There are three less taxicabs in the city, as Hale & Lyons who have been operating two cars, and Orville Barr, one car, quit the first of the year rather than pay the increased jitney license fees recently imposed by the city council. The quitting of the jitney business by Hale & Lyons throws Drivers John Goodwin and Ingram out of employment. The council last night refused to grant the application of a man who had been arrested for drunkenness several times in the past year or two, to operate a license in the city.

News has been received in Medford of the engagement of Miss Laura Fouts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fouts, and student in the University of California, and John Whisenant, formerly of Medford and a former clerk in Haskins drug store several years ago, but now a pharmacist of Berkeley, Calif.

The Presbyterian church was filled to capacity Sunday evening at the second rendering of the Christmas cantata "The Manger Throne" by Manny. The double quartet repeated the Christmas music by request as many were unable to be present on Christmas morning. Although one member of the double quartet was out of the city and others were struggling with colds, yet many said the music was up to the high order if not better than at the first rendering. The large audience listened with rapt attention to every number. This cantata was given in Portland also on Christmas Sunday by the choirs of the Westminster Presbyterian and White Temple Baptist churches.

Matinees 2:15 TWICE DAILY 8:15

Medford is familiar with The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse the remarkable book by the great Spanish author, Vicente Blasco Ibanez.

Hundreds of home folks have read the absorbing story of Madariaga the Sentaure; of Marcelo Desnoyers, of Julio, of Marguerite, of Tchernoff, the mystic.

They have caught the spirit of the Argentine pampas, and felt the bigness of the great South country.

They have seen, through Ibanez's eyes, and under the magic of his pen, the Paris of the last days of peace and the opening days of war, and have realized, as he did, the awfulness of the World Tragedy and the pettiness of human desires.

There has come to them a realization of the prophecy of St. John, when, two thousand years ago, he saw the four terrible horsemen that, through all ages, have blighted the earth, and which visualized as Conquest, War, Pestilence or Famine, and Death.

They have lived the love story of Marguerite and Julio; they have suffered with Marcelo Desnoyers, those awful days at Villeblanche, on the Marne, when village and castle were destroyed by the guns of the invaders and France was for the moment prostrate.

All this is shown in the wonderful production of the Metro Pictures Corporation's Million-Dollar offering,

The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse which will have its first Medford presentation at the Page Next Monday Matinee, January 9

It is a great picture. Able critics say it is the greatest picture ever screened. But—you can best judge that for yourself.

See it. By all means see it, whether or not you have read the book. It will grip you. It will hold you enthralled. For two and a half hours it will make you forget everything on earth except the great human story of life and love, joy and tragedy.

ALL SEATS RESERVED

The prices will be: Floor 85c; Balcony 55c, including war tax. Seats on sale Box Office 12 o'clock the day of each performance.

(Everything at the matinees same as nights.)
