TO 1922.

GREETINGS! You are a likely looking infant, fresh and clean and smiling. So was your old Dad, just a year ago today. And now he is weak and soiled and tottering, with a call in for the undertaker...

For the Old Man, as you call him, did good work in this section of the planet. He gave us irrigation for one thing, safe and sane development for another, a general spirit of optimism and a general sense of well being...

So don't forget him. Don't be too proud in your hey-day of youth. You have a reputation to live up to, a record to sustain. We all expect you to do better than the Old Man. You should with your youth and the opportunity of profiting by his mistakes...

And that's worth striving for. There is a tremendous gap between youth and old age. We are all future presidents on our natal day. When the final summons comes we are grateful for flowers and a few kind words.

So enter on your life in that spirit, young man. Work hard and don't scorn the methods of your progenitor. And with these few words we wish you God Speed, a happy life and a useful one.

Quill Points

Well, old 1921 brought us a lot of troubles, but ennu wasn't one of them.

Some married men are happy, and some hear a great deal of conversation about "nerves."

The electron is the smallest thing in the universe, except a row between two denominations.

The only part of the hog the packers waste is the squeal, and the consumers furnish that.

What Uncle Sam yearns for is some way to guarantee peace without being required to guarantee it.

Trade will never be what it was in the old days until somebody discovers a way to put the mark in market.

The more we think of the taxes posterity will inherit, the less we condemn the birth-control advocates.

Why envy the neighbors who have more when it is so easy to move into a neighborhood where they have less?

A noted clergyman scolds this "frivolous" age. No doubt he means "flivverous."

If a man lacks the nerve to fight for his rights, he finds consolation in the thought that he is good natured.

Darn it; with Ireland free, it will be necessary to think up some new line of talk to land the Irish vote over here.

What other qualification must a French premier have in addition to the ability to keep everybody pleasantly excited?

If all of the paper rubles issued were placed end to end, they would reach the conclusion that it pays to be on the level.

You never know whether the driver or the pedestrian was at fault until you learn how many car drivers there are on the jury.

Mansfield Issues New Year's Message to Farm Bureau

I am glad to greet the Farm Bureau members of Jackson county at the beginning of the New Year. The National Farm Bureau has become the greatest force in our American life and with the aid of the agricultural bloc, has done a great work for the relief of the common people...

HEZ HECK SAYS: "Follerin' the plow pays stiddier wages than follerin' the races."

that will insure this I believe. Our county agent, C. C. Cate, deserves more credit for conditions in Jackson county than any one man perhaps.

He started co-operative shipping, and he has been a tower of strength in all our enterprises. We owe thanks to so many people for their splendid co-operation that it is impossible to name them all.

The orchard men of the valley, headed by Hal Bingham, have always been on hand at the right time. Juanita Franklin, our Farm Bureau secretary, Miss Mrs. M. Oatman, A. C. Allen, and a host of others deserve special mention.

The executive committee of the exchange, C. M. Speck, D. M. Lowe, Will Gregory and Miles Cantrill all deserve the Croix de Guerre for their gallantry in action. Without their steadiness we could not have succeeded.

and the business men of the county are coming to realize that our agriculture, particularly our orchards, make possible our business life and are co-operating for the common good.

Our county court and county commissioners are also solidly in line and are marching in step to the notes of agricultural organization.

I hope to meet every Farm Bureau member of our county at the dedication of our splendid new fair grounds next fall and the agricultural meeting that will take place at the Jackson county fair of 1922.

GEO. A. MANSFIELD, President Jackson County Farm Bureau.

COULD the First National express any better wish for you in 1922? For happiness is usually conditioned on thrift, and that is the slogan of this bank to its customers.

THE OLD YEAR.

THE gray old year is passing, it's dying in the snow; with sighing and alasing I watch the old year go; a bright new year's appearing, and all the boys are cheering, and by such noise they're queering the old year in its woe.
