studies she had been compelled to drop while attending school at Phoenix. She hopes to complete her school work in two years.

George Older of Montague, Calif., is among the out of town visitors in the city for a few days.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. G. Kowlett

Among the callers at the Sunnyside Friday noon for dinner were Messrs. J. I. Adams and L. A. Nealer of the Artisto Stone company of Medford, Mr. Adams having brought out Mr. Nesler's former partner, J. A. Stewart, James Watkins of Central Point was with them, driving them over the country. They were out soliciting business and were on their way over the new Crater Lake highway and intended while on their rounds to visit the Reese Creek country.

Fred Pettigrew was also among the diners, and so was William von der Hellen, wife, son Hugo, Jr., and brother-in-law, Judge Florey, Harry Lewis, Mrs. J. Doubleday of Butte Falls. She came out on the stage, diner, went to Medford, attended to her business, returned, spent the night and returned to her home Saturday morning on the Butte Falls stage. Her son Claud K. Miles, was also with her but returned to Medford that night.

Lucius Kincaid, who has been working for William von der Hellen and was engaged in tearing up an old bridge that was used to cross Little Butte creek with the crushed rock to put on the Crater Lake highway, had the misfortune to have one of the heavy planks slip out of his grasp, tearing one of his fingers quite badly and halting on three of his toes and smashing them quite badly, so that he is likely to lose the toe nails off of all three of them.

Rosco Davis of Klamath Falls came in Saturday and spent the night on his way to visit his brother, Roy Davis of Derby.

George W. Averill, who has a homestead on Round Top also came in from Medford, and spent the night.

Ed Murphy and wife of Wellen were also in town trading Saturday.

Lawrence Lay of Wellen came in Saturday afternoon and engaged a room for the night.

Miss Patricia Hogan, who is teaching school in the Lake Creek district came in on the stage and called for a short time and went on to Medford Saturday.

Miss Hazel Spencer, who is teaching in the Crater Lake district, also came in, took dinner and went on to Medford that afternoon, and later in the day Lucius Kincaid went to Medford also.

Lois Martin, formerly of Trail, but now of Medford, came in Saturday night, and stayed until Monday morning, going to Medford on the 7:30 stage, returning the same day.

Buel Hildreth of Butte Falls came out Saturday afternoon and remained until Monday afternoon. Mrs. Hildreth, who has been helping the Sunnyside women folk with their sewing, returned to her home with him.

Buster Mathews came in and spent the night, and so did Charley Winkle.

Sunday was rather a lively day at Eagle Point as we had our regular Sunday school in the morning and preaching at night by Rev. George N. Edwards; he also preached at Antioch, Sams Valley and Table Rock the same day, although he said that he only gave short talks at Sams Valley and Table Rock at the close of the Sunday schools.

It had been extensively advertised that there would be a shooting match to last all day, for turkeys, chickens and ducks, and that no one would be barred and no guns barred, and the result was that there was quite a crowd collected on the Lewis (George and Harry) farm and as a rule everything passed off pleasantly, as there was but little complaint, so far as I could learn, for I didn't go myself as I don't approve of shooting matches, especially on Sunday, but after the fowls were all disposed of one of the Lewises I think it was Frank, put a young beef, already dressed and quartered, to be shot for, and there was so many who wanted to take a chance that they had to reduce the price per chance, and there was a party, some half dozen or more, came out from Medford, and brought with them their target guns, with telescopes, and when Lois Martin of Trail was appointed to shoot for a man who had taken a chance and paid his money, and there was no objection raised to his shooting for the men, and after the Medfordites were beaten by a country jake and they using their target guns, they then raised a howl and claimed that it was not fair to have a substitute shoot in his place and claim the beef, and the result was the man paid his money and the Medfordites carried off the beef, but it appears that everything is fair in love, war and gambling.

Among these who were here for dinner Sunday were Emil Schmidt, F. Roy Davis, Medford; Earl Urick of Florence Rock; Grover Curran, Claud R. Miles, Luther J. Dewel, Robert Dewel, Benj. N. Plymale. Jack Holloway, recently from Klamath Falls came in Monday morning and engaged board and room. He had arranged to go to work on the P. & E. railroad and seems to think that he will have a standing job all next summer. The section boss, Mr. Whaley of Butte Falls, who has charge of the gang of men who are working near Eagle Point, says that they are just fixing up the road so as to be able to haul a steam shovel and other machinery over it, so as to commence to work on the new road from Butte Falls to the tract of timberland that the present company recently purchased from the U. S. gov-
